THE LIQUOR QUESTION

THE CITIZENS of Jarvis are being asked to express their opinion on a matter of public interest on February 3rd, which has been given some considerable publicity through the columns of this paper in recent weeks. While we have no desire to endeavour to influence anyone as to how they should vote on this question, we have no hesitation in expressing our views on the matter.

The Citizens are being asked if they are in favour of the sale of liquor under a lounge licence for consumption on licensed premises ? and Are you in favour of the sale of liquor under a dining lounge licence for consumption with meals on licensed premises ? It should be clearly understood that an affirmative vote does not mean that a Cocktail Bar will be established in Jarvis. It means that if an affirmative vote is given, anyone may apply to the Liquor Licensing Board of the Province of Ontario for a license to open and operate lounges. But it does not mean that anyone may at any time make such an application and get a license. Premises of this nature must comply to certain definite standards and the establishments must be, in the opinion of the Board, properly equipped for this purpose.

In connection with the above our feeling is this: The present Ontario Government enacted the Liquor Control Act in 1946, designed in the words of Government spokesmen, to bring the drinking of liquor out in the open. Cocktail lounges were allowed to be opened in cities of 50,000 population and over, without referring the question to the electors. Smaller municipalities, in order to secure the same privileges, have to refer the question to the electors and at least sixty per cent of the voters must agree before a similar policy in the handling of liquor can be adopted. It should be remembered that the Ontario Government that enacted this legislation was returned to office with a substantial majority.

We favour any system that will bring the drinking of alcoholic beverages out in the open, and do so in the sincere belief that it is the only means by which this habit, or vice, can hope to be controlled. We do not feel the matter is out in the open when it is legal to do one thing in one municipality and illegal in another.

Concern has been expressed about the influence of another legal outlet for alcohol in Jarvis on the youth of the community. We should be concerned in this respect. But what facts are there to indicate the influence will be more detrimental — or we would ask, as detrimental as previous influences ? The present generation of young to middle-age citizens were reared by parents who lived under the influence of local option — a dry period. It would be an incautious statement that would suggest they possessed higher moral standards than their fore bears who were reared by parents influenced by the open bar. Our opinion is that if we ever hope to reach the goal of, or anything approaching, total abstinence, it will be by a process of education and that education will come primarily from the home — as a result of a mutually happy, trusting and confident relationship between parents and children. If we give our children this, they will have a solid foundation for the development of self-control. But only if they trust and love us will it be possible for us, as parents, to influence them in the way we want. If we provide a secure, affectionate home for them, and if we ourselves set them an example of self-control and tolerance, they will follow our lead, not only because they wish to please us, but also because they will realize that a measure of self-control is necessary if they are to achieve the ends they themselves value. In our opinion, the opening of another outlet for the legal sale of alcohol should not be a detrimental influence for our youth.

It has been intimated, indirectly, that a local hotel is seeking the support of the electors in putting this vote through with the intention of applying for a license for a lounge. . So far as we know, this is true and we do not believe there has been any intention to hide the fact. The hotel in question has during the few years it has operated, been a distinct credit to the Village.

It has not only provided a welcome service to a large number of people, but it has also been a valuable asset to our tradesmen and merchants. We do not believe anyone can say anything discreditable about the establishment since it has been open. If the proprietor wants to expand his facilities for the purposes above mentioned, we feel we would be prejudiced to object when it would, of necessity, be done under the laws of the Province in which we live. It has been further intimated that this hotel may find it impossible to carry on unless sources of additional revenue can be found by this means This can not be used as an argument in favour of an affirmative vote, but the possibility of losing the fine services the hotel has so far rendered, is a consideration with many electors.

Our stand on this matter, whether right or wrong, is sincere. It is surely recognized by all thoughtful people that drinking is an accepted custom in this day and age and it can not be stopped by limiting legal outlets of sale. We have one legal outlet in Jarvis now, compared to seven bootleggers in the days of local option. There was no age limit at the door of the bootlegger. We respect the opinions of others and recognize the alcohol problem as one of the serious problems of society, but we should not allow prejudice to influence our decision on this particular question.

Before the hockey game is over in Simcoe to-night the new artificial ice arena management committee will figure the job of building the rink was nothing compared to the headaches of trying to find accommodation for five times as many fans as the building will hold. It will be a great tribute to "Red Kelly", Norfolk County's contribution to professional hockey.

While the center of activity in Simcoe is at the new artificial Ice Arena, other towns have been able to forget all about rink operations. The 1948-49 winter, so far, has been a complete disappointment to the kids. What little evidence of ice that was once visible at the Jarvis rink has long since disappeared. The kids find little comfort in the fact that papa is happy about his coal bill.

Something should still be done about those boardwalks on Talbot St. On Monday night the cars were parked tight with their wheels well immersed in the soft sod. It is impossible to keep the boulevards looking attractive and the condition is not likely to change. The only solution is to stone the boulevards and eventually we might hope that Department of Highways will have hard surface the roadway on both sides.

A spinster living in a London suburb was shocked at the language used by two men repairing telegraph wires close to her home. She wrote to the company on the matter and the foreman was asked to report. This he did in the following way: "Me and Bill Fairweather were on the job. I was up the telegraph pole, and accidently let the hot lead fall on Bill. It went down his neck. Then he said: 'You really must be more careful, Harry.'"

