VOICE PRESS

Lizzie in the Mess

The story is told of the farm enquiring for his daughter was informed that she was in the mess. "That would be Lizzie," he said, "she was always in a mess around home." But to offset that, a girl came out of the city to help on the farm and she was taken into the cow byre to be shown how to milk a cow. She ooked the big cow over with much trepidation and then turning to the farmer said, "Could I not start on a little calf first?"

—Trenton Couries-Advocate.

The putting into circulation of the new five-cent piece with its 12 sides has allowed the Government to save 60 tons of nickel a year, an appreciable saving. Now if, for their part, the citizens will save the five cents, everybody will be better off. -Le Progres de Hull.

How Rumors Grow

The trouble with rumors that instead of going in one ear and out the other, they go in both ears and out the mouth, and shortness of the journey does not prevent them growing en route.

Slak and Slacks

"Don't Call 'Em 'Factory Girls,' Engineer Told; They're 'Industrial Workers' Who Cry for More Work." There's nothing slack about 'em but the slacks, aren't so slack .- Windsor Star.

Be Careful, Girls A well-known writer of things or the lovelorn tells her clients that it's "a misfortune to marry an lcicle." That's right, girls; he's almost sure to become a drip.

Ottawa Citizen. Britain's Preference It's said people in Boston pre-fer brown-shelled eggs; people in New York white. In Britain they prefer eggs-if they can get them. -Owen Sound Sun-Times.

Personal Item Field Marshal Erwin Rommel who has been spending the winter on the south shore of the Mediterranean, is expected soon to leave for home. -Christian Science Monitor.

Make Ice Cream In Flying Fort

American Fliers' Method of Making Their Favorite Dessert

First he walks, then he talks, and the first two words he puts together are ice cream. That is. he's an American youngster From then on, it's his favorite dessert. And now he thinks of it - mountains of it - when he's fighting in Africa, or building atrfields in the jungles. The story is told of a Marine in Guadalcanal who discovered an ice cream freezer. There was high excitement in excitement in the camp. Some one rushed for ice which he found in an ice-house abandoned by the Japanese. Everyone fought for a chance to turn the freezer. There was a gallon and a half to be divided between 85 Marines. It wasn't much. It wasn't frozen very stiff, "but it was the best thing we ate on the island," vowed one Marine.

American fliers in Britain have discovered an ingenious way to make their favorite dessert. They mix the ice cream in a large tin can and anchor it in the gunner's compartment of a Flying Fortress. Soaring high over enemy territory, it is well shaken and frozen to perfection. Upon return to base, a successful raid is celebrated in true American style.

The Flowers Bloom Where Women Work

British women may not be better soldiers than men; but they are beyond question tidier in some regards. Their greatest triumph was seen in their taking over of searchlight stations. A good many of these are set in lonely and muddy fields; but since the women were installed these patchwork deserts have begun to blossom like the rose. The paths grow neat and tidy; and besides the potager proper, where vegetables are being grown successfully, small cottage-like flower gardens embrace the army huts.

Jive Sung In Old Castle In Scotland

Guardsmen, who barged up to a British castle and knocked on the door, not only were invited in but also sang jive songs for a Duke and got to blow a horn their host told them started the Battle of Waterloo.

The story of their visit to the Scottish castle of the Duke of Argyle at Inverary was told by Dominick Vilardi, New York City, rican campaign.

He said the four slipped past members of the Scottish Black Watch Regiment on guard at the castle and were invited in by the Duke himself. Coast Guard Chaplain Paul Townsend had rushed after the four to halt them but went along when they were invited in.

that, after a lunch of fish and chips, the Duke sang them some arias from Italian opera and asked them to sing.
"Did we sing?" he continued. "We gave him a jam session like

The Hurricanes Saved Britain

Letter to London Daily Telegraph.
Sir:-During the Battle of Britain there were five Hurricanes for every Spitfire, and the Hurri canes shot down more enemy air-craft than did all the other fight-ers our own and the enemy's put

This is due not only to Mr. Camm, the designer, but to Mr. T. O. M. Sopwith who, while the Air Ministry were wondering whether to order a couple of dozen Hur-ricanes or a couple of hundred, signed an order to the works to produce 1,000 Hurricanes.

I believe the Hurricane saved Britain in her darkest hour and not the Spitfire.
HUGH MITCHELL.

200,000 Muskrats Are Sold As Food

Midhurst.

