Adoration of Simeon 25. And behold, there was a man in Jerusalem, whose name was Simeon; and this man was righteous and devout, looking for the consolation of Israel: and the Holy Spirit was upon him. 26. And it had been revealed unto him by the Holy Spirit, that he should not see death, before he had seen the Lord's Christ. 27. And he came by colored "gorget patches" on his lapels and a band of the same color in the Spirit into the temple: and when the parents brought in the aound his cap which varies to the branch of the Staff to which he bechild Jesus, that they might do

A Normal Boy
In Luke 2: 41-52 is the only account we have of any event be-tween the early childhood of Jesus to the courts of the Temple, he no words of the famous Nune Dimittis rose to his lips. Whilst Mary and foretold the diverse results her own blessedness would mingle anguish unspeakable. In the issue the deepest needs of many souls would be excited and met spirit to recognize the child of Mary as Christ, we are not told. In his song Simeon does not pray for death, he thanks God for permitting him to see what many pro-phets and kings had desired to see and were not permitted, the salvation he had promised; and having seen it, he says that he is ready to go when God wills. The ty of the song of Simeon has alshould have been the holiest place ways been recognized and for ages it has entered into evening serin the City of Jerusalem, open to one not a priest. The Saviour of the world, God's Son Incarnate, grew up physically in the most normal way, with nothing to mar his bodily development. In the same way, he grew up mentally, attaining more and more strength in mind, understanding and reasoning. The young lad attained more and more wisdom in the Biblical sense of the right knowledge of God and His salvation, coupled God and His salvation, couple with its application to life. In the case of Jesus this included the realization of His own relation which probably took place at the age of thirty. This is probably the first time that Jesus beheld the city of Jerusalem. It may be that He went up every year thereafter, but we do not know. And where would the Son of God be found? In the Temple of God, in the midst of the teachers, "both hearing them, and asking them questions." The entire text clear-ly implies that Jesus did not know everything when he was twelve years of age. He was a normal boy. He grew in wisdom. At the same time, we do not believe there was any actual ignorance in perfectly as a boy of twelve. He also knew Him perfectly as a man of thirty. Furthermore, our Lord knew definitely at this time what He had come to earth to accomplish, just as He knew definitely throughout His life the purpose for which God had sent Him. Ball-Bearing Shells For Trench Mortars

Ball-bearing shells for trench mortars, enabling them to be fired on a flat trajectory instead of having to be lobbed high in the air, are outstanding among new patents announced by the U.S. Patent Office. They are the invention of General Amos A. Fries, former chief of the Army's Chemical Warfare Service, says Science

China moves toward even closer co-operation with the Unit-ed States with elevation of T. V. Soong, above, to foreign minis-try. Soong is a long-time good friend of America.

Hitherto, trench mortar fire has had to be conducted at high angles—45 degrees or more—because of the friction offered by the shell as it was dropped into the barrel. Weapons of this type are loaded from the muzzle; the shell carries its propelling charge in a cartridge attached to its base, which is fired by a fixed pin at the bottom of the tube. By eliminating much of the friction with ball bearings, General Fries states, it now becomes possible to slide the shell down the tube at a very low angle, permitting the weapon indirect fire.

Low-trajectory or direct fire is desirable, especially for action against tanks, rapidly moving troops in the open, and pillboxes with overhead protection but open firing ports which cannot be effectively reached by high-angle

Heart disease does not rule out the possibility of a long and happy life, according to a report on a range of heart disease over years of private practice in heart ailments, Dr. Louis F. Bishop, Jr., and Ruth V. Bennett, of New York, report in Hygeia.

HOW CAN I?

Q. How should I oil an painted floor?

A. If you wish to oil an unpainted floor, use boiled linseed oil. Keep the oil hot all the time while applying it with a large brush. It may be necessary to reheat it when going over larger surfaces. When floors are oiled in this manner, they are easily cleaned, almost dustless, and wear

Q. How can I prevent scatter. ing of crumbs when grinding bread in the food chopper? A. Fasten a paper bag over the bottom part of the food chop-per when grinding bread crumbs. It will prevent scattering of the erumbs over the floor.

Q. How can I avoid having eloudy mirrors?
A. Do not place mirrors so that they have direct sunshine on them. It will cause the surface of the mirrors to spot and become cloudy.

Q. How can I make a "dust-less" dust cloth? less" dust cloth?

A. Place a cloth in a strong, hot suds of pure soap, to which add a few drops of turpentine;
let set for two hours. Then wring out dry. Cloths treated in this way will hold the dust and at the same time give a brilliant polish to the furniture. Treat the cloths in this manner every two weeks. Q. How can I make certain that the soap is entirely removed A. If there is considerable diffleuity in ridding the hair entirely of soap, try squeezing the juice of a lemon into the final rinse water. It will free the hair of soap suds and leave it

War Has Ruined

Garden of Eden Dr. C. W. Lowdermilk, agricultural expert of Lenden, Englanders points out that wars of Hellingers and years ago have left their mark on the prosperity of Iran, Iraq and Palestine. The valleys of the Tigris and Euphrates have never really recovered. Now oil wells are replacing the tradition of the Garden of Eien. Iran and Iraq suffered worst in the peace that followed strife, because the farmers had been driven out and irrigation systems left to destruction. In ancient times, Phoenicians in hilly Palestine terraced the open felds with stone on the sides of the hills, and harvests were rich. Came Assyrians and Hittites and other warriors to trample all into dust. The fields washed into the rivers as fences fell, and Palestine
