CHRONICLES OF GINGER FARM

By Gwendoline P. Clarke

Well, it was nice while it lasted, wasn't it?—that marvelous warm weather I mean. Imagine 68 F in November. Did you make good use of it—doing jobs that you wanted done but never expected would be? I was afraid to lose a minute. Partner and I were painting the outside of the house—and you know windows take a long time to do, what with putting and two coats of paint. But it is such a satisfaction to have them done—the fresh white paint looks so nice against the red brick. Only one needn't expect other people to notice what has been done—actually we had a man come in one day and I asked him what he thought of our paint job. "Oh, have you been painting—I really didn't notice!" And then, to cap it all after Partner had been down for the mail one day I asked him how the house looked from the road, and he said, "Gosh, I forgot to look at it!" These men...

Working so much outside has led me to wonder if post-war inventions will include portable telephones. Directly I get back to the house I spend half my time answering telephone calls and every swearing telephone call and every "Where in the world have you been—I've been trying to get you all week?"

Well, anyone who rings now will find me right at home. I haven't the least desire to be outside. There is a cold wind, snowflurries and a decided drop in temperature. It makes one begin to think of Christmas.

Nothing more depressing than headaches... Why suffer? Lambly's will give instant relief.

MACDONALD'S BRIER

Canada's Standard Smoke

Don't let us fool ourselves. There is no easy time ahead. The day will come when the war will end, and there is always aftermath, and there is our courage will be taxed to the limit. So, if we must speculate as to the end of the war, let us think of it only as the end of our work and worry to our end of the world. There will be plenty of both—but we are Canadian women, descendants of a fighting stock. We shall surely accept the challenge. Isn't that so? From the prairies and the towns, from the cities and the farms, Canadian women everywhere will surely prove they can work for peace as well as for victory.

I remember hearing a sermon in the early days of the war in which the preacher said—"We pray for peace... but we had peace for twenty-five years and what did we do with it?"

Some time we shall have peace again—what shall we do with it this time? It is worth thinking about, isn't it?

It's foolish to keep on "doing"!

Why do you do nothing every day with harsh, unpleasant purgatives? Discover ALL-BRAN is a far better, far gentler way to get rid of constipation. It's the "do-it-right" method.