Officials of the Ontario Depart ment of Game and Fisheries said recently that about 200,000 of the 700,000 muskrats caught in Ontario annually are sold for use as food.

There has been no appreciable increase in the demand for the animals despite appreaching meat animals despite approaching meat rationing, these officials said as they commented on an Ottawa despatch which mentioned the use

We are planning and buying our dream-house of tomorwi

The architect has submitted plans and we spend many an hour making little changes in order to have everything just as we always wanted it.

Perhaps you will say we are dreaming but we know that we are not. George and I, like thousands of newly married couples, always wanted a home of our farther away. Our bank account never seemed to grow—now we know why. It was too easy to write a cheque for all the things we desired.

Victory Bonds and War Savings Cer tificates our savings have grown with remarkable speed. The reason of cause is that we think twice before we "cash in" a hundred dollar Victory Bond for some small purchase, because we know that the rest of the money will be wasted on things we do not That is why we will be able to build our dream-house right after Victory is achieved. ARE BUYING YOUR HOME -This Is What Victory Bonds Mean A Victory Bond is a promise of better times. It means buying power for you aftes the war . . . real cash to spend without. It means a nest-egg for at any time to tide you over sides or other emergency. It is the becausify for a loan. Any bank will as

It means Capital to start a busined your own, money to learn a new to to send your child to Universit, a buy the modern things designed a preparing for you . plastic can television . frequency . me lation radios . . air conditioning . or to buy anything you desire is above all, it means that your hard in the right place in this grim street and that you are behind on and that you are behind our me BACKING THE ATTACK.

TO CANADA a Victory Bond is your personal order t

HIRAM WALKER-GOODERHAM &

E IN CANADA - OF CANADIAN WHEAT

KEEP FIT *

Niagara Falls, Canada

with Vere-Vaughan in their midst, thrust their way through the crowd of men and the mob of screaming and reviling women, out of the compound, down the street, across a house somewhat bigger and more strongly fortified than the rest.

"This is the Malik's house," said

Wali Dad, "You will be safe here, Sahib. Until the Mullah's men storm it and get you out," he add-have slept, for in the small hours by the sound of rifle fire, and he wondered what was happening.

A few minutes later the door o

his cell opened and two men en

A real Pathan humorist.

THE HILT

ell upon the noisy ing sharply, Vere-v his order, and for silence. men of Kurnal. The die: his throat must an acceptable sacrismall crude oil lamp which gave forth more smoke and smell than light.

By the flickering yellow flame oly and lovely counof this miserable vessel he saw that one of his visitors was Wali Dad, son-in-law of the Malik and prominent member of the anti-Mullah party. The other was a ough he be a judge ruler? For who made and a judge over us? man he had not seen before, or at any rate had not noticed—a rather good type Pathan, with something clean-cut and smart about him.

merbund. Wali Dad lit it, puffed. eyed Vere Vaughan lazily through pose I, in council with leaders who forever "This man talks Hindustani. or interests and con erything now. He learned to speak best for you—sup-our brains while you "I suppose he did," replied Vereright arms and at Allah gave you

> The man grinned disarmingly. "What is your name and regi ent?" asked Vere Vaughan. "Khoda Khan Abazai," was the reply. "I was sergeant in the Pathan Company of Sandeman's doubt, when his battalion was sta-

"Oh? How is it you are here, Vere-Vaughan's arm aim to his feet. "Folthen, at your age?"
"I deserted, Sahib," smiled the

"No, no, Sahib! It wasn't my fault, I didn't want to go. I loved the regiment. But Khawas Khan of Khairastan shot my brother, and there was no one to carry on the feud," replied the man, as if that naturally accounted for everyhing as indeed it did from the Tonight the prison-sely guarded and to-ill decide his fate.

The durbar is clos-

SENDS 1,000 CONSOLS", "LEGION" DONALD'S MENTHOL", BLENDS" or "EXPORT"

C. MACDONALD INC. Box 1929, Place d'Armes, Montreal, Canada

THE BOYS THE BES

SUE No. 20-43

. . . Vere-Vaughan had been long en-ough on the Border to know that it was as imperative and sacred a trust for the Pathan to avence the death of a relative who died doing his duty in the matter of carrying on the family vendetta, as it was the imperative and sac-red duty of an Englishman to feed, azai, defaulter, deserter, rifle thief and man of strictest honor, who had done his bounden duty as he saw it at the risk of his life and the loss of career, comrades, promotion, success and pension.

