Dear Friends:

I received three hundred cigarettes to-day and they really looked good to me. The boys over here are really pleased with the cigarettes they get from home as they don't think much of the brands they get here and they are very expensive. The people of Jarvis are really doing wonderful work for the boys over here and we really appreciate it.

Thanking you, against reinforced Axis troops and the British 8th Army in western Libya made further scouting patrols against Field Marshall Erwin Rommel's army in the El Aghelia defile. Heavy snowstorms in Russia handicapped both sides, but it is doubtful whether the Germans will be able to undertake any major of fensive. On the other hand, there are many indications that the Russians are making preparations for turther large-scale operations.

German Counter-Attacks at the week-end against Soviet columns converging from the north and south Soviet communiques reported that these were repuised, at the same time telling of further. Red Army pressure northeast of Velikie Luki and south of Rzhev. The latter town is a German key point and Russian success there might result in a German withdrawal over a long front on the central sector.

DNB, German News Agency, in a report about which nothing was heard from Russian sources, said Soviet troops thrusting 60 miles beyond Rzhev had reached Belyi, only 75 miles north of Smolensk, strongly-leld German base.

Axis forces in Tunisia were report ed to number 28,000 men. At the week-end they were strongly disputing Allied attempts to reach Tunis and Bizerte. Dispatches indicated that the British and Americans, with their Fighting French alies had withdrawn in the Tebourb: area where battles were being waged in the seaso of mud.
