Delicious Cool Drink Directions: Make tea exactly as usual . . . While

ICED TEA

Synopsis
Chapter XLVI: Valdez shoots Weber and his body is found by CHAPTER XLVII With the shots ringing in his ears, he had jabbed the glass panel with his colt, bringing the jagged upper half down in a clanking shower. He rushed in, up the stairs, climbed over Weber's twisted body and reached the landing, prepared to kill or be killed. The big room upstairs was empty.

He ran to the open window, thrust out his head. No scarlet-masked man lay dead on the ground. Wallace turned back toward the stairway with a snort. Pete Haskell was there, supervising the removal of the body from the stairs.

"He's got a little life left in him Haskell said thickly. et, Luke," Haskell said thickly. Send Buck Andrews for the doc and some liquor. Might get this Easterner to tell us what happened." The liquor came, but the doctor was out on the range. Haskell managed to work some of the potent fluid down Clark Weber's twitching throat. Weber's lips quivered. Then his eyes opened. "B-Bartle," he gasped. "The old -Steve-Ransom farm. El Caballero-Rojo-"

Haskell rose. He handed the partly filled glass to Wallace. "The gent has gone dry, Luke," he said grimly. "He'll do no more

"Just what I told you!" rasped Wallace. "That outlaw and Bartle are working hand in glove." He started down the stairs two at a time. "I'll bet both legs against a horned toad that if he does go to Ransom's old place, it wouldn't be over hard to find either him or Bartle thereafter-because I'm putting that red-masked devil's name on a grave-marker myself!" Ranchers crowded around Wallace as he burst into the street.

"All you mer go to the valley," "All you mer go to the valley," ordered Wallace, "and oust out

"All you mer go to the valley," ordered Wallace, "and oust out farmer! Bring them to Steve Ransom's old place. We're throwing out a ring of guns that no sidewinder could wiggle through. With Bartle and this Caballero Rojo decorating tree limbs, where we'll prove they belong, there'll be no more fence in Deep Water Valley!' The men scattered. Haskell and Tim Callan came down the stairs then and stood beside Wallace. "Reckon we ought to get Sheriff Lande, Luke?" Haskell asked. "What's done at the Ransom place would be strictly legal then." "You're sure a stickler for law!" Wallace snapped impatiently. "There's nothing more legal than a buzzard out on a limb and proof of guilt in your hands." Michael Valdez did not ride north for long. He headed east, intending to enter the valley at a spot that promised a straight cut to the Webr-Maxon farm. But two miles out of Gold Creek he checked El Cielo abruptly. Behind him, so faint that even his keen ears barely made it out, came the cry of a mountain Valdez answered the call and waited. Shortly Juanita rode up. There was a strange look in her

"I see what you do in town, senor," she said swiftly. "One day you try to fool too many men. Then?" "Quien sabe?" he said philosoph-

He slid his velvet serape aside to reveal Bartle's ledger. Juanita stared at it and nodded. "I am delayed, senor," she said. "But not for long. I am accused of murder done by the man we are looking for." "Sheriff get you?" Valdez asked

"Si. He was waiting with posse at the Pringle farm." "How did you get away?"

Juanita touched Pedro's neck. "We just ride, senor. But we must not go into the valley again. Not tonight. It is so nearly to daylight "Tonight," Valdez To the Easterners' farm. Bartle is there. At dawn peace will be in this valley again. All men will know who killed and burned and tortured, and when that man pays for that, the way will be open for cowmen to buy legal route for sweet water."

"No, senor!" Juanita implored, fright in her voice. "Not to the Easterners' farm. The Pringle place-and the sheriff, who waits you-are too near. And with the sheriff are I do not know how many possemen-"

"I ride, Juanita," Valdez said Creek may pick up my sign and trail ance. I want ten minutes in the Maxon house, sabe? Your job is to keep back anybody who trails mefor ten minutes.'

"Yo se," Juanita said resignedly. "I can do it without danger—if the trailers are cowmen." Then what "Then our job is finished and we ride out of here. We meet south of the valley. You'll hear my call.

"But senor!" Juanita stopped him. "The Easterner who knows we ride together? We won't be safe again if this man knows that—" "His tongue is stiff, Juanita. He made the same mistake twice." His knees pressed the blue roan and he vanished into the early morning darkness . . .

