Ancient Windmills Working For War

Many historic buildings, saved from destruction and restored by the Society for the Protection of Ancient Buildings, are now being utilised in Britain's war effort. Chief among these are the windmills which are making an important contribution to the nation's food supply.

At the outbreak of war, the Society put its resources at the disposal of the State. The Windmill Section was called in to help when the government ordered a survey of country mills with a view to calling them into service in the event of damage to the large industrial milling plants.

When the Ministry of Agriculture appealed to farmers to grow more wheat, oats, and barley, the Windmill Section decided to concentrate on keeping working mills in good condition as such, rather than on maintaining them solely as pleasing features in the landscape.

A scheme which enabled the farmer to get his corn ground at his very door was in line with the government policy of fostering widely distributed food-producing centres.

The country miller, however, striving to maintain an old-world business in a modern industrial world, is, in many cases, living from hand to mouth. The question of repairs to the mill is often a serious problem and it is here that financial help is given by Windmill Section of the Society for the Protection of Ancient Buildings.

Though many millers are skilful in doing small repairs, it sometimes happens that a structural weakness passes unnoticed until it becomes serious. A mill kept in working condition may last for centuries, but if its activities are arrested, for however short a period, it is well on the way to destruction. The Windmill Section gives a technical report free of charge, and when necessary, pays the expenses of a visiting millwright.

SCOUTING . . .

The broadcasting of an address by Air Marshall Bishop before the big annual Baden-Powell banquet, with which the junior and senior Scout leaders of Montreal will again mark the birthday of the late World Chief Scout on Saturday evening, February 21st, will be looked forward to by Scouts throughout the Dominion. Especially those Scouts who now wear, or expect soon to wear, the new Scout Airman's "Flying Lions" badge. The address will be carried by CBC, from 8 to 8.30 p.m., E.D.S.T.

* * *

The banquet guests will, it is expected, include a large number of young airmen, former Boy Scouts, from every part of the Empire, the United States and other countries of the United Nations.

* * *

A refrigeration plant now being used in a hospital in the Middle East battle zone was provided by the Boy Scouts of Victoria, Australia. The Scouts also raised the necessary funds and presented the Australian Overseas Forces with an army truck and an ambulance.

* * *

The New Zealand Boy Scouts are thoroughly prepared for emergencies. In the event of an air raid alarm the Scouts of Wanganui report in uniform to a central assembly point, and there each boy is given 24 hours rations, notebook, pencil, water bottle, staff and bicycle, and started off to an assigned post. All Sea Scouts report to the Harbour Board.

Bound bundles of bracken are helping needy families of Kent, England, to keep warm this winter. The bracken was gathered and tightly bundled by Kentish Wolf Cubs — the junior Boy Scouts.

Upon the declaration of the state of war between Japan and the United States the services of the Boy Scouts of America were offered the Government, and at once accepted and incorporated in the Civilian Defence organization work. It was announced in the United States Senate that local defence councils and Boy Scout councils would develop plans for co-operation, the Scouts' duties to include assisting emergency medical units, acting as fire watchers and providing messenger services.

Speaking of its National Scout Service, Senator Arthur Capper of Kansas declared that he felt considerably safer as an American and far more hopeful of the future because the Boy Scout movement is as strong as it is in the United States. "The trust we must repose in our boys is important — grave," he declared. "But with our active Boy Scout Movement training them in character and citizenship that trust is well placed. You see evidence all about you of the way the Boy Scouts are assuming their responsibility to their country."

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

LESSON VIII

JESUS APPOINTS AND TEACHES THE TWELVE

Mark 3:13-19; Matthew 5-7; Luke 6:12-49

PRINTED TEXT, Luke 6:12-26

GOLDEN TEXT.—Even so let your light shine before men; that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father who is in heaven. Matt. 5:16.

THE LESSON IN ITS SETTING

Time.—Spring, A.D. 27.

Place.—An unknown mountain, possibly in Judaea.

12. "And it came to pass in these days, that he went out into the mountain to pray; and he continued all night in prayer to God. 13. And when it was day, he called his disciples; and he chose from them twelve, whom also he named apostles." Up to this time Jesus had been satisfied with gathering converts about Him, calling some of them to accompany him as disciples. Now He saw that the time was come to organize his adherents. The choosing of the Twelve is the first measure of organization that Jesus ever took. The number twelve was significant. Jesus set up in their persons the twelve patriarchs of a new people of God. Twelve new tribes were to arise and form the humanity which Jesus came to install on earth.

