THE RECEPTION

THE RECEPTION and presentation to war services personnel last Thursday was an event of great significance in the life of the community concerned.

The question may arise as to what constitutes success in an affair of this kind. First, we think, was the observance of all individuals charged with responsibility in connection with the various details involved, of a full appreciation of their part in making the event a success.

Secondly, we think, was the attitude of the services personnel as expressed by Padre East. That feeling of the servicemen was one of gratitude.

It was truly a reunion at which thanksgiving, good-will and gratitude prevailed. It was a real success. It should prove that we will have Peace on Earth so long as there is Love and Good-will among men.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

IF EVER there was need for a Fire Prevention Week, that necessity has been amply demonstrated by the trend of fire losses during the past year.

And well it might be! The loss of 391 lives and $3,000,000 property damage by fire in 1945 should stir every Canadian out of a complacency which threatens our national economy. Appeals to individuals to prevent fires on a strictly abstract basis seem to have had little effect.

Every Canadian citizen will therefore be wise if he takes into consideration the fact that he will eventually have to pay for his own carelessness. He should resolve that the responsibility for such an increase in the cost of living shall not be his.

CHARITY AND JUSTICE

THE MATTER of charity and justice was brought up in a recent discussion and was applied in the sense that the average person does not want charity but they do want justice.

One slice of bread, multiplied. A single slice of bread wasted by each Canadian household means 1,200 ninety-eight pound bags of flour thrown away, flour which could be used to ensure urgently needed food supplies for the world's hungry.

give us everything everyone really wants — but only after it is really understood and applied by each and every individual in the course of every day life.

Who is the individual in the world who would be an inducement to sleep? And yet on occasion I have found it very soothing, like a prosy sermon — than which there is nothing more allusive to slumber.

For instance, in dealing with Queen's economic system which calls for strict state control in agriculture, Adam Smith contends that such a system would lead to social decay rather than progress and prosperity.

He likens the political body to the physical body and says: "Some speculative physicians seem to have imagined that the health of the human body could be preserved only by certain precise regimen of diet and exercise."

He says that some political doctors seem to think that society can only thrive and prosper under a perfect social order, whereas "the natural effort which every man is continually making to better his own condition is a principle of preservation capable of preventing and correcting the bad effects of a political economy, in some degree both partial and oppressive."

Adam Smith concludes: "In the political body, however, the wisdom of nature has fortunately made ample provision for remedying many of the bad effects of the folly and injustice of man; in the same manner it has done in the natural body, for remedying those of his sloth and intemperance."

Many PEOPLE in this community will mourn the sudden passing of J. H. Bowden, of Simcoe, on Sunday last. He was well known and as a leader in municipal affairs for the public welfare and his exemplary character has undoubtedly influenced the many hundreds who have come under his tutelage in the school he conducted for more than thirty years.

PRITS HALF WORLD'S PAPERS

CANADIAN MADE newspaper accounts for one out of every two newspaper pages printed throughout the world.

CANADIANS consumed 244 pounds of paper per person in 1944. U.S. consumption was at the rate of 286 pounds per person.

NOTICE

This is to advise the holders of Insurance Policies taken out with the late George L. Miller, that this business has been turned over to Mr. George W. Walker, of Jarvis, Ontario.

Mr. Kenneth Mitchell and Mr. R. T. Day of Toronto, Ontario, were in the country last week for an extended trip to the Columbia West and on to British Columbia.

Mr. Ellis Brown of Chatham, spent his week end with his brother, Mr. Wm. Brown and Mr. Jack Brown, of Nanticoke.

SHOULD ENFORCE LAWS

Laws made by the people through their parliament should be enforced. If the law cannot be enforced, or if it is considered wise to enforce it, it should be struck from the statute book.

MULTIPLYING DOLLAR

There is the "tramp" dollar — the dollar that is spent away from home. Then there is the "home" dollar with benefits and "home" profits.

LET THEM WALK

It has got to a point where it is dangerous for a motorist to pick up anyone on the road at rest.

SEA CADETS LAUDED

Such a movement (the Sea Cadets) which shows itself to parents, ministers, teachers, employers and the public interested in Canadian youth, is a pleasant-minded folk seems to delight in playing hokey woogle on their motor cars while their cars are parked on Front Street.

HIGH GRASS PILE

Harry Higgins, of Granby caught a large 26-inch grass pile which weighed about 300 pounds.

CELEBRATION REVIVED

Labor Day in Kings County, which for a score of years has been a day uncelebrated by any public activities, emerged from its long slumber through the commemorating of the late John B. Keene.

As a farmer, you know that anyone who thinks he can learn the involved science of good farming "in one short easy lesson" is just fooling himself. But many things look easy when you know very little about them. Adequate electric wiring, for instance.

When it comes to wiring your farm, don't be fooled because it looks easy. You may think the Smith boy could do it "because he's so handy," but you'll save plenty of future regrets if you get an expert on the job from the start. You'll find (particularly if you watch the electrician wire your farm) that it is a job for quite a skilled tradesman.

Start off by getting the best man you can, to do the best and most complete wiring job for all your immediate and future needs. It is easier to add to your electrical equipment as you want to IF YOU START RIGHT with ADEQUATE WIRING.
