THIS CURIOUS WORLD By William Ferguson

THE POPULATION OF THE ENTIRE EARTH IN 7,000 B.C. IS ESTIMATED AT ABOUT SEVEN MILLION PERSONS. APPROXIMATELY THAT OF NEW YORK CITY TODAY.

WHAT YEAR WAS THE FIRST "FLYING FORTRESS" AIRPLANE BUILT?

SPRUCE GUM, THE RESINOUS STICK THAT EXCLUDES FROM THE BALSAMIC FAMILY, WAS MUCH USED AS CHewing GUM BEFORE THE DAYS OF THE COMMERCIAL PRODUCT.

Using an old steel helmet for a tea kettle, this trio of Canadian soldiers in Holland brewed them selves a spot of Salada just back of the front line. They are left to right: Pte. Roy Saunders, Nanaimo, B.C., Pte. Don Angus, Penitence, B.C., and Pte. Harold Bailey, Grand Forks, B.C.

ALLIES RIDE LVT IN GERMANY

Residents of newly-liberated Sarlatroun, Germany, get a good look at one of the Allies' most versatile war machines—an LVT (landing vehicle track) as it rumbles up the street. LVTs are duplicating their Pacific success in Europe.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower bluntly informed the German people recently that they "cannot count upon food, fuel, or clothing from the military government," and must rely upon their own resources.

The "scorched-earth" policy of the retreating Nazi Army will serve only to multiply the suffering and hardships of the German people, he said in a proclamation read over Allied transmitters in Europe and reported by the Office of War Information.

"The Allied armed forces will import the bulk of their requirements," the proclamation said. "If they should be in a position to give help to the population of Europe, this help will primarily go to the population of the countries which have been ravaged and plundered by the German armies."

"The German people will have to rely on their own resources. It is of highest importance that these resources should not be destroyed by the Nazis' scorched-earth policy."

Seventeen thousand pigeons have been parachuted into enemy-occupied territory, "bringing back valuable information from behind the enemy lines on many occasions when the use of wireless was impossible," the British Radio reported.

According to the British Army's Director of Signals, "Of the thousands of birds dropped into France, Belgium, Holland, and Denmark about 1,700 brought back messages from the Resistance."

"One bird, Roberta, survived three years' operational duty without making one mistake. Another, William of Orange, was with the Allied troops at Arnhem and flew the 200 miles back to London in the record time of four hours and 35 minutes."

Perfect Car Built For Soviet Official

British motor engineers, sworn to secrecy and working behind closed doors, have produced the perfect car for the use of a high Government official in Moscow, reports the Daily Mail motoring correspondent.

It is now on its way to Russia, and the specifications have been locked away and the drawings for the luxurious body work have been destroyed. The newspaper learned, however, that the car has two compartments and that everything imaginable has been provided for the comfort of six passengers. Both compartments are heated, and there is an air-conditioning system which supplies warm air at an even temperature. The car's value has been put at approximately $20,000.

EXPLAINED AT LAST! Women do not really talk "more" than men, it is simply that they love repetition.

TWO UP ON THE GERMANS '88

Any Yank who fought in North Africa, Sicily, Italy or France will tell you that the German 88-mm. gun, used on their tanks and as a tank destroyer, is a trouble-maker's baby. Now Uncle Sam has a pretty tough trouble-shooter of his own—the 90 mm. anti-aircraft gun, which is a "General Jackson" (M-50) produced at Fisher Body's Flint and Grand Blanc, Mich. plants.
