

Many Fine Cattle

Saved In Holland

Farmers will be delighted to know that many of the fine herds of cattle in Holland were rescued from drowning, when the dikes were opened and the land flooded. Allied troops risked their own lives to get some of the prize *cattle out of the danger zones.

There are some magnificent cattle in Holland and Denmark.

The dairy farmers over there have specialized in raising collect.

Canadian Farmer

One of the biggest compensations

One of the biggest compensations in farming is that the operator is his own boss, says the Farmer's Advocate. That is one reason collective farming will not be very popular here. Being one's own boss is a priceless privilege. Farmers have found this out when they have accepted employment elsewhere and found that they could not get off to attend a funeral or an aucton sale.

The London zoo was damaged by 12 German robot bombs but no serious harm done to the animals.

VOICE OF THE PRESS

TO HOLD THE WATER Drawing water for live stock is a losing game. It would be far easier to plant trees, retain some swamps and cultivate across the slopes in order to hold the water where we live and raise live stock.
