Why Billions Are Needed

"Why control fats when the U.S. A. increased its production two billion pounds last year?" I asked Mrs. Turner to show that I read Time and the Ottawa papers. With that restful and patient smile she asked me, "Did you know that the U.S. A. consumed 11 billion lbs. last year; that a billion was cut off from the Far East, and furthermore what assurance have any of us that this year's crops will give high yields as last?" Could you answer that smartly, even if you are a stove leaguer?

Sure, you've got a baby around the house. Prior to the war 75% of cod liver oil was imported, mostly from Britain, Norway and Newfoundland. The fishing companies on our Atlantic coast wasted much of the precious vitamin content for taming, etc., feeding livestock and poultry. Do you know that since 1941 we now have five plants of our own producing refined medicinal cod liver oil and that we will be in a position to supply our own needs, the U.S.A., South America, Australia and China? That industry is a war baby and, believe me, a pippin. Vitamin feeding oils for veterinary purposes will now be processed from the lowliest of British Columbia fish; and the despised dogfish from out there now produces Vitamin A coll rich and fortifying to margarine and for night filers, and is already be ing shipped to the British Ministry of Food.

Agriculture Comes Into Picture Yes, I got enough of the story to know that a combination of science, management and invention has put us on the threshold of a period when Canadian agricultural production will take its rightful place in Canadian industry. That's where you and are interested.

Through efforts of this division, inseed oil is now being processed to replace drying oils hitherto obtained from China; soya beans will probably be used in "nylon" type artificial silk; wheat will be a source of starch an sodium glutenate, that atter previously exported from Japan and used for the meaty flavor in concentrated soups and beverages.