Luke Wallace was in the vanguard of the ranchers riding the Deep Water Valley trail. Close behind him rode Pete Haskell and Tim Callan, and bringing up the rear was a long line of cowmen that grew shorter as men dropped out of the grim caravan in pairs, heading across the valley, rousing out tobacco men with pleas for coop-

"You think this here El Caballero Rojo deserves what he sure is going to get?" asked Callan. "I do-if he's in cahoots with about?'

. . . Both men spurred ahead. The three veteran cowmen drew up side by side, gaping at a strange sight to be encountered on the Full in the last of the moonlight beside a towering tree, a Mexican peon sat upon a sleek mount. The rider appeared to be armless, because the hands were tied behind the body. There was a gag in the victim's mouth, a noose about his neck, and the end of the rope was tied about the trunk of the tree, after it had been passed over a thick limb.

Haskell dropped from his own horse and went forward cautiously, in order not to startle the standing mount. With one slice of his jackknife he severed the rope, close to the tree. In half a minute the peon was thankfully free.

"Gracias, senor," the Mexican muttered with gratitude. "You have save my life. I say many prayers for you when-"Never mind that now," Haskell interrupted. "What happened to you?" "I am resting from hard riding," Juanita said glibly. "I wake. see man who digs. I go to him.

Maybe I am of help. He is very mad when he see me He do to me as you see when you come." Wallace took charge of the situation. "Who was this hombre?" he demanded. Juanita shrugged. "Who knows? I am worth maybe a fortune if I can say who is behind the scarlet mask and hidalgo garb of that man."

"El Caballero Rojo!" exclaimed Wallace "Buried those papers and books as sure as you're born! Now we'll find out what was so important! Where's the cache, amigo Juanita pointed west. "Come, I

Pink and blue combined make crocheted set for girl or boy! Pattern 991 has directions for set.
Send TWENTY-FIVE CENTS A mile would more than suffice, she figured, to delay these men for the time Valdez wanted. Ten min-utes Valdez had requested. He had had much more than that already. (To Be Continued)

School's Out!

ANNE HIRST Your Family Counselor

· acquired bad manners will not

* springs from the heart, and i

* based upon consideration of * others. A child may be born with * it. But if he hears his father and * mother raise their voices to each * other, indulge in rough language or actually quarrel, his nice in

* stincts will be shocked and stifled,

* press them.

* them so.

* and he never will be able to ex-

Parent's Burden

* It is the patient, painstaking

* parent who carries the burden day after day, of teaching kind ren. It is by no means a thank

* in her children's happy social life and their increasing popularity as

To "Disgusted Mother" and, as you strive to overcome the influence, you will succeed. It takes time and patience; but, as Emerson

Good Manners

Back in the 18th century, William Pitt Earl of Chatham, wrote to a friend: "Now as to politeness . . to call it benevolence in

> No matter how successful a man becomes, no one can warm up to him if he is abrupt in his manner, ungracious in his speech. On the other hand, many an outstanding character is beloved by all who know him because he is consistently polite and "benevolent" in the little things of life. No greater social asset can a boy r girl acquire than good manners. They are a sure introduction everywhere. (Many a rogue knows this, too!) You may provide your children with the most expensive education, dress them in the latest fashion, see that they meet the "right people"; but if they are rude in manner curt in their speech, and ignore the niceties of polite behavior, they won't last long with the right people and their social success is handicapped beyond repair. Begin At Home

* Children learn best by example. * If parents are polite to each * other, and to their children, the youngsters adopt the idea with-* out being conscious of it. They may pick up rough ways and * crude speech from other children; * but if the atmosphere of their

Saura Wheeler

Just ONE straight piece for the jacket-the same for the cap! This easy-crochet set is the daintlest prettiest you could make for Babyl wrote, "Good manners are made up of petty sacrifices.-"You are making those sacrifices during these difficult days, but you never will regret them. "He must have a wonderful mother!" That is the first reaction of older people to a well-mannered child. Can your children deserve the comment? Write to Anne Hirst if this troubles you. Address her at 123-18th Street, New Toronto. Ontario,

Modern Etiquette By Roberta Lee

bread and water. Though Ahab disguised himself he was killed in Q. Is it necessary to reply to a Israel just as Micaiah had predicted. A. Not if the invitation is to the church ceremony alone. However, if the invitation is accompanied by cards of invitation to a breakfast or reception following the ceremony, an immediate answer in writingaccepting or declining-should be

Q. Is it necessary for a woman o remove her gloves when shaking hands? A. A woman never removes her gloves to shake hands, no matter when or where, and never apologiaes for wearing them.

