

MACDONALD'S BRIER

Canada's Standard Smoke

Two erstwhile Nazi "supermen" look anything but awesome, under the outspread arms of the six-foot Marine guarding them and other German prisoners. Captured in the Normandy fighting, the prisoners are pictured aboard a Coast Guard-manned troop transport on their way to prison camps in America.

YOUNG AMERICA FIGHTS WITH PENNIES

Representing 30,000,000 American school children, 13-year-old Donald Beck, of Washington, presents to President Roosevelt a bullet-scarred propeller tip from a Jap plane, engraved with the record of $210,000,000 in War Savings by fellow pupils in the last year.

GHOST TOWN IN PATH OF WAR

Only signs of life in above photo of deserted Montebourg, bitterly contested French town finally won by Allies, are two goats who wander through the littered streets after Allied shelling and German demolition squads reduced town to skeleton buildings and charred rubble.

IT BEGAN ON D-DAY

D-Day meant no shave for Pte. C. L. Jewell, New Glasgow, N. S. and he hasn't shaved since. He has a regular Frenchman's beard by now and seems happy about it as he totes a can of petrol for his Jeep. Jewell is serving with a unit of the Third Canadian Division in Normandy.

Instead of forlornly standing by the roadside, waving his thumbs, a soldier sits comfortably in front of one of the stations erected at Statesville, N. C. for use of hitch-hiking G. I.'s. He'll not have long to wait for Tarheel motorists who have learned to keep eyes peeled for these stations.

WHAT SCIENCE IS DOING

Sound And Sight

Our sense of sound is sometimes dependent on our sense of sight. Since steamboats became numerous in the harbors of the world ship captains have communicated back and forth with each other by means of light.

With the increased number of Diesel motor ships in use, a problem developed. The motor ships used air whistles instead of steam whistles. Consequently their whistle blasts were accompanied by no following plumes of steam. Since the steam could not be seen, ships' captains had no way of knowing which of perhaps a half dozen motor ships anchored in the same general vicinity might be signalling.

John Hays Hammond, one of the most prolific of American inventors, seeks to provide the motor ship with a visual, as well as an auditory signal. He has devised a gadget that will spray white powder into the air each time the whistle is sounded. Thus it will be possible to "see" the sound as well as hear it.

The designers of the steamship Diesel trains will take advantage of Mr. Hammond's invention. The train whistle means a lot to those who dwell in the sparsely inhabited portions of our country.

Germany Loses Portugal's Wolfram

Germany, recently was deprived of her last major source of wolfram—source of steel-hardening tungsten—by Portugal's decision to stop all exports to Germany and to shut down her wolfram mines immediately.

It was a major diplomatic victory for the Allies, consummated on the eve of the great invasion of France.

STARTLING CURE STOMACH ULCERS

Current issue of Aviation magazine in Canada, gives news of a new remedy for peptic ulcers. It was evolved by Dr. B. M. Sparling, a Toronto osteopath who is quoted as saying the new method "has been 100% effective in all cases so far treated. X-rays confirm this statement."

Worm Trouble CHILDREN REALLY NEED

It is a common, but often overlooked, fact that children are often afflicted with worms. These worms cause discomfort, irritability, and sometimes even illness. It is especially true of other children's. It is especially true of other children's. It is especially true of other children's.

DER FUHRER?

Monty Presented With New Caravan

The new caravan which has been built by war workers in their spare time as a gift to General Montgomery was made to his own design.

It is simple in design and equipment, resembling a motor-driven horse box. There are two compartments, a bedroom with a lip basin and bookshelf, and a lounge with desk, map-holders and dining table, which can be quickly converted into a conference room. Here decisions will probably be taken which will reshape the course of European history.

Britain Plans Aid To Bombed Churches

Of the 14,000 bombed churches in Britain, some may be rebuilt on new sites, others will be repaired or replaced by substitute buildings, and full reinstatement will be considered only for churches of historic interest according to proposals published by the War Damage Commission and a committee representing the Christian churches.

DOWN WITH 'EM!

Modern Etiquette

By Roberta Lee

1. Should a girl be in time to receive her escort when he calls, or would it be better to keep him waiting for a few minutes?
2. What can one use as a substitute if one cannot afford cut flowers, or expensive table decorations?
3. What is really the best phrase for one to use when acknowledging an introduction?
4. What would be the correct engraving and proper size cards for one to use for visiting cards?
5. Is it good form for a father or mother to criticize or reprove a child in the presence of guests?
6. Is it proper to cut letters or any other salads with the knife?

Have You Heard?

A census taker on asking a woman how old she was, received the following answer:

"Do you know how old the Hill girls are next door?"

"Sure," he replied.

"Well, I'm as old as they are."

The census taker wrote down "As old as the hills."

Novelist: "I'm describing a scene that took place ten years ago. Tell me what kind of friends the women were in those days."

Novelist's Wife (bitterly):—"The sort I'm wearing now!"

"Sedentary work," said the college professor, "tends to lessen the endurance."

"In other words," the student butted in, "the more one sits, the less one can stand."

"Exactly," retorted the professor, "and if one lies a great deal one's standing is lost completely!"

Soldier to girl: I can't see what keeps you girls from freecing.

Girl: You're not supposed to.
