MARGARET DOUGHTY
SILVER MEDALIST

Miss Margaret Doughty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Doughty, of Walpole, was honored recently at the Convention Hall, University of Toronto, when Mr. Norman Wilks, principal of the Toronto Conservatory of Music presented her with a silver medal for attaining the highest standard of efficiency for grade two piano, also obtaining highest marks of the class of medalists.

She has also achieved success as a teacher of music in the local schools and is a student of Miss Gladys Bartholomew, L.M.W.U., Simcoe Conservatory of Music.

ON THE FARM FRONT

(continued from page one) would have made all the difference in the world. We would have given a good deal to know which screw or nut to adjust. Other and similar repairs and adjustments will be under consideration.

"Swine Parasite Control" is the latest bulletin issued on the subject and has just come to hand. It is published by the Ontario Department of Agriculture and a copy can be had on application to your Agricultural Representative. Prevention is stressed and young pigs should be protected from infestation. Thousands of dollars are lost every year through swine parasites and as pig feeders we should do everything we can to eliminate that loss and turn it into a profit.

The selection of the gilt for breeding purposes is a most important part of the swine business. This fall a good many farmers are keeping an extra sow or two and the factors to be considered include size and development; type, mammary system, etc. Size and development mean that she has been grown rather than fattened. A good idea is to select several prospects and provide them with exercise and the proper feed so they may attain a good growth.

Bacon type should ever be kept in mind and that includes good length, depth and balance. Mammary development is very important and those gilts with at least 12 and preferably 14 normal teats should be kept.

It is a mistake to breed gilts too early. The best results are obtained when a sow is a year old before farrowing. First litter breeding should therefore be delayed until at least eight months of age.

How about planting a few more trees this fall? Frank Newman of the Forestry Farm at St. Williams thinks it is a good idea. We may have more time now than next spring. They will be planted now with perfect safety.

Local breeders, in common with those in the rest of Ontario, report that there is a brisk demand for any surplus dairy cattle that they have on hand for export to the United States. Gordon Moore, Caledonia, Sales Agent of the Haldimand-Hastings Breeders Club, has just forwarded a load of purebred Holsteins to Edward O'Neil, Salmora, Pa. Those contributing animals were as follows: Warren Barfield, Nanticoke, Hugh Miller, Dunnville, F. F. Kendry, Jarvis and Nigel Bros., Faversham.

Rev. and Mrs. H. H. Puller were hosts to the Mission Band Knap Presbyterian Church on Friday evening last. The party was truly Halldimand in every respect and was very much enjoyed by everyone.
