Nazi Spies Arrested U. S. authorities revealed the existence of a postwar Nazi-operated Werewolf organization in China with the arrest of 20 German, Italian and Japanese agents led by a close personal friend of Adolf Hitler.

Further arrests and deportations will follow. The leaders arrested will be charged with violation of German surrender terms.

CHILD LABOR IN SORELY-PRESSED FORMOSA

Liberated after 51 years of Japanese rule, Formosans today are not sure whether bondage to the Jap was not preferable to the "freedom" of their last six months, under Chinese rule. Famine, widespread unemployment, black markets and economic robbery impose heavy burdens. These exclusive pictures, showing young children toiling to make their meager living, were taken by Harlow Church, NEA-Acme correspondent, first Occidental photographer to visit Formosa since 1926.

Children of Tainan, Formosa, labor with picks and shovels in the ruined city's streets, removing and salvaging wreckage.

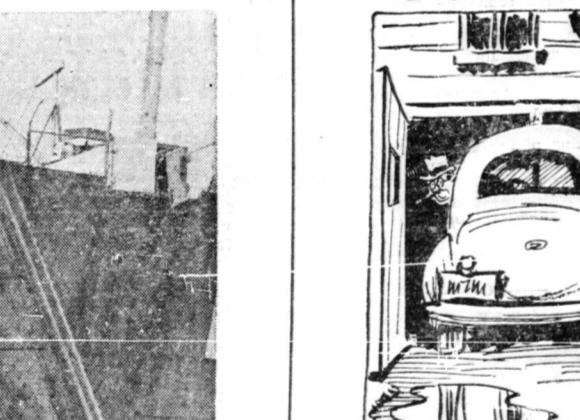

About hotly-oxer, these Formosan girls work all day in the hot sun, tread-milling on a primitive irrigation ditch.

EXCLUSIVE PHOTOS BARE FORMOSA WAR TRAGEDY

SKATING RINK TO BE UN HOME

New York City's Flushing Meadow Park, site of the 1939-40 World's Fair, has been selected as the interim meeting place of the UN General Assembly. The huge skating rink pictured above will soon be renovated, at a cost of $1,250,000, to form the auditorium in which the Assembly will convene on Sept. 3. At right is an air view of the park, with the skating rink, once the "City of New York" exhibit, pictured in the background. The circular foundation in the foreground marks site of the Trylon and Perisphere during the fair.

SPOTS OF SPORTS

By FRANK MANN HARRIS (A Six Bit Critic)

In a recent copy of Liberty Magazine we ran across an item that must have touched the hearts of everybody ever connected with the sporting racket, and especially the wives and families of those who play sports for a living.

We are inclined to view with real alarm the report from New York that the cops in that fair city are under orders to arrest horse-lovers when two or more of them are found reading a single copy of the racing sheets. What about those Four Freedoms we've been hearing so much about the past five or six years, although maybe not quite so much the last five or six months? What about the inalienable right of every gent to make a sucker of himself in his own way, for which millions of our bravest and best have fought and bled and eaten canned rations? What about the slight of the noble and self-sacrificing race of handbook workers, faced with a fate much worse than death—having to go to work?

It's nothing less than terrible; because it is a well-known fact that nobody can possibly take a proper and scientific interest in horse-racing without intensive study of the form-charts and other data, which while the sports-lovers when two or more of them are found reading a single copy of the racing sheets. Ab, well, these are troublous times. All the world seems in a turmoil. Nothing seems to be right. The nyons generally seem to go to legs that would look better in overalls. And it may be that, before brighter conditions appear, we must face days even sadder than this one. We'll be back one week from today doing our best to make good on that last prediction.

Canada Completes UNRRA Payments

Canada has paid her two contributions to the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration totalling $154,000,000 and no further vote will be required this session.

Under the provisions of the contributions 90 percent has to be spent in this country for goods to be shipped to needy nations, and the remainder goes into a free fund to be spent as UNRRA decides. However, the free fund, contributed by all the nations in UNRRA, will make extensive purchases in Canada because the goods are available here.

The 'imp' areas include all kinds of cereals, certain foodstuffs, agricultural implements, clothing and a long list of other commodities urgently needed in war-ravaged countries.

Any shortage UNRRA is experiencing in funds is due to failure of other nations to pay their contributions as promptly as Canada, said an official.

40-Hour Week In Great Britain

45 To 48-Hour Week General Union: Interim Step To 40-Hour Week Advised

The 40-hour working week has almost become standard in Canada and the United States, any hours worked after that being subject to time-and-a-half payments, comments the S. Thomas Times-Journal. It is interesting to note, therefore, that while the Trades Union Congress of Great Britain has as its ultimate objective a 40-hour week, the unions advised not to press for acceptance of these terms just now. The 45 to 48-hour week is general in industries and even more in scores, and the Congress recommends that there be an intermediary step of a 43 or 44-hour week before coming down to 40.

Recovery First - In addition to this Congress is urging mill men over 65, and women, to remain or rejoin their employment until the tide of export trade is definitely turned.

It is a demerit, so the remarkable spirit of British workers, which was manifested all through the war, that they are so willing to co-operate with employers and the Government instead of fighting them. Trade union leaders Lewis and Keutter would probably be thrown in the harbor if their type attempted to gain power in Britain.