Q. What is the correct way to eat fruits, such as apples and peaches, at the table? A. Peel the apple or peach with a small silver fruit knife, cut it into quarters, and then convey to the mouth with the fingers. Q. How long should a wedding ring be worn after the husband has

Send TWENTY-FIVE CENTS in coins (stamps cannot be accepted) for this pattern to the Needlecraft Dept., Box 1, 193—18th Street, New Toronto. Print plainty PATTERN HUMBER, your NAME and ADDRESS. gagement, she ceases to wear her first wedding ring.

Advance Notes From the "Ex."

See What A Really Up-To-Date School Looks Like - The finest modern schools in Canada and overs will be on view at the 1948 C.N.E., in the form of scale models. One of them will be a reproduction of the famed school at Ruslip, near London, England, said to be the best planned hool ever built. It has a cafeteria equipped to supply each child with a hot noon meal. Menus are arranged so that this school meal provides the child with least two-thirds of his necessary food requirements. Cost of this meal is 26 cents, of which the pupil

Denmark is sending a model of one of its outstanding schools, as are Sweden and the United States. Canadian provinces to be represented are British Columbia, Alberta, askatchewan, Manitoba and Ontario. One Ontario model is of special interest to nine third-year oupils at Western Technical School, Toronto, for they spent the last two months putting it together. It is the attractive and modern Hanna emorial School at Sarnia. Other Ontario models will be the Forest Hill Collegiate, now under contruction and the Fisher Park Schools in Ottawa. Details of building costs and tax rates for education in their municipalities will be displayed alongside each model.

pays 16 cents and the municipality

Pity the Poor Moth

A new scientific discovery which guarantees permanent moth-proof woollen cloths has been announced in London by the International Wool Secretariat The discovery hinges on years of research into Question: When I write with as means of making wool indigestible to moth grubs The usu'l method of mothproofing has been to add anti-moth hemicals to the surface of the fibre and this has always had the drawback that the chemicals eventually washed off. Now, by soaking wool in a certain solution, the fibres can be rapidly changed from the moth grubs' favorite food to something it can't digest at all. Manners have nothing to do * with money. We all have seen TESUNDAY SCHOOL * children from humble homes who * cannot be outdone in courtesy * advantage grow into arrogant, insolent men and women who * never learn why people dislike

Micaiah; A Prophet of Israel I Kings 22:1-40

Golden Text: As the Lord liveth, what the Lord saith unto me, that will I speak. I Kings 22:14. Our studies now turn to "Uneralded Bible Characters" and this week we deal with Micaiah, a prophet of northern Israel in the ninth In every relationship in your century before Christ. Ahab, the wicked king of Israel * social, marriage-good manner ad solicited aid from the good king will smooth their path. As they went forth to war Jehoshaphat sug-* whom they owe this blessing, and gested that they should inquire of * love you the more for your labors. the Lord. Four hundred prophets assured Ahab of success. But aphat, uneasy in this unholy alliance, asked if there might be have, momentarily adopted the attitude of their unfortunate assoyet another prophet. Ahab hated ciates. The phase is only temporary Micaiah because, said he, "He doth not prophesy good concerning me but evil". However Micaiah was Micaiah was urged by the king's nessenger to speak as the others had spoken. But he replied, "As the Lord liveth, what the Lord saith unto me, that will I speak". At first he ironically concurred with the other prophets in their pleasing message. The king detected the irony and pressed for the truth.

Then Micaiah recounted his vision which indicated that Israel would be defeated and the king slain. For pronouncing such truths he was the battle which ended in defeat for Dean Swift said, "If you wish to be considered a man of sense, always agree with the person with whom you are conversing". It has always been a temptation for preachers to give the people what they want rather than what they need. Sermons against popular vices are exceedingly rare to-day.

One magistrate says that is one reason why crime is costing the nation more than ever before. It is our responsibility, whether preacher or layman, to deliver God's truth.

committed to prison to be fed on summoned.

You'll find quick relief for the itching, ben ing feeling of eczema when you use D Dr. Chase's Ointmeil INDIGESTION WALLOP YOU BELOW THE BELT More than half of your dispersion is below the belt-in your 28 feet of be 80 when indigeration strikes you somethat helpe dispersion in the stomash All below the belt.

