

All Is Not Sweet In Beekeeping While Rationing Is In Force

Due to the sugar shortage, there is developing an urge amongst non-keepers to keep bees. This has developed to such a serious menace to commercial beekeeping that the government has been forced to amend the Bee Act and place stiff penalties for this form of trading. I understand that there have been several sentences of two years given. Besides this, the Ontario Beekeepers Association has worked out a scheme whereby the individual beekeeper can purchase reward cards and post in the bee yards. The Association agrees to give a reward of Twenty-five Dollars for information that leads to the conviction of the guilty party and the Association does its prosecuting and sees to it that the maximum sentence is enforced. This free the individual beekeeper of any personal feeling in the matter. I, for one, have always tried to overlook any of this petty thinging and have often given a tin of honey to a suspect, this has generally worked, but since the sugar shortage has developed it is getting to be too serious. For instance, last winter one of our yards to the north of here was molested and so much honey was taken that almost a quarter of the bees starved to death. Three years ago we had one yard west of here ripped apart and three horses on a mature spreader and almost stung them to death. You can see that it is getting to be a worry as to what might result, to say nothing of the loss and the extra work caused. There have been several less serious thefts in various yards, but this past week the apary on the farm of Geo. O. Miller was entered and although the damage might have been worse, if a thoughtful neighbor hadn't noticed it and reported the same, sufficient damage was caused to force me to decide that the way of the apary was to be closed. From now on someone else will do the work of the apary and the Association does its prosecuting and sees to it that the maximum sentence is enforced. I intend to double the Association reward for information that leads to a conviction and in the case of this last episode, I will call it square if the guilty party makes a donation of Twenty-five Dollars to either the Jarvis Red Cross, or the Jarvis Cigarette Fund. Trusting that this reaction will not be considered too harsh, I am,
