Frederick Philip Grove, who resides near Simcoe, has won the Governor-General's Literary award for the Best creative non-fiction of 1946 with his autobiographical "In Search of Myself."

In 1943 he was the C.C.F. Candidate in the Provincial election for Haldimand-Norfolk.

In easily the best Badminton playoffs since the Haldimand County Badminton League was organized some years ago, the Jarvis Club successfully defended the privilege of holding the Banks trophy for another year at Cayuga on Tuesday evening against very strong opposition from the Nanticoke Club.

Jarvis won the first play-off games on the local court, but were defeated in Nanticoke a week later, making necessary the final play-off games on a neutral court, in Cayuga on

Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the Haldimand C.C.F. Association took place in the Court House, Cayuga, on Wednesday evening, April 18th.

Alvin Rowe, zone organizer, gave a spirited and challenging address. He said: "The financial set up of the C.C.F. is both our strength and our weakness. It places the obligation squarely on the shoulders of the members to build an organization that will inform the people about the C.C.F. program. Lack of a huge central fund is a handicap to us; but people are instinctively turning to support our cause because they trust us."

The following were elected as Executive: Hon. President, James Gibson; President, Leslie Booker; 2nd Vice President, Leslie Booker; 2nd Vice President, Harvey Vokes; Secretary Treasurer, Carroll Lindsay.

Christian literature means something more than books about Christianity: it is as wide as the life of man. From war-torn lands the cry for Christian literature has come before the urgent call for food and clothing. Among the foremost christian leaders in this world literacy movement is Dr. F. C. Laubach, "Apostle of the Illiterates," whose "each one teach one" movement has opened the Book of Life to literally thousands of men and women around the world. Following the study period, Mrs. Henning gave a reading on Stewardship. Mrs. Banes spoke briefly on Temperance. Mrs. Kindree took charge for the business session when Mrs. John Doughty read an appeal for used clothing and gifts for our supply work. The members of the Missing and Mrs. R. A. Doughty read the minutes. The roll call was responded to with verses containing the word ressurection.

Mrs. Doughty conducted a short meeting of the W.A. when work was given out for the bazaar. Mrs. R. A. Doughty and Mrs. H. Vokes were appointed to attend a meeting of the Women's Associations of the Prespytery to be held in Hagersville on May 7th.

Rev. Mr. Banes closed the meeting with prayer, after which a social hour was enjoyed and lunch served by Mrs. Hedges and her Jughter Eleanor. Mrs. Kindree thanked the hostess for her hospitality.
