

VOICE OF THE PRESS

TOO LOW FOR THEM

Trying to collect a $28 rent bill, a Philadelphia landlord seized a soldier's critical foot. We understand the Society for Stealing Pennies from Blind Men has unanimously blackballed him for membership. — Windsor Star.

ISN'T IT A FACT?

There will always be economic turmoil so long as so many persons want to do something for a living that doesn't involve work, says a wise contemporary. — St. Thomas Times-Journal.

ONLY ONE EXCEPTION

A new plastic is only one two-millionth of an inch thick, and is said to be the thinnest thing ever made by man — barring none of his excesses, of course. — Ottawa Citizen.

MUST BE MAGICIAN

In the good old days a man who saved money was considered a miser. Nowadays anyone who can save money is looked upon as a magician. — Kitchener Record.

LUCKY TURKEY

A new machine will pluck a turkey in 30 seconds. But the turkey and the tax payer differ because the turkey has to take it only once. — Port Arthur News-Chronicle.

DIDN'T DARE, PERHAPS

Sherman said that war was hell, but it is to be regretted that he never gave his frank opinion of peace. — Peterborough Examiner.

Modern version, for the atomic age: The road to Hell is paved with bad inventions. — Edmonton Journal.

THE SPORTING THING

Never Say Die

"Excuse me, sir," said a shabby caller at a newspaper office, "are you satisfied with the amount of your present life insurance?"

"Yes," replied the manager, shortly.

"Could I interest you in a more-economical edition of the works of Thackeray?"

"You could not."

"Would you invest in a good second-hand cornet if you could get it cheap?"

"Not a bit!"

"That being the case," said the caller, "would you be willing to buy a penny tin of those polish just to get rid of me?"

"Great Scott! Yes."

"Thanks! Good day!"

In Hades

After a busy life, an old-time American died. The first thing he knew, a butler in another world was showing him a palatial guest room, saying, "This, sir, is your suite. The only rule here is: You ring and I bring. Just press that button and I will provide whatever your heart desires."

About a month later, the American sat in his easy chair surrounded by cigars, decanters, fishing rods, radio, and all else that a man could wish. The butler appeared: "Here, you, I want something to do. I want work."

"Sorry, sir, but work is the only thing we do, or provide here."

"What! If I can't have work, I would just as soon be in Hades."

"But, sir," replied the butler, "where did you think you were?"

Lafayette Long

An excellent prospect opinion. It has good neighbors, Charles Long Lac, Marquette Long Lac, favorable drilling results. Charles Long Lac means much to Lafayette. Recent Geological surveys indicate that Lafayette owns a substantial holding of the Marquette Long Lac. To sum up, AN EXCELLENT PROSPECT.

RAID SHELTERS HOUSE GERMAN 'CAVE-DWELLERS'

Today housing space in Frankfurt, Germany, is about as scarce as a "Heil, Hitler" and home-hungry Frankforters have been driven underground to find living quarters. A chain of former air-raid shelters under the bombed-out city is being turned into hostels. Photos here are views of the "Hotel Cabin" under the main railroad station. At left, above, guests enter and emerge from the concrete "lobby". After formal registration, they check their valuables, as at right above, and are shown to their "rooms." These consist of tiny cubicles, partitioned off with tarpaulins, as seen at right. This hotel accommodates 220 persons, who pay 3 marks per night.

Highlights of the News

Canadian Occupation Force

The Canadian occupation force of 25,000 men, according to an announcement by Prime Minister King, will be withdrawn from Germany early in April.

Air Minister Gibson previously had announced the withdrawal of 10,000 men in the occupation air force would start June 30. The Navy did not participate in occupation duty.

Mr. King's announcement added that the present shipping situation "forecast all troops now in Germany should be back in Canada by September or October."

Mr. King pointed out that Canada, unlike the big nations, was not one of the occupying powers and was not a member of the Allied Control Commission. At the same time other European allies, not in a position to supply contingents at the beginning of the occupation, "are now becoming increasingly able to share in occupation duties."

Headquarters for U.N.O.

Last week New York City was officially chosen as the temporary world capital of the United Nations Organization.

The U.N.O. voted to make New York its interim headquarters for the next five years and then to move to a permanent world capital to be built in the Fairfield-Westchester area of Connecticut and New York State.

Spy Ring in Canada

Last week it was reported that two Canadian Government employees had been detained pending further investigation of charges that they had been communicating information to a foreign power.

Prime Minister Mackenzie King announced the appointment of two Royal Commissioners to inquire into "disclosures of secret and confidential information to unauthorized persons, including some members of the staff of a foreign mission Ottawa."

The persons involved in the case are said to include some present and former employees of a number of departments and agencies of the Canadian Government.

Twenty-two employees or former employees of the government previously had been rounded up in Canada in connection with the investigation.

It would be just as well for people to keep their heads about this espionage story, suggests the Ottawa Citizen. There have been others during the late war—far more interesting and exciting. There will be more in the future.

Nearly every country uses it if it thinks its security is threatened or a rivalry in armaments is becoming dangerous to it.

So a sense of proportion is necessary. A judicial inquiry is proceeding into charges against suspected persons. It will be certain to bring out the facts. Wise people will wait for them.

Industry! Strife in U.S.

The first phase of World War II's period of industrial strife seems definitely ending.

With the steel strike settlement achieved, it appeared improbable that the General Motors strike could last much longer.

Peace has been achieved in the oil, meatpacking, and steel industries, and in the electric appliance industry the Electric Division of General Motors has signed a contract with the union, although 174,000 General Electric and Westinghouse workers are still out.

Many tie-ups of public utilities are over—for the moment at least.

Hundreds of wage adjustments have been made without any strikes at all, which never got into the newspapers.

On nearly every front industrial conditions look better.

A spokesman for United States Steel said most of the corporation's employees should be back at work by the end of next week, but that it may be 30 days before full production is achieved.

Halifax Black Market

A huge black market organization stretching from Halifax into inland Canada has been uncovered by Royal Canadian Mounted Police. The theft ring involved hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of merchandise, mostly expensive British textiles.

Mission to India

Britain is making another attempt to settle the Indian problem. A special mission composed of three Cabinet members will go to India next month to try again to break the deadlock with Indian political leaders over the formation of a constitution-making body as a preliminary to self-government.

IF HEAD COLDS HANG ON..

DO THIS! To relieve discomfort, one of the best things you can do is rub a good spoonful of mentholated Vicks VapoRub in a bowl of boiling water.

Then feel welcome relief come as you breathe in the soothing mentholated vapors that penetrate to the cold-congested upper breathing passages. See how low that southern irritation, quiet coughing, and helps clear the head-bringing grand comfort.

FOR ADDED RELIEF... rub throat, chest and back with VapoRub at bedtime. Vicks VapoRub works for hours—2 ways at once—to bring relief from distress. Remember! It's Vicks VapoRub you want.

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT

Discontinuance of Overseas Tobacco Gift Plan

The Tobacco Gift Plan whereby BRITISH CONSOLS and EXPORT CIGARETTES and Tobacco parcels can be sent to the Armed Forces overseas will be discontinued from the 28th February, 1946. After this date no further orders can be accepted by W. C. Macdonald Inc.

Members of the Canadian Armed Forces still serving overseas are assured of an adequate supply of cigarettes as they will still be able to purchase BRITISH CONSOLS and EXPORT CIGARETTES from No. 2 Canadian Tobacco Depot, London, England in the same way as they have been doing up to the present time and at the same prices as through the Gift Plan.
