LOAN CONTEST OPEN TO MILITARY CAMPS

A military camp community is the question posed officials of the National War Finance Loan Communities' Contest. The answer was that men in the armed forces are at the same time citizens and therefore their camps should be considered communities for the purpose of the contest.

The point was raised by Squadron Leader Jack Sorensen of 6 R.C. Ont., where a group of men and women are now working on what may be a prize-winning contest. The winning of the Fourth Victory Loan, from $500 to over $100,000, is eligible.

SINGULAR AND PLURAL
