

Bacteria Grows In Milk Cans

With the exception of poorly cared for milking machines, there are probably no other utensils which may hold so many bacteria to milk as the SHIPPING CAN. Even where shipping cans are washed and steamed at the plant or factory, some moisture generally remains in the can. When the can is left with the lid on in a warm place, millions of bacteria grow in the moisture and seed the milk at the next milking. Lids should be removed and the cans placed upside down as soon as they are returned to the farm, so that they will dry out and bacterial growth will be checked. As a further precaution, the cans should be rinsed with hypochlorite, before fresh milk is placed in them. At least once a week, or more often, the inside of the cans should be cleaned with a strong bristle brush or steel wool to remove the accumulated milk film.

The chief factors in the production of quality milk and cream are clean, healthy cows and milkers; and utensils, properly cleaned and sterilized and promptly and adequately cooled. Attention to these factors will prevent loss due to spoilage and will help raise the quality of Canadian Dairy Products, to which attention must be given in the Post War years.

The Letter Box

Dear Friends:
Your parcel just arrived and to extend a mere "thank you" would hardly be sufficient to show my appreciation. However, I am afraid it will have to do for the time being.

Mary Mary did an excellent job of packing the box, as it arrived in perfect order. Right now I am munching on a "Jersey Milk" which, by the way, is definitely a rare treat for us.

Our meals, since D-Day, have been slightly on the lacking side in more ways than one. A lot of the boys turn up their noses at stew and tea, and sometimes three times a day. I am glad I am quite partial to both tea and stew, but now I shall live like a king for a while with tomato juice, plum jam, cheese, chocolate bars and all. These commodities will certainly make some wonderful midnight snacks.

I just received a very new letter from Mrs. Laird Miller. Apparently both the letter and parcel went approximately the same time, not being a pretext for dissemination against one province while the others benefit more than Quebec.

The French people as a whole seem to be friendly towards our invading troops. Of course there are a few French women that have married German soldiers, and naturally they aren't exactly overjoyed with our appearance. This nation has certainly been trampled over in the past four years, and now a good percentage of their homes and villages have been completely razed.

We find Bayeux quite interesting as we are able to do a bit of shopping and sight-seeing locally.

Well, that seems to cover just about everything from here. Jerry says his nighty visits but lately has been dropping propaganda leaflets instead of the real McCoy. He says we are crazy to help Russia as they will only turn on us after this is over.

There is an extensive Canadian cemetery near here and I intend visiting it in the next few days. I am praying that I won't see one familiar name on the crosses. I think Jarvis has had its share of casualties and heartbreaks for one war. If you could see conditions in these European countries I am satisfied that you would appreciate the fact that you are living in the world's best countries. I know his shores will be a related sight for me.

Well, it's getting time for Jerry to make his call so I'll say good-bye for now and make my bed, which by the way is situated under a truck. Not a fancy bedroom, but reasonably comfortable and definitely safer than sleeping in the open.

Thanks again for your thoughtfulness; I can assure you it is greatly appreciated.

Dear Friends:
Just a line to thank the Cigarette Fund for the cigarettes received today. Some of the boys in France and Germany and in the line for home—we hope, are in need of them. I don't think I would be too bad from now on.

The Jarvis Cigarette Fund: Received your most welcome gift of 300 cigarettes to night we want to thank you and all from the bottom of my heart for this find you all in the health. Yours sincerely,

You hold the mortgage - You collect the interest

A Victory Bond is a mortgage on Canada... all of this country's resources guarantee payment of principal and interest. And money you lend to Canada, when you buy Victory Bonds, is the safest investment you can make.

You can borrow on Victory Bonds for seasonal farm requirements or any bank will pay cash for your bonds should you need cash at any time.

Money is a vital war weapon. Canada needs ever dollar for every Canadian can save and lend... more than ever before. As the war increases in intensity, Canada's need for money increases, too. Our country's all-over borrowing needs are increased by over three hundred and twenty million dollars at this time. We must each be ready to lend again, and to

Thousands of small grains make a bushel of wheat. So with the war: small sums loaned by individuals mount up to billions. Lend all you can... money you have saved and money you can save... but do not think that small loans are unimportant. Put your savings into mortgages on Canada—marketable mortgages. You will be doing a worthwhile war job... and you will get your money back... with interest.