14. "Simon, who he also named Peter, and Andrew his brother, and James and John and Philip and Bartholomew. 15. And Matthew and Thomas, and James the son of Alphaeus, and Simon who was called the Zealot, 16. And Judas the son of James, and Judas Iscariot, who became a traitor." These men whom Jesus chose were all men who were accustomed to work; they were men who believed Jesus to be the Messiah and who were truly devoted to him, except in the case of Judas Iscariot. Our Lord saw the work these men were to accomplish, the sufferings they were to endure, the eternal fame they were to attain. He chose them in all confidence knowing His life on earth was to be short and that the church must be built on the testimony and faith of these men.

17. "And he came down with them, and stood on a level place, and a great multitude of his disciples, and a great number of the people from all Judaea and Jerusalem, and the sea coast of Tyre and Sidon, who came to hear him, and to be healed of their diseases; 18. and they that were troubled with unclean spirits were healed. 19. And all the multitudes sought to touch him; for power came forth from him, and healed them all." This is a severely condensed record of our Lord's mighty ministry in teaching and healing. It would seem that our Lord immediately, as it were, by His own work, gave an example to the apostles of the work they were to do when he was gone.

20. "And he lifted up his eyes on his disciples, and said, Blessed are ye poor: for yours is the kingdom of God." The rich are easily tempted to concentrate on present possessions, often to the exclusion of thoughts for God and others. The man who is a Christian, and poor at the same time, is free to be occupied with things of God, even in the midst of his daily toil.

21. "Blessed are ye that hunger now: for ye shall be filled." These words showed the people our Lord's great compassion for them in their need and gave them a sure hope of a day to come when all life's needs would be abundantly met. "Blessed are ye that weep now: for ye shall laugh." Again Jesus shows his compassion for men in their troubles, and declares that a time will come when there will never be any more weeping, when everything will be right, when sorrow, and all its causes, will disappear.

22. "Blessed are ye, when men shall hate you, and when they shall separate you from their company, and reproach you, and cast out your name as evil, for the Son of Man's sake. 23. Rejoice in that day, and leap for joy: for behold, your reward is great in heaven; for in the same manner did their father's unto the prophets." There is a general conscience which condemns certain forms of wickedness but the world hates those who run counter to its pleasures and prejudices, and in that case hatred may be the tribute which vice pays to holiness. The so-called "religious world" has hated with a fierce hatred and exposed to martyrdom some of its greatest prophets and teachers. Our Lord was handed over to crucifixion by the unanimous hatred of the highest religious authorities of His day.

24. "But woe unto you that are rich! for ye have received your consolation. 25. Woe unto you, ye that are full now! for ye shall hunger. Woe unto you, ye that laugh now! for ye shall mourn and weep. 26. Woe unto you, when all men shall speak well of you! for in the same manner did their fathers to the false prophets." It is not the rich, as such, that Jesus curses, for a Nicodemus or a Joseph of Arimathea will be welcomed as readily as the poorest man in Israel. Jesus is here dealing with historical fact, not with moral philosophy. Were not the rich and powerful, as a class, already in open opposition to His mission? They were thus excluding themselves from the Kingdom of God.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD By William Ferguson

SNOW may begin to fall at any hour of the day or night, but the hours given above are favorite hours, due to the tendency of moisture when cooling is begun, and eight in the morning is the cold time, and the most likely for the condensation of moisture.

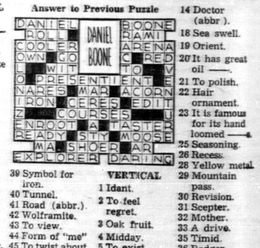
Answer to Previous Puzzle



American British Dutch Australian

If it's the Southwestern Pacific area you're talking about, just call it "ABDA."

President Roosevelt recommended the new designation to reporters at a recent press conference. Stands for American, British, Dutch and Australian, it said, and has been in use for some time in Government circles. The more general term, the ABC powers, still refers to those major powers fighting the Axis in the Far East: — America, British China, and the Dutch.

Axis Air Losses Are Double British

Air losses of the Axis up to the end of 1941—even exclusive of losses in Russia—have been double those of Britain, it was announced recently.

The Air Ministry said Axis losses had been 8,559 planes, and Britain's losses 3,962.

It gave this breakdown: Over and around Britain, Axis 3,092, British 887; over Europe, Axis 946, British 1,875; Middle East, Axis 2,876, British 711; Western Front, Axis 967, British 379; Scandinavian front, Axis 56, British 55; at sea, Axis 89, British 54. In addition Admiralty records list 570 other Axis planes destroyed at sea by British warships and armed merchantmen.