What you may need is Carter's Little line. Pills to give needed help to that to 28 feet" of bowels.

Take one Carter's Little Liver Pill bis and one after meals. Take them scoreign directions. They help wake up a large is directions. They help wake up a large is directions.

10. Activity
11. Seed container
16. Coin
18. Proper
20. Attired
21. Interweave
22. French annuity 25. Additional
26. Clever
27. Moves gently
29. Destroy
1 32. Swooned
25. Hillod
28. Red wine
28. Limber
29. Narrow roads
42. Ford
43. Tablet
45. Man's name
47. Scotch uncle
48. Unvarying procedure
51. Among
61. Among 6

Wool - Blankets - Wool SAVE COMMISSIONS, ETC., HAVE YOUR RAW SHEEP WOOL MADE INTO LIFETIME BLANKETS Car Robes, Cloth, Yarns, Batts, etc.

Or if you have Old Woollens we will remake them into New Wearing Blankets at a surprisingly low cost. Write for New Price List.

Thousands of Satisfied Customer from Coast to Coast isands of Satisfied Customers from Coast to Coast BRANDON WOOLLEN MILLS CO. Ltd.

BRANDON, Manitoba

YOUR HANDWRITE

ions are asked by my con these are given here in the int of readers who may have in a Question: Is it possible to d male from the script? Answer: No. The analyst definitely state whether he is lyzing a man's or a woma writing and this is due to th paper a mental picture, a tho can think alike and place the on paper in the form of wri is difficult to tell one from the Question: Do two persons Answer: No. Two pers not write the same h average person but, under extion, no two scripts are alike, It has twins, identical in all respects my handwriting, if I will marry.

not fortune telling. It can tell what you are at the present It is unfair for anyone to enanother to believe that handy can predict the future. It is pr able that a person can impror life by correcting their brought to their attention by h writing analysis but has analysis itself does not pre future events that the writing looks like n handwriting. Why is this so Answer: Every writer instic knows his or her ow han by the sense of feel rather than sight. When you use a pen no suited to your writing habits lose some of your sense of t and therefore do not write same form.

Anyone wishin, a more stamped envelope to Alex S. A. 123, 18th Street, New Toronto

How Can 1? By Anne Ashley

Q. How can I make an astringer Thereis a story in those few words

A. For oily nose or skin, use the lot on: Alum, 35 grains; Rosewater three ounces; thick almond milk six drams. Dissolve the alum is the rosewater and pour the mixture slowly into the almond milk, but ing it constantly with a silver for apply several times daily with the slower and their apply several times daily with the slower hands to the color of soft cloth.

Q. How can I clean irons? A. By mixing rottenstone with sweet oil, spreading it on a boat and running the iron back and fort until it is bright and clean. Q. How can I clean unpaint

A. Wash it as quickly as possible with a strong solution of salt as on that porch is really something. ee hasn't got so much as water then place in a hot ! front entry but inside the house dry. Do not use soapsuds, and here is this wonderful kitchenjust feel you have stepped into of those magazine advertiseof the modern kitchen, comwith dining-alcove. Still anmily, satisfied with just an

to have found their heart's the most. And if we decide unporch rather than a streamthen then surely we should CROSSWORD PUZZLE 2. Era

3. Chagrin
4. Subject
5. Was carried
6. Ourselves
7. Chess pieces
8. Kind of shawl ISSUE 27 - 1948

13 14 17 18 9 20 21 22 23 24 25 60 27 29 30 35 33 35 36 39 39 40 41. 42 48 44 45 46 47

Fawn Is Farm Pet-Bambi, 2-weeks-old fawn, found by Eileen and Sally Griffith, daughters Wr. and Mrs. R. Griffith, 2nd Concession, Sarnia Township, nuazles Eileen while Sally by Guendoline P. Clarke Sentences taken from their conat are supposedly misleading. But theory doesn't always apply-Last week I had to make a deci prelated words, often stand sion myself. I had the offer of an out sharp and clear, revealing far more than the speaker realises. For once I passed two girls on the presumably young married Said one—"Have you finled your shopping?" The other tion is necessary, is it?

creened-in sunporch with the most house for conveniences, the newest and smartest nized kitchen?