Victory Bonds will provide cash for farm improvements you plan to make when the war ends... new buildings... new machinery... better stock... cash to pay on a new car or a new home.

HALDIMAND WOMENS INSTITUTE OFFICERS' ANNUAL CONFERENCE

The Halimand Womens Institute held their annual Officers' Conference on Monday afternoon, October 10th, in the Town Hall at Jarvis.

The I.P.S. for Haldimand, the progress being made in the formation of Township areas in North Cayuga, Dunn and Rensselaer Townships. These new areas will receive a grant above all other grants amounting to nearly twenty-six hundred dollars per year. The larger areas are also important in forming a health unit. He stressed the great work the children were doing in the sale of war saving stamps, and reported that there were some of the summer normal school graduates teaching in Haldimand County.

Sheriff R. P. Miller curator of the museum spoke briefly on the work required to repair and preserve the flags of the 114th Battalion.

CANADA'S VETERANS Their Post-War Opportunities

This is the first of a series of advertisements to inform the people of Canada of plans to re-establish men and women of the armed forces. To get the full details save and read every advertisement.

The Future After Discharge — A MESSAGE TO RELATIVES OF THOSE IN THE ARMED FORCES

When your boys and your girls come home, when they lay aside the uniform, when they go out into the world as normal peace-loving Canadians, what lies ahead? Can they pick up their lives as civilians, where they laid them down, months or long years ago? Are there plans to help them do the things they wanted to do before the war? Will they have security? Can they continue education, or receive needed training? Will they be assisted in home owning, or to establish their own business, and will they be enabled to pick up their family life once again?

These are questions which concern all those Canadians who have loved ones in the services. They are questions which this series of advertisements is designed to answer.

OPPORTUNITY IS THE OBJECTIVE
Canada has been making plans for your boy's and your girl's return to civilian life since early in 1940. These plans are in effect and operating now. The aim is that every person who has served shall have opportunity. Thousands, already back in civilian life, have benefited by training, by maintenance grants, by advice of departmental officials, and by the social security provisions. There is ample help for those men and women who want to help themselves.

WAR SERVICE GRATUITY
On discharge, those enlisted to serve outside Canada, or those who served in the Aleutian Islands, are eligible for a war service gratuity. It provides $750 for each thirty days' service in Canada and the Western Hemisphere and $15,000 for each thirty days' service overseas service Aleutian Islands. For those who served in the Aleutian Islands, there is an additional seven days' pay and allowances for each six months of such service. Payments will be made at the end of each month in the months following discharge. Complete details of the war service gratuity will be given in a later advertisement.

RE-ESTABLISHMENT CREDIT
In addition to the war service gratuity, there is a re-establishment credit of $750 for each thirty days' service in the Western Hemisphere and $15,000 for each thirty days' service overseas. This is for the buying of furniture, a business, or government life insurance, and for certain other purposes which will assist your boy or your girl in becoming re-established. This credit, which is reduced by grants given for training, or education, or under the Veterans' Land Act, is primarily for those who do not wish assistance under these three plans.

RETURN TO FORMER JOBS
If your boy or girl held a civilian position before enlisting, and was not engaged to replace somebody in the forces, and if the position still exists, and if your boy or girl is capable of filling it, it is the employer's duty, under the law of Canada, to restate him or her in that position with seniority. Application for reinstatement must be made to the former employer within three months of discharge from the forces or from hospital.

FREE TREATMENT
In the year following discharge, service men and women are eligible for free treatment, hospitalization and allowances for any condition, even if not the result of service. Pensioners are entitled to this for life for their pensioned disability.

THE POLICY ON PENSIONS
Canada's Pension Act is administered by an independent commission, all former members of the services. Any permanent disability suffered overseas, not a result of misconduct, is pensionable. Where service is in Canada only, the disability must be a result of service.
