Peaceful Contact of Foes man in his cause. To countenance or honor the poor man in his cause from a mistaken compassion for his poverty. This rule is extended to the rich as well as the poor in Leviticus 19: 15.
"If thou meet thine enemy's ox or his ass going astray, thou shalt surely bring it back to him again." He that meets his enemy's beast going astray is not only not to be silent on the subject, but not to refrain from interfering. He is to bring back the straying animal to his enemy, as if he were a friendly brother. "If thou see the ass of him that hateth thee lying under his burden, thou shalt forbear to leave him, thou shalt surely release it with him." In this verse there is a climax: the enemy (one hated) since his boss left.

Paul insists that the law had kept the Jews in the state of children under age, or at best had served as a tutor to prepare them for the acceptance of Christ. On the other hand, faith in Christ had brought them into the position of fullgrown sons, to whom belonged the privilege of free access to the Father, into whose hearts God had sent the Spirit of His Son, and who had indeed entered upon their rightful heritage.