electric refrigerator. Partner told me to please myself. Well, I thought of the work it would save, trailing up and down the cellar stairs; and of the food it would save -I have such trouble in keeping ed-"No. I have to go to the meat from going bad. Gone also utcher's yet-and do I dread the ought of buying meat!" No exoften have I brought ice back from town only to find the men conspicuous by their absence. And if you think carrying a fifty-pound Here is another tid-bit which folchunk of ice down cellar is fun you lowed a women's meeting in the want to try it some time. Ice tongs untry. Mrs. Aye said to me next are useless in my hands. My method was to wrap the ice lovingly in a clean towel, hug it to my chest and finally arrive, damp, cold and breathless at the ice-box down cellar. Then there was that extra heave necessary to get my slippery burden into the ice chamber-usually it would slither out of my arms halfway to its destination and often break in two on the cellar floor. Are you surprised that only in extremely hot weather did we bother with the ice-box at all? It is different in town where ice is delivered the other hasn't got. For instance right to your box. Mrs. Aye hasn't got a streamlined itchen but last year there was that I went all out in favour of a refrigerator and now it is here orgeous view imaginable. A place and in operation-and I am pretty sure I am not going to regret my choice. The only trouble is we are eat, work, sleep or laze in to ne's heart's content. I'm telling having to rearrange the pantry, more or less building around the watching one night-Partner at his carpenter work and I painting this thing and that-finally he remarked, > get something new it makes a lot of work, doesn't it?" And was he . . . And here is another story in one sentence: Yesterday a farmer's wife was telling me about their hired man and said-"He is quite green but of course he wants good wages. We don't really mind the wagesgets us down."

and with reason-"Every time you many of us can have all we but if and when the time when we can make a bit of it's having to board him too that plurge then we naturally have to Times change, don't they-reode in our own way what we member when an extra man to feed was neither here nor there on a varieties. Of course, certains precautions must be taken. The following rules

The next few weeks are an ideal time for pruning your spring flowering shrubs such as lilac, forsythia, wisteria, bridal wreath and mock

Once these shrubs have ceased flowering you can attack the old shoots — thick as a thumb and dark colored — cutting them out at the beaten egg; stir and return to double boiler. Continue cooking 3 minbase in order to which will flower will make the chore an easier one. Transplanting they began experiments which turnnow that most horticulturists, with-

'all season planting". The future will also find nurseries ffering plants of all kinds especially prepared for planting, not at any one set season, but at the gardener's convenience. This will reverse the old rule whereby the gardener had to set his schedule to suit the plant's condition of growth.

Roses are an example of what is meant. Alert nurserymen nowadays are offering roses established in pots-some in bud, others in full bloom. They may be planted any time during the frost-free months Sometimes they have been started in a greenhouse, so that a new rose ed may be planted as early in the year as weather permits. It is likely that similar practice will before long be taken up in the shrub border bursts into bloom almost overnight; and it is only then quince or other shrub which h foliage has died, cut back.

TABLE TALKS

fore spreading on cake.

2 eggs, separated

1/2 teaspoon vanilla teaspoon salt

Custard Bread Pudding

tablespoons melted butter

2 tablespoons strawberry jam 3 tablespoons corn syrup

Add bread crumbs and 3 tablespoons corn syrup to the scalded milk. Mix well, add well-beaten egg yolks, salt, anilla and butter.

3 tablespoons butter

1 cup bread cubes

6 eggs ½ teaspoon salt Dash of pepper serve 6.

1/2 eup milk

1 cup soft bread crumbs

3 tablespoons corn syrup 2 cups scalded milk

The hens are working overtime these days. This is the mouth when eggs are plentiful enough to

Buttermilk Cake

1 cup sugar 1/2 cup corn syrup 3 eggs, separated

2 cups pastry flour 8 teaspoons baking powder 1/4 teaspoon baking soda 3/4 teaspoon each-cloves, allspice, and nutmeg. 2 teaspoons cinnamon 1 cup, plus 2 tablespoons Cream shortening; gradually add sugar and corn syrup; beat well. Add well-beaten egg yolks. Add sifted dry ingredients alternately cor : syrup. Brown in moderate oven. Serves 6. with buttermilk; fold in stiffly beat en egg whites. Pour into pan 8" x 2" which has been lined with waxed paper and oiled. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 50 minutes. When cool, spread with Glazed Chocolate Icing.

