Sherk, who resides east of Selkirk, to ascertain if he had lost the box. When it was found the box did not belong to him, if was suggested that it may belong to the slain man. A daughter, Ruby Sherk, walked down the road to the Sherk home to find out but was unable to get an answer to her knock. She returned to the home of Albert Cook who lives across the road and he returned with a series of storms culminating in a furth in the province's history.

It is still the action of the box who lives across the road and he returned with her to discover the tragedy that had taken place. The Provincial Police and the worst traffic blockade in the province's history.