HOW CAN I?

Q. How can I mend a kitchen knife or fork that has come loose in the handle?

A. Fill the opening in the handle with powdered resin. Then heat the handle end of the knife or fork and force it into the handle opening. Tie a string around it and allow it to remain until dry.

Q. How can I destroy plant insects?

A. To destroy insects and also to fertilize the plant soak one tablespoonful of smoking tobacco in one quart of water over night. Pour this solution on the soil about once every thirty days.

Q. How can I clean leather goods?

A. By using strong ammonia water. Rub the leather until it is clean, and then dry with a soft cloth.

Q. How can I clean rugs on the floor?

A. Rugs may be cleaned very nicely on the floor if washed with soap suds applied with a brush. Use only suds, and as little liquid as possible. Wipe the rug after washing with a clean cloth.

Q. How can I remove medicine stains from sheets or linens?

A. By making a paste of fuller's earth and ammonia, and applying this to the stain. Leave on until dry, and then wash out the stains with soap and water.

What Science Is Doing

WHAT'S A SNOWFLAKE?

A snowflake—being ice—is a mineral with a chemical composition of H_2O, and a hexagonal crystalline form like that of the gem stone beryl.

Snowflakes start as ice crystals, formed — usually on a tiny particle of dust—when water vapor is cooled below freezing. Sleet and hail, on the other hand, result from the freezing of water droplets after condensation.

Ordinarily it takes about 10 inches of snow to equal one inch of rain.

Because of the air spaces between fallen flakes, a heavy snow blanket has unusual insulating qualities, and may keep the temperature of the ground close to freezing while the temperature above the snow is below zero.

Of trillions of snowflakes no two are ever exactly alike.

FERTILIZER

Fertilizer from coal, in the form of sulphate of ammonia, is increasing in application. During 1941 it is estimated agriculture will use 400,000 tons of nitrogen, of which 122,000 tons will be in sulphate of ammonia, produced from coal in the by-product coking process.

Have You Heard?

Two Irishmen arranged to fight a duel with pistols. One of them was very stout, and when he saw his lean adversary facing him he raised an objection.

"Bedad!" he said, "I'm twice as big a target as he is, so I ought to stand twice as far away from him as he is from me."

"Be aisy now," replied his second. "I'll soon put that right."

Taking a piece of chalk from his pocket, he drew two lines down the stout man's coat, leaving a space between them.

"Now," he said, turning to the thin man, "fire away, ye spalpeen, and remember that any hits outside the chalk mark don't count."

"I guess so," relied the young man.

"Well, can you polish all the silver, wash the dishes and keep the house neat and tidy?"

"Say, parson," answered the young fellow. "I came here, to see about getting married, but if it's going to be as much work as all that you can count me out right now."

MODERN ETIQUETTE

1. Is it proper for women to shake hands with each other when being introduced?
2. Where should one place the pits when eating olives?
3. Should the listener to a conversation gaze constantly at the speaker?
4. Does good form demand that an announcement of an engagement be made promptly?
5. How should one eat cheese?
6. Is it a hostess' duty to see that conversation doesn't lag?

Answers

1. Women may or may not shake hands with each other, as they prefer. Unless the one who is about to offer her hand is sure that it will be agreeable, she will do well not to be too hasty about making this advance. 2. Put the pits on the side of the dinner or bread and butter plate. 3. He should be attentive and look at the speaker, but not with a hypnotic gaze. Looking out of a window or off into space is disconcerting to a speaker and is a sign of ill-breeding. 4. Yes. This may be done by sending a notice to the newspaper, or by issuing engraved announcements to friends and relatives, or by means of an announcement party for the close friends and relatives. 5. Soft cheese should be spread on a cracker with a knife. Hard cheeses such as American, may be eaten either with the fork or the fingers. 6. Yes, it is her duty to direct the conversation. There must be no perceptible silences that make the guests feel as though their hostesses were tired and wish they would go.

Soviet Railway Gauge Handicap To Nazis

The difference in the gauge between the Russian and German railways has been a handicap to the Nazis. All their transport by rail has to proceed to the German end of the line and then be transshipped to Russian trains, which use a different width between the rails.

This has prevented the Germans sending Nazi rolling stock on into Russia in the wake of the army. And, as the Russians have been destroying their rolling stock or getting it back out of German reach, the Nazis have not been able to use Russian freight cars and trucks.