Glazed Chocolate Icing 3 tablespoons com starch

1/2 cup cocoa. 3/4 cup sugar 2 curs warm buttermilk

1 egg 1 teaspoon vanilla

Make a paste of corn starch, cocoa, sugar, s: and 1/2 cup of the warm buttermilk. Add remainder of buttermilk and cook in top of double-boiler til smooth and thick, stirring occasionally Pour a little of the mixture over slightly more freely. One third or one quarof the shrub removed each year

Twenty years or so ago gardeners and nurserymen were beginning to wonder why transplanting couldn't be done in the summer instead of ed out so well that it is predicted in a few years, will be practicing first warm weeks of spring the that the owner remembers that he neglected to order that flowering wanted to set out.

For as a matter of fact, most of the flowering and deciduous shrubs can be easily and successfully transplanted during the summer months, the period immediately following the blossoms being ideal for many apply to almost all plants moved during the summer months. Firstthe shrubs should be well-establish ed nursery plants. Second - the ground should be moist before digging and each plant should be dug with a ball of earth attached. Third -the foliage must be protected with with burlap or canvas during the moving and plants should not be allowed to stand in the full, hot sun. Fourth - in the actual planting, which should be done with great care, the ball of earth should be placed in a well-prepared hole and vater then "flooded in". And, Fifth -foliage should be sprayed with a fine mist each evening for a few days and any branches, where the Correction The delivery boy from the fish market presented his package to the servant girl with the simple an-nouncement. "It's C.O.D." The girl bristled up and replied, "You needn't spell it out for me—and be-sides the cook asked for haddock!" Pour into greased casserole. Bake * n moderate (350 degree) oven till set, about 45 minutes. Remove from oven, spread with jam and cover STOP the TCH of Insect Bites—Heat Rash with meringue made from stiffly beaten egg whites and 3 tablespoons Quick! Stop itching of insect bites, heat rash, eczema, hives, pimples, scales, scabies, athlete's foot and other externally caused skin troubles Scrambled Egg With Bread Cubes stops or your money back. Your druggist stocks D. D. D. PRESCRIPTION.

Around 40 our energy lessens. But, experience has taught us to do our work with less effort. The years ahead should yield the greatest accomplishments, the most enjoyment and happiness. They can, too, if we avoid the kidney and bladder disorders such as Backache, Headache, Rheumatic Pains, Lassitude, Loss of Sleep and Energy which so often attack those around 40. For over half a century Dodd's Kidney Pills have been helping men and women to keep kidneys and bladder in good order. If you are nearing 40, or past it, for the sake of your health and a happier future use Dodd's Kidney Pills today! 128

But He Taught "Did you learn anything to-day?" his mother asked him. happened was that a woman there wanted to know how to spell 'cat,' so I told her."

Heat butter; add bread cubes and pan-fry till golden brown. Beat to-Turn into frying pan with bread cubes and cook, stirring and scraping till eggs are set. Serve with Melba toast. This quantity will gether eggs, salt, pepper and milk

LIFE can Begin

Dodd's Kidney Pills

Get 50% MORE Jam or Jelly from your Fruit with RESULTS ARE SURE! WHAT IS CERTO? CERTO DOES THIS Why does Certo give you so much more jam and jelly? And 1 Gives you 50% more jam or jelly because you save all the precious fruit juice that wastes away in steam in long boiling. why do Certo jams and jellies look better . . . taste better? 2 Cuts to a fraction the time It's all quite simple. Certo is nothing but "fruit pectin" - the 3 Retains the lovely, natural fresh-fruit taste and colour. That's still more important because with Certo you use fruit natural substance in fruit that makes jams "jam" and jellies "jell". It's extracted and refined at its peak of flavor and colour to help you make better jams and jellies more easily and not the under-ripe fruit used THE CERTO SHORT BOIL SUCCESS SURE -With Certo you don't have to S IS YOUR CERTO RECIPE BO boil and boil and boil your fruit However inexperienced you may be, you'll have no failures if you to make it set. A one-to-two follow exactly the recipes pro-vided with Certo. Different fruits need different handling. There's a separate kitchenminute full, rolling boil i minute-to-a-minute for jellies.

A Froduct of General Foods A pound of jam or jelly made with Certo contains no more sugar than MAKE YOUR JAMS AND JELLIES THE QUICK, EASY MODERN WAY ...
WITH CERTO. GET CERTO AT YOUR GROCER'S TODAY

By Arthur Pointer

JITTER

LOOK FOR BOOK OF

72 TESTED RECIPES

UNDER THE LABEL