Presumably his present task was to talk clear and simple Hindustani to the sahib, make all things plain unto him, and see to it that plain unto him, and see to it that there was no misunderstanding between him and his captors on the subject of his position, prospects and chances of ransom.
And as Vere-Vaughan studied the man he was amazed to see the man he was amazed to see spoken anguage and in any part of the world.

The gleam of hope broaden and shone more brightly. This Pa self, was secretly signaling to him, making covert overtures and signs which were tokens.

ot his stinking biddi satisfactor By burning, "I'm going to tell you what I have come about. It's like this. We have got the tup-tup rifle out of the broken flying devil car out of the broken flying devil carriage and we want to know how to use it. Do you understand what I have said?"

"No." replied Vera-Vaughan.
"Oh, don't you? Well then, that's where this mat, Khoda Khan Abazai, will come in useful. He'll talk to you in Hindustani. He'll make you understand all right."
Whereupon the exsensor repeat.

Whereupon the ex-sepoy repeat-ed what Wadi Dad had said, making clear that which was alre abundantly clear, explaining full; rarefully and patiently that Verc Vaughan was expected to get the gun satisfactority mounted and fully to demonstrate its working and use, care and keeping, to his captors who, every one of them. loved weapons, adored rifles, and were prepared almost to worship a real tup-tup or bah-bah rifle that was a genuine and going concern. "Well, do you understand now?" asked Wali Dad when the other had finished. "No," said Veer-Vaughan.

"You don't?" exclaimed Wali Dad. "I see, But I think you'd bet-ter understand before sunrise, be-cause if you are not going to show us how to mount and use the tuptup rifle we are going to hand you over to the Mullah and before long you will wish you had done as we asked. But it will be too late then," he added grimly.
(Continued Next Week)

Not A Picnic

British bombers were over Be people were racing for the shel-

"False teeth!" returned the exesperated wife. "What do you think they're dropping? Sand-are watching closely the budget

NO REGRETS

Smiling Nazi paratrooper seems

Queen Just Like Any Other Person

United States army is used to meeting a lot of people because he was an assistant manager of a grocery store, but nobody like the Queen ever dropped in on him, At least not until the other day when she visited unexpectedly an exhibition in London where Gold-stein, of Baltimore, Md., and three other American soldiers also were sightseeing. sightseeing.

"I was surprised when the Queen started talking to me and I got very nervous, but that soon passed because she was so charming that I was put completely at ease," Goldstein said.

"What amazed me most was the fact she had no retinue and no

TABLE TALKS SADIE B. CHAMBERS

A Soup Discussion

This week I have had two retomato soup. Maybe I have ne-glected this topic for we all do use a certain amount of canned soup. However, always remember that whenever possible, soup should be made up specially, if we

Cream of Tomato Soup Strain canned tomatoes; place measurements it should be 1 level tablespoon to each cup of toma-toes). To each tablespoon of meit-ed butter add a tablespoon of flour). Blend carefully and cups boiling water 3 cups milk 1 teaspoon salt add to the tomatoes, as it reache the boiling point, the butter and flour mixture. Stir constantly un-1/8 teaspoon pepper

V YOUNG CANADIANS

til it thickens, then allow to cook for ten minutes covered. Ada the peas and cook for five minutes. Press all through a sieve. Melt the lessens, then add the milk, which constantly until thick. Season to taste. Reserve a few slices of car vegetables should never be thrown away - it is a splendid foundamikl soups the homemaker has a splendid opportunity to vary the milk budget. Remember each adult should have one pint of milk a day and each child one quart.

tablespoons flour

cups milk Finely chopped parsley

Combine the chopped opion, through a coarse sieve. Melt but-ter and blend in the flour, salt and pepper. Stir and cook until thick. Add the corn mixture and

1/8 teaspoon pepper

Paprika

FIGHTING ...

... for a New World free from fear of war and want. He and hundreds of thousands of other fine Canadian men and women are daily giving and risking life and limb for our great cause. All we are asked to do is to work, save, do without what we don't actually need, and to LEND our money to back them up. Let's fight side by side with them-with Victory Bonds . . . for our sacrifice can never match theirs.

BUY THE NEW VICTORY BONDS

THE CANADA PAINT CO. The MARTIN-SENOUR GO. THE SHERWIN-WILLIAMS CO.