JIM HUNTER IS A REGULAR GUY

Premiers and Prime Ministers come and go, but Jim Hunter has been coming to the people of this district for the past fourteen years and it would be a strange thing to find a single person in this area who would not be interested in him. His "Good Morning Everybody" starts the day off right for a good many people, and his interesting and informative news casts keep us up to the minute on what is going on in the world.

It was not strange therefore, that so many local people turned out last Thursday night to see and hear him address the Victory Loan Rally. We have always entertained a sense of wonderment, as to just how a guy can make a morning and evening news broadcast and find time to do it.

In fact we were very much surprised when Jim Hunter made his first appearance in Jarvis in the interests of the Victory Loan. But after getting a bit better acquainted with him, we believe he would go to Hell, if through any feat of the circus of the free people of the world. This was a no joke with him. He regards the situation in all its reality, and believes we must face it with reality if we are to win victory. He has no time for anyone who would seek to place their money at 4 per cent or 5 per cent when the country is in need of money at 3 per cent to preserve for us the privilege of investing in peaceful times at 4 per cent or 5 per cent if we wish. With Jim Hunter it is reality that counts.

He has had an interesting career. As a young man he got his first radio experience in Chicago during the time we tuned in carefully with earphones. He later managed a radio station in Indiana. But having been born in Aberdeen, Scotland, the U.S. was too far removed from the Country of his birth and so he returned to Canada in 1927. He did radio work in Hamilton and Stratford, before becoming the Talking Reporter for The Evening Telegram, and he has retained that connection for the past fourteen years. Incidentally, he regards a weekly newspaper as the ideal vocation. Many wonder what kind of fuel he burns to provide the energy required in the busy life he leads. For fourteen years he has been listening to the alarm clock at 4:30 A.M. every morning, at which time he must start to prepare for his 5 o'clock broadcast. Throughout the day he must be in close contact with the wires so as to be familiar with happenings in all parts of the world. After the 6:30 newscast, he is free until 4:30 the next morning, providing he is not asked to speak at some gathering. For the last year, he has been keeping one night to himself and his family and that is on Saturday. He is very proud of his family. He has two daughters, Barbara, age 14, and Ronnie Elizabeth, age 6 weeks. His wife's name is Elizabeth and he refers to them as the three busy B's.

There are very few Jim Hunters in the world and sometimes it is difficult to estimate the service they perform in the interests of humanity. Even though it may be necessary at times to stoke their boilers with a high B.T.U. fuel, they generate and utilize to good advantage, an energy possessed only to an infinitesimal degree by the average man with him.

HYDRO AND TAXES

A very interesting controversy seems to be proceeding between the Secretary Treasurer of the Public Utilities Commission of Ontario and the Fort Erie Times-Review on the subject of the taxation of the Ontario Hydro system by the Dominion. The Secretary Treasurer, it appears, committed himself to the proposition that if Hydro were taxed, "the rates would have to be increased and a struggle of some thirty years for public ownership and low rates would be defeated."

In this it seems to us, he committed a grievous error. The Times-Review points out that there would be no necessity for any increase in rates, that that would happen because "the large sums now being placed in its reserve funds by Hydro each year would be reduced somewhat," which would merely cause "a slowing up of the amortization of the net bonded debt of Hydro." The federal taxes, the Times-Review points out, would be rather less than half the amounts annually placed to reserve during the last three years.

The is, we think, another objection to the Hydro argument. If it were true that the success of the struggle "for public ownership and low rates" depends solely and entirely upon the fact that public ownership is exempt from certain national taxes which private ownership has to pay, then all we can say is that public ownership would have no voice of claim left for the support of its method. It gets its capital cheaper than private ownership, because the whole credit of the community is behind its promise. It enjoys freedom, as an emanation of the Crown, from taxation of the obligations of private ownership. If, in spite of these advantages,

"SEEMS I CAN'T SAVE ANYTHING"

WE MET on Main Street. Jim Hunter, his usual ready smile, even when he was telling me how hard up he was.

"Seems funny," he said, "I'm earning more these days, but I just can't seem to keep it."

"Taxes, Victory bonds and all the other things coming off my pay."

He paused, then went on slowly.

"At least it seems as though I can't save anything. Actually, of course, those war bonds are my savings. I'm glad I've salted away a few of them. And you can count me in on the Victory Loan too!"
