BRITISH TO BLOW UP GERMAN 'GIBRALTAR'

To remove a military threat of long standing, Great Britain is reported planning to blow up, with thousands of tons of explosives, the great German naval base on Helgoland, heavily fortified island in the North Sea. Above is an airview of Helgoland, taken during the war. Inset map shows the location of the German "Gibraltar" and of Sylt and other Frisian Islands naval bases which British also

The new machine, the largest of folks, in this enlightened day and age, who would pay real dough to see another Conn-Louis affair? Listen, genteel reader! Inside of its type ever built, has a five hun-dred gallon tank fitted with two openings. These allow the opera-tor to pour in chemicals while the tor to pour in chemicals while the tank is being filled with water. The spray liquid is pumped to spray bars at a pressure of three hundred pounds per square inch and fifty allons per minute can be used. The most spectacular feature is the sixty foot wide spray boom with eighty-six foozzles. It perts' calling Conn to win on points as there were the last time. For while they claim that an is this which gives the machine its tremendous output. SPOTS OF SPORTS

The morning after the recent Conn-Louis speed contest, Billy Conn came out with the statement Conn came out with the statement that he was never going to fight again; and no doubt many of the mourners who had been present at Yankee Stadium thought that statement might even have been pre-dated by 24 hours or so without straining the facts too much. But now, having had time enough to think thirds over Mr. Core. to think thirgs over, Mr. Conn doesn't appear quite so certain that his retirement is permanent. Pos-sibly, because he didn't say "posi-tively never", it doesn't count. And, after all, Conn would b somewhat foolish to take a final exit from scenes where people crowd such lush forkfuls of succulent greenery upon you in re-turn for such little pair and effort. It is true that Louis hit him three times; but it's doubtful if he even felt th. last two of them. Having to lie on hard, uncushioned canvas, with no pillow for his head and dazzling lights streaming into his eyes, must have been annoying but it only lasted ten seconds. And when we consider that, to salve his wounded feelings, Billy con lected more than he would probably make in thirty years of ordin-ary toil, we think that Mr. Conn should consider twice or even thrice, before making his retire-fighting according to a carefully prearranged scenario, and thought things weren't going too badly. The whole trouble seems to be that Mr. Louis—who is what we call in theatrical circles a 'slow study' —forgot the lines of his part, and refused to let himself get all tuck-ered out by dazzling speed and suprior footwork. So, just in case they should be meeting for a third time, we have gone to the trouble of devising an enti-ely new script for Conn—one that might have at least the merit of lovelty, and

id probably get the idea and which certainly couldn't bring any worse results than the last one. Our plas of campaign would be for Billy, when the gong rang, to decline to get off his stool at all, but just sit there in his corner, stretching and yawning as if it were long past bedtime. (A littl
