FAITH REVIVED—
Any weekly newspaper publisher who begins to believe that no one cares particularly about receiving his paper, should cancel publication for one week and see the results.

Last week "The Record" did not appear, and we fully intended to discontinue publication this week also, but circumstances make it imperative to publish this week. It was a tough job with the Main Cog of the wheel away getting a tan at Military Camp, but again, as in previous instances, the Port Dover Maple Leaf came to our assistance, and we will have no explanations to make this week—we hope!

I received just yesterday. They were more than welcome. As we are going on another "Scheme" they are really a swell gift.

Also many thanks for the Jarvis Records. It really is swell to hear from the Home Town. All the fellows I have met from Jarvis are fine, and every now and then we meet in some of the funniest places. As I told you before, I got married March 20, and spent a very lovely honeymoon in Bournemouth. Thanks a lot for everything.

GNR. R. W. PHILLIPS.

Hello, Jarvis!

EVERYONE

No man is too poor to take his local newspaper, and it is false economy at the first local of the year you will have made or saved from one to twenty times the subscription value. The big city papers do not take the place of your local paper, although some people seem to think they do. The city papers are alright in their way, but they do NOT give you what you are most interested in—your community. You cannot learn from them what public meetings are held, who have moving out and who want to sell land—in fact, hundreds of items which might be of importance to you. Such matters city papers cannot furnish you, but your LOCAL PAPER does.

Helping to conserve valuable can space during the present emergency, yet retaining in the cream all the valuable butterfat they produce. On the other hand, it is found that cream which tests over four per cent. is wasteful, because it has a tendency to cling to the separator.

It is good to have one's faith revived occassionally, and now we are perfectly satisfied again, that the folks hereabouts look forward to and appreciate the weekly issue of "The Record."

THE POOR POTATO—

This war is going to change our ideas about a lot of things, and mainly about food. Before it is over we are going to realize that things we used to look on lightly because they were so common, were a heap more important than we thought.

Who in the world would have thought the lowly potato would be something hard to get. In this district, ordinary marketing will not turn up a potato in any quarter. If the black market plague is in existence, it is working noiselessly.

There is always some good comes from the difficulties that beset us, and for a time at least we are going to think a bit differently about the potato. Potatoes were taken for granted. You could buy a bagful anywhere; 'scallop them, fry them, boil them or bake them, and bagful anywhere; 'scallop them, fry them, boil the chickens got.

But now the potato is on the same plane with the orange and the apple, both in price and social standing. Well, that's the way it should have been all the time.

STUDENT AND TEACHER
EMPLOYMENT

DURING THE SUMMER VACATION

Hon. Humphrey Mitchell, Minister of Labour, today appealed to school teachers and to students — university, college, high school and lower school — to engage at farm work or other useful employment during the long summer vacation this year. "Farmers will be in most urgent need of all the help they can get, all through the summer," the Minister said. "Other important war industries are also short of workers. Therefore, the Government confidently hopes that teachers and students will not regard the closing of the schools for the summer as a holiday this year, but rather that they will consider the time as giving them an opportunity to aid directly in solving Canada's wartime labour problems. The nation will need all the help these people can give."

BINDER TWINE PRICES

Farmers should not pay any more for binder twine in 1943 than they did in 1941. That is what Dominion Department of Agriculture engineers say after studying the new price schedule on binder twine in langthe ranging from 650 feet down.
