The Week in Ottawa

Specially written for the Record - By H. Dent Hodgson - Canadian Press Staff Writer
 Ottawa, July 3 - (CP) - With the closely-guarded secret of the 1946-47 budget now public, property, the Commons has settled down in sweetening heat to clean up the remaining business of the session.
 For most Canadians the budget was the main feature of interest in the whole session, and while it did announce fairly substantial tax changes which had been hoped for, the changes will not become immediately effective as did those of the last year, but will go into effect January 1st, 1947.
 Best news for the small wage-earner was the raising of personal income tax exemptions from $660 to $750 for single persons and $1,200 to $1,500 for married persons. It is estimated this will exempt about 550,000 persons from the charge of paying the tax.
 Sharing favor with the 550,000 exempted persons in the income tax spotlight were an unestimated number of other Canadians in wage brackets just above the exemption level, who found their tax reductions worked out to 50 to 75 per cent. Most taxpayers, however, will take only a 10 to 15 per cent cut.
 Added relief will come through a simplification of rate schedules and merging of family allowances and payments into the taxation structure, with family allowances being made compulsory, while a flat $500 exemption for each dependent over sixteen, compared with about $108, previously.
 Corporation taxes will drop from 40 to about 30 per cent and the excess profits tax, applying on income in excess of 118.3 per cent of standard profits, will be lowered from 20 to 15 per cent. Sole proprietorships and partnerships will be exempted from the excess profits tax.
 There was little tax relief for the mining industry, despite numerous representations from mining interests across Canada. The Senate Natural Resources Committee, which heard the industry's case, had brought down its report, making these recommendations a few days before Mr. Leley presented his budget.
 However, exemptions given mines previously were continued, which means the rate under the corporation income tax was reduced from 18 to 15 per cent, and the rate on mining given on exploration expenses in petroleum and gas and mining will be continued.
 Previously new mines were exempt from excess profits tax and were liable to only an 18 per cent corporation tax, compared with a general 40 per cent rate. Now with the corporation tax reduced to 30 per cent, new mines and those coming into production

Plan Major Repairs On Walpole Street
 The Street Committee of the Village Council is considering major repairs to Walpole Street connecting the village with the main highway. Over the past number of years top coats have been applied to the street and while the surface is in reasonable good condition, the installation of the lights was finally completed on Monday night. The committee plans to widen the roadway to a full fourteen feet, level and apply a two inch top dressing of hot asphalt. The cost of the project is expected to be in the neighborhood of $3,000 but it is believed the finished job will warrant this expenditure. Present plans call for the work to get underway later this month.

The fire was soon under control with no damage done.

REO MOTORS RECEIVE LARGE EXPORT ORDER
 The largest order for complete buses ever placed out of this country has been received by Reo Motors, Inc. John T. Clark, export manager, announced today. It consists of one hundred complete pusher type buses and will represent an investment of more than $1,000,000 when they are delivered to the U.S. Mr. Clark said the order was placed by the Board Chairman Donald Smith of the U.S. He came to Jarvis two weeks ago from Fulmer, Ontario, and was accompanied by his wife and two children. The order is for 100 buses representing somewhat of a problem because the holds of many ships are too small to accommodate a complete bus unit, he said, so that many will go to Chile instead to the boat deck.

200 Attended Decoration Service At United Cemetery

A special service was held at Wesley United Church on Sunday afternoon, July 7th, at 12:30 o'clock, for the decoration of the graves of the men who laid down their lives in the war and are buried in soldier cemeteries in far off lands. The Rev. S. B. East conducted the service and took his text from the Book of Joshua, "What Mean Ye By These Stones?" "The stones in our cemetery," said the minister, "stand as a mark of our enduring affection of those who have gone before." A feature of the service was a recitation of the names of the older members of the congregation, who briefly reviewed the early history of the village and paid tribute to the sterling qualities of the pioneers. He pointed out that it was just a little over a hundred years since the Talbot road was cut through from Niagara Falls to Windsor and shortly after that the "Main Road, now No. 6 Highway was built from Simcoe to Paris. He mentioned the Jones family, the Montgomerys, the Sils and the Shans and the many who first came to settle in Jarvis. "We are proud of our ancestors," he said, "and may we be inspired by their lives to live better lives."

Suffers Broken Leg When Hit By Car

Robert Anguish, five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Anguish, suffered a broken leg when he was struck by a car on Saturday afternoon. The accident occurred at the intersection of No. 6 Highway around nine o'clock on Sunday night. The car was driven by the driver of the car. The little boy was with an older brother and sister when the accident occurred. He had proceeded to the middle of the street and the driver apparently thought he was sitting until the car had passed before proceeding further. Apparently, however, he attempted to dash across in front of the vehicle and was struck by the bumper and thrown to the roadway. The driver immediately rushed him to the office of Dr. E. M. Jones who was out on the street. He was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital in Hamilton. X-rays revealed a fracture of the right leg above the knee. He also suffered many bruises about the body. Constable Peter Banks and Provincial Officer Jack McNelly of Hagersville investigated the accident.

Beautiful Memorial Plaque Dedicated

Rev. W. L. B. Broughall, Bishop of Niagara, conducted the confirmation services at St. Paul's Anglican Church on Tuesday night, when nine candidates became members of the Church. The candidates were presented by Rev. J. M. Cameron who also took part in the service. Canon Leake, Rector of All Saints' Church, Hamilton, assisted the Bishop. The Bishop addressed the candidates on Christian Faith, responsibilities and duties. His sermon subject was taken from the first chapter of Titus, verse five, "For This Cause Let Us In Order That Thou Shouldst Set In Order the Things That Are Wanting." Comparing the trouble in Crete at that time with the deficiencies in the world today the candidates were exhorted to use their talents and abilities toward setting in order the things that are wanting in the world.
