MARK SENN'S AGRICULTURAL COMMITTEE

Mr. Senn, who characteristically allocates credit to his colleagues, says of them: "Many were elected for the first time in 1945 and so are new to parliamentary procedure and practice. Every effort has been made to encourage them to take an active part in the work of the committee and in discussions in Parliament itself.

"I am pleased to say all have shown an intense interest in farm problems and all have taken part in debate in the chamber with marked ability."

* * *

His philosophy on prices was expressed in the following terms during the last session. Mr Senn did not think farmers found fault with price controls during the war. They were willing to do their share and they did it. But now the war was over, the time had come when they should have some reward.

On 1946 estimates, the committee chairman was one of the most persistent examiners on items relating to agricultural science.

Within the Progressive Conservative committee's ranks, incidentally, there is a new team that for two sessions has fought for a more aggressive program towards controlling contagious abortion in cattle which in the human is the source of undulant fever. On the farm side there is Mr. Charlton, who has pressed for the immunization of adult stock in opposition to federal policy of using the vaccine only on calves.

On the medical, there is Dr. W. G. Blair, member for Lanark, who demands unified and compulsory regulations on calf vaccination. At the last session, Dr. Blair told an attentive House: "As a physician I am concerned about undulant fever and I am especially concerned over the apathy and listlessness with which this subject is approached."

* * *

In the Agriculture Committee it cannot be emphasized too often that the concept is not one of single direction but one of team play. Space does not permit a detailed examination of the Senn team.

But there is Wilbert R. Aylesworth of Frontenac-Addington, a drover and a breeder of Jerseys of Royal Winter Fair ribbon quality; C. D. Coyle, Elgin, in general farming and tobacco; C. Earle Desmond, Kent, a farmer and head of the Burley Tobacco Marketing Association; R. E. Drope, Northumberland, dairy farmer and manager of the Harwood Cooperative Creamery; Lewis Menary, North Wellington who specialized in certified seeds; Charles Stephenson, Durham, a business man who secured the farm touch through a tobacco farm; George H. Stokes, Hastings South, Ayrshires; Harry White, Middlesex East, general farmer and past president of Ontario's Bee Keepers' Association.

The secretary of the committee is T. B. Barrett, Norfolk a farmer and livestock breeder. Other members include G. R. Boucher, Carleton; A. J. Bradshaw, Perth; Col A. J. Brooks, Royal; W. J. Graniff, Huron North; K. R. Daniel, Oxford; J. G. Diefenbaker, K.C., Lake Centre; R. E. Drope, Northumberland; J. H. Ferguson, Simcoe North; Major E. D. Fulton, Kamloops; Gordon Graydon Peel; Col. D. S. Harkness, Calgary East; H. H. Hatfield, Victoria Carleton; G. H. Heon, Argenteuil; C. W. Hodgson, Victoria (Ontario); F. E. Lennard, Wentworth; A. E. Robinson, Bruce; F. T. Stanfield, Colchester Hants; G. R. Webb, Leeds and G. S. White, Hastings-Peterborough.

* * *

Of this year's session, Chairman Senn can predict with confidence matters of importance will include revised terms of food contracts with the United Kingdom, and long-range planning on wheat, bearing in mind the March conference in London on international agreement.

Uppermost will be the whole question of price ceilings on farm products and what might be termed subdivisions of that topic, questions relating to the shortage of butter, the importation of New Zealand butter and the prices of dairy products generally and the relationship of subsidies to those prices.

With thirty-five of St. Paul's Sunday School in attendance, another in a series of frolics or indoor picnics was held Monday evening in the Sunday School room. It was Railroad night and amateur railroading was played. Wagons were used as trains and two competing companies were in operation. The Garnet station under the direction of Lenore Duquette had John Cameron and Bobby Gifford for Engineer and Conductor. The St. Valentine station in charge of Jean De la Fosse had Fred Cameron and Ronald De la Fosse for the road crew. Audrey Duquette was in charge of the telegraph office. Margaret Dove acted as Post Master and Jack Cook was Train Master.

There was much fun running the trains, carrying passengers and trying to keep the hoboes from securing free rides.

My Dear Friend:

Thank you so much for your kindness you sent me this nice coat. It was very kind of you to remember us. I am very glad too hear that it will be the reason to correspond with a friend who lives at Canada.

I am widow. I have two children a girl and a boy. I am the father and mother of my family as you know we have to pass through some awful times and conditions are stih extremely difficult. Life is very expensive and is almost impossible to buy everything. I would be very grateful for any old clothes you can spare. Thanking you soon and with best regards.

Yours sincerely,

CHEVOLET ANNOUNCES ITS 1947 MODELS

Restyled for 1947 with the emphasis on a more massive front end and a smoother sweep to body contours, the new Chevrolet is announced. New front-end grille and complimenting bright work, as well as elimination of the body belt moulding, have done much to give the new model an air of greater luxuriousness. This year, the usual shut down for retooling was avoided and there was virtually no decrease in the rate of output when the new models went into production.

