HOUSING SHORTAGE DILEMMA
Labor (to build houses) would have to be drawn from those industries which are paying the lowest wages at present. It happens that the industries which pay the lowest wages at present are those like farming, which produce the necessities of life. —Granby (Que.) Leader-Mail

GREAT RECORD BY CANADIAN HOLSTEIN
Only a very select group of Canadian cows have ever made yearly butterfat records exceeding 1200 lbs. of butterfat. The latest addition to this group is Selling Royal Wing, a purebred Holstein owned by Albert Selinger, Elmira, Ontario, whose production of 1219 lbs. fat from 28,500 lbs. milk was made in 365 days on three times-a-day milking under the supervision of the Federal Department of Agriculture. This is the third highest three times-a-day milk record ever made by a Canadian Holstein, being exceeded only by the World Record of 1263 lbs. fat made by Montvix Rag Apple Colanhiu Abolker at Mount Victoria Farms, Hudson Heights, Quebec, in 1941 and the 1257 lbs. butterfat made last year by Amiree Baronesse Pletje.

CALL FOR CO-OPERATION
In less than three years the Cochrane Community Council has sparked a number of useful enterprises into existence. We are inclined to think that its principal weakness springs from the failure of the organizations which should be using it and co-operating with it.

CONSERVATION CORNER

Toronto — The "World's largest real estate business" — the lands division of the Ontario Department of Lands and Forests, is doing a land office business, to coin a phrase, as it seeks to meet the desires of thousands of Canadians and Americans who want a home of their own in the wilderness.

The Division has an estimated 100,000 acres of Crown Land in northern Ontario for sale for summer resort purposes, and the hundreds of new cottages being erected in the fishing and hunting territories of Ontario tell their own story.

Until a few years ago land in certain parts of the Province could only be obtained for cottage purposes on 25-acre lots. But a change in policy now allows it to be purchased on all lands in the Province except Provincial Parks, but only after government conditions have been complied with. To prevent "hog hogging" for instance, where speculatively inclined persons might figure on buying Crown land at a low figure, the regulations provide that no timber may be cut without permission of the district forester — even though the purchaser actually owns the land.

To prevent speculation in property, the government requires that certain building regulations must be complied with too. If you get a piece of Crown Land for a cottage, you must erect buildings valued at $500, or more within eighteen months.

Editing a weekly is offering a public service. It is a job and a pleasure. It is both interesting and tedious. It is the same as the man who banged his head against the wall because he felt so good when he stopped.
