BRIEF NOTES FOR THE

Will you need any help on the farm next summer? If so, now is the time to prepare for it. What we are trying to say is this, the farm labour problem is likely to get to the place where temporary help will not be so readily available and farmers will then have to plan their production program to keep a year round man. This after all is the most satisfactory way of meeting the problem.

To round out a full character. A letter was received from Carlton W. I., in England, thanking Jarvis W. I. for a box of food received in August 7th which was certainly appreciated. The letter spoke of much the same kind of work as we do here that that everything had been curtailed during the war.

A "White Elephant Sale" was conducted, the auctioneer being Mrs G. Leathong, netting the Institute $13.45. Another box will be sent to England, by Mrs. Delafoss again.