The original idea in making the railways of different gauge was to hinder a military invasion of Russia. Proof of the wisdom of the action is being had daily on the Russian front.—Windsor Star.

Just How Cold Is Soviet Winter?

Just how cold is it? Frosts begin in European Russia on Oct. 1 the ground is stone-hard by Nov. 15. Average temperature is 20 below zero in January and stays below till April, with occasional drops to minus 54, except along the Black Sea, where it may rise to 5 above. Winds of near-hurricane force are weekly affairs. Ukraine farmers expect frost as late as May 24. The Soviet June is recommended, however, by all Russian poets, regardless of politics. (P. S. The Winter lack of sunshine, vitamins and out-door exercise has an enfeebling effect on the Russian people, the books say).

HOW TO RELIEVE PILE TORTURE QUICKLY AND EASILY
If you are troubled with itching piles or rectal soreness, do not neglect treatment and run the risk of letting this condition become chronic. Any itching or soreness or painful passage of stool is nature's warning and proper treatment should be secured at once.
For this purpose get a package of Hem-Roid from any druggist and use as directed. This formula which is used externally is a small, easy to take tablet, will quickly relieve the itching and soreness and aid in healing the sore tender spots. Hem-Roid is pleasant to use, is highly recommended and it seems the height of folly for any one to risk a painful and chronic pile condition when such a fine remedy may be had at such a small cost.
If you try Hem-Roid and are not entirely pleased with the results, your druggist will gladly return your money.

Russians in Canada Mobilize For Victory

Canada's 35,000 citizens of Russian origin including 16,000 Doukhobors most of whom reside in Western Canada have mobilized their total strength not only to help the land of their adoption win their war against the Axis powers but to ensure success for the forthcoming Second Victory Loan Campaign.

The National Executive of the Russian Committee maintains 28 organizing and secretarial branches in Canada. Posters bearing Russian characters will, before the campaign proper begins on February 16th, be distributed among those Russian communities. Circulars in which Victory Loan literatures has been translated from English into Russian will soon be distributed to all those 35,000 Russian Canadians. Russian language publications in Canada have undertaken to devote all the space required to publicize Canada's war aims and Victory Loan objectives in the Russian language so that not a single Russian Canadian may be without full knowledge in both directions.

This is the first time since Canadian citizens of Russian origin became organized in Canada in their own interests that they have volunteered as a united group to aid a national cause of this kind.

"We intend to give our whole strength to your campaign," said K. Okulewich, Organizing Secretary of the committee in a recent interview. "We want your Victory Loan Campaign to be an overwhelming success. We intend to help by distributing literature to our people prepared by us in the Russian language. We intend to send our organizers and even canvassers. When the campaign proper begins we intend to have our people volunteer their services to local campaign committees to help in any way possible. We command the support of every Russian Canadian in this country and we are satisfied that every man — and woman — associated with our organization will give his fullest support to this important Victory Loan Campaign."

Pilots Spend Leave Ferrying Bombers

Now we know the aerial equivalent for a busman's holiday.

Trans-Canada Air Lines reports that two of its pilots, Capts. George Lothian and Malcolm Barclay, are back at work again. Trans-Canada gave them a three months' leave.

They spent it ferrying bombers across the Atlantic.

There was no mention of what they did in their spare time.

Need Stressed For High-Quality Seed

A warning to seed producers in Canada to prepare to meet the demands from European countries for high-quality grain seed to replenish war-ruined stocks was issued recently by G. A. Scott, assistant plant pathologist, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa.

Speaking at the annual meeting of the Registered Seed Growers' Section of the Ontario Crop Improvement Association, at the King Edward Hotel, Toronto, Mr. Scott asserted that Canadian producers of healthy, high-quality seed were not now in a position to meet the demands that would undoubtedly be placed upon them after the war. He advised the seed growers to take every possible step toward that goal.

He told of experiments now being made at each of the five main experimental farms in Canada to produce foundation seed that would be free of seed-born disease such as rust and smut.

Work — Grow Slim

With all this talk of corsets and rubber shortage, it seems the first thing to do is to remember and be comforted in the knowledge that old Mother Nature provided every human figure, free of charge, with a good 2-way stretch girdle of muscles in criss-cross formation over the abdomen. See any physiology book or look at the human figure chart in the doctor's office. Moreover, this fine natural girdle of muscles may be developed by bending, kicking, stretching and other well known exercises from a loose flabby girdle into one that is taut, snug and firm enough to hold figure flat in front and comparatively small at the waistline, if man or woman is willing to take to serious daily exercise.