WEDDINGS

JARVIS—ROSS

Port Dover: In Christ's Church, Nanticoke, on Saturday at 4. P.M. a very pretty wedding was solemnized when Margaret E. Ross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Ross, Lakeshore Road, Port Dover, became the bride of Philip J. Jarvis, son of Mr. Wm. Jarvis and the late Mrs. Jarvis, London.

The music included the "Bridal Chorus" from Wagner's "Lohengrin" and the wedding music by Mendelssohn. The soloist was Miss Doreen Stire of Jarvis who sang "At Dawning." Miss Margaret Doughty of Jarvis was at the organ. The altar was beautifully decorated with white snapdragons, red tulips and ferns.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and looked lovely in a floor-length ivory satin gown with floor-length hand-made veil. She carried a bouquet of pink roses, white carnations and pink snapdragons. Miss Donna Jarvis of London, niece of the groom, was maid of honor and wore floor-length pink lace over taffeta with matching pearls and net and flower headdress, and carried pink tulips and snapdragons.

The best man was Sam Ross and George Ross was usher, both being of Port Dover and brothers of the bride.

Thirty-four guests attended the reception given by the bride's parents in St. Paul's Parish Hall, Port Dover. The bride's mother received in a blue faconne crepe dress. Later, the happy couple left for a short honeymoon The bride chose for traveling a grey suit, blue Scotian tweed coat and a flowered hat. On their return they will reside in London.

Guests from out-of-town were from London, Toronto, Nanticoke and Port Dover. The bride is a graduate of Toronto Normal School.

DOYLE—ALLEN

Daffodils decorated St. Ann's church, at Walpole, on February 15th, for the wedding of Valena Barlee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hyde, of Toronto, and Mr. Michael Doyle, son of Mrs. Doyle and the late Mr. Gregory Doyle, of Caledonia. Rev. Father Regan conducted the service. The soloist, Miss Barbara Stoneman, was accompanied at the organ by Miss Kate Doyle.

The bride, given away by her father, wore an ice blue satin gown, her fingertip veil caught to her head with lilies-of-the valley. She carried red roses. Attending the bride Miss May McCarthy, of Toronto, was in yellow net over taffeta, with matching coronet, her flowers being Talisman roses. The groom was attended by his brother, Mr. Edward Doyle of Caledonia, while Messrs. Walter Doyle and David Snoddy (Toronto) ushered.

A reception was held afterward at Green's Hotel. For going away, the bride was attired in a beige costume with brown accessories. The couple will reside in Caledonia.

On The Farm Front

BRIEF NOTES FOR THE BUSY FARMER

— By Haldimand Harry —

Mastitis is no respector of persons and causes heavy losses every year. It is estimated that Mastitis reduces milk production on the average of twenty-two per cent. One little item of importance in the prevention of this disease is the provision of ample bedding, well distributed. Bruises and chilling weaken the udder tissues and so predispose the cow to an attack. Straw packed down and concentrated toward the fore quarters gives no protection to the udder and rear quarters.

Pregnancy disease of sheep has shown up in some Haldimand flocks. The symptoms included a dullness or stupor. Sometimes they will walk in circles and at other times appear as if blind and bump into objects in their way. Convulsions are common particularly in the later stages. When the disease has been discovered the veterinarian should be called and sugar or sugar compounds should be fed according to directions. Feeding the ewe daily during pregnancy and more particularly during the last six or eight weeks, one-half to one pound of equal parts of whole oats and shelled corn is a good preventative.

Mr. Farmer, how much is your wife worth ? It is agreed that no monetary value can be placed on a helpmate but a University of Minnesota professor recently discovered that farmers whose wives co-operated in the operation of their farms made an average of $2,760.00 more than those who ran the show alone. It would take $69,000.00 invested at four per cent to bring in $2,760.00 annually. So a farmer's wife must be of this value to a farmer. A large New York metropolitan paper after enumerating all the other duties performed by a farmer's wife raises the anti to $100,000.00. Many will agree this is still too low.

During January 1947, Haldimand hog producers marketed a total of 1314 hogs. Of this number 598 or 45.5 per cent were in grade A. The marketings were characterized by heavier than usual shipments of grade B2, B3 and C hogs. These are usually lightweight hogs. How about it ? Perhaps we should be using those scales more regularly. Or have you a set of the special hog weighing scales ? If not it will pay to investigate. They can be purchased at cost from your agricultural representative.

Has your township made any definite plans for the control of Warble flies ? This is one menace that can be swept away completely if only we will co-operate and do something about it. Whether we treat the animals individually by hand or through the use of power equipment let us get together on this common problem and eliminate it.

"Grass is the forgiveness of Nature—her constant benediction" so wrote John James Ingalls about the turn of the century and quoted by J. M. Appleton at the crop meetings in Toronto earlier this month. Mr. Appleton went on to say that the reason grass is of such importance is because it provides the cheapest feed, the best manure and the finest tillage. Should we therefore not value this crop more highly and give it more and better care and attention ? A good application of manure will do much to maintain a good growth of sward either for a hay crop or for pasture. Top dressing this spring with a liberal application of superphosphate would be of immense assistance on many Haldimand farms.