It is hardly likely that the crooks who have time to steal cars, rob banks and stage hold-ups of all kinds, are employed in any other way. We would assume, therefore, they would be eligible for unemployment Insurance. For some reason or other we hate to think any citizens of this calibre might be drawing unemployment insurance, baby bonuses, or any other type of state beneficence.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

January 17, 1949

Editor, The Jarvis Record:

Dear Sir:

As a member of the London & Middlesex Historical Society, I am endeavouring to gather data concerning the communities of Birr, Bryanston, Cherry Grove, Devizes, Edgewood, Eginfield, Maple Grove, Plover Mills Prospect Hill, Revere, St. Ives and Transvaal, before it is lost with the passing of time.

If any of your many readers have information concerning pioneer families, early business places and industries, churches, schools, etc., in the above communities, we would appreciate hearing from them. Former residents of these communities are widely scattered and it is probable that some of them are now living in your district.

Yours sincerely,

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

The Parsonage, Jarvis,
January 18th

The Editor,
The Jarvis Record.

Dear Sir:

It has been suggested to me that the following incident may be helpful to the citizens of Jarvis at this time.

Some years ago, as Minister of a small congregation in a Northern Ontario city, I was concerned about an alcoholic who with his family were members of our Church. This talented man had slipped from one level to another of life because of alcohol until he was jobless, destitute and hopeless. His wife and two little boys were in need of food and clothes. In the congregation we tried everything we could to help him We got work for him but he lost it immediately. We provided work for his wife and helped with food and clothes. But it was not sufficient. Finally I thought, "the manufacturers of liquor in this town who have made this man what he is and who on money taken from him and others like him, ride in fine cars and live in the best houses, will surely help him." I went to the manager of the brewery and told him the story. I said: "this man has been brought where he is and his innocent family to this state because of your industry. You have grown rich on such as he. I am sure you will help him now." The emanager turned to me and said angrily, "We don't give a damn for fellows like that." Then he showed me the door.

Surely the people of this town will not be beguiled into thinking that the proposed new outlet for liquor here involves any thought of good for them. I understand that one Canadian distillery announced net profits for 1948 of over One Million Dollars a week. This is the intention that lies behind every bottle. And this satanic traffic accepts no responsibility whatever for those whom it makes poor and wrecked.

Sincerely yours,
—E. NEWBERY

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

The Editor of the Jarvis Record.

Dear Sir:

For several weeks past now we have read the editorial page of the Jarvis Record, as citizens of Jarvis and the surrounding community have endeavoured to paint as dark a picture as possible over the possibility of a cocktail lounge in Jarvis.

It would seem that right now a good many people are interested in how the affairs of Jarvis are run. However during this same period, there local election for Councillors and trustees has been held, which resulted in there being two nomination meetings being called due to lack of interest in the first one. Following the second nomination, one would have expected these same citizens to express their interests in the candidates the same way as they are doing on the liquor situation. It would appear that a good many people are interested as to HOW the business is run but they do not give a hoot as to who is running it. Personally, we don't favour the establishment of a cocktail lounge anymore than several other people, but one must admit it would possibly bring a good many American dollars into Jarvis. We can remember a few years back, with the advent of the beverage room, all the dire results which were supposed to occur, but we don't know of many accidents, murders, divorces, or bankruptcy's that can be blamed on the local beverage room. One has only to think back a few more years when the younger generation was protected from the evil influence of beverage rooms, as the kids just hiked off to the nearest bootleggers. Of course they had more privacy there but we imagine more than one outstanding citizen would have received quite a jolt if he could have seen some of his precious offspring, doing a swan dive out of the back door and over the fence, at a blind pig, while the guardians of the law came in the front.

Just as a suggestion, we would say let everyone stand well back and let the people of Jarvis decide for themselves on February 3rd. We think they are capable.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

January 19, 1949

The Editor,
"The Jarvis Record"

Dear Sir:

There are two foundations for the belief which I hold "that every effort will be put forth to make cocktail bars the social clubs for the young people over twenty-one within Jarvis District." Your readers may be interested to know these reasons.

1. All profit from the liquor traffic comes finally from the consumers. Let us take the case of two moderate drinkers. The one who begins at twenty-one and drinks moderately for forty years, is twice as profitable to the trade as the one who begins at middle life and drinks moderately only twenty years. It is simply common sense business on the part of the liquor retailer, "to catch 'em young and keep 'em coming," if he can.

2. This is the published policy of the liquor traffic. The "Brewers Magazine", May, 1941 stated: "One of the finest things that could have happened to the brewing industry was the insistence of high ranking officers to make beer available at army camps. The opportunity presented to the brewing industry by this measure is so obvious that it is superfluous to go into detail. Here is a chance for brewers to cultivate a taste for beer in millions of young men who will eventually constitute the largest beer consuming section of our population." This policy, if good for brewers, is just as good for distilleries. In fact, it is absolutely essential for the continuance of the liquor traffic beyond one generation of drinkers. The old ones must be replaced by new ones.

Finally, the way to get new customers is to make all the circumstances surrounding the handling of liquor as attractive as possible. Men are always willing to spend money to make money.

Yours truly,
—W. H. FULLER

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

The recent lifting of the ban making it legal to manufacture and sell oleomargarine in Canada presents a grave challenge to our dairy farmers. Labourers, professional and business people also will suffer if the curtailment of income if the farmer is forced to lower his standard of living. As a dairy farmer, I am with alarm the coming of this imitator, and unfair competitor.

As a student of economics, I feel that few of us can be too well informed on the stand taken (or not taken) by our three major political parties on this issue.

The following is the C.C.F. platform adopted at their last National Convention in Winnipeg, August, 1948:

1. The stabilization of the dairy industry, thereby encouraging production, by:

(a) a long-term program relating farm production costs;

(b) regional marketing of all products produced, through producer-controlled pools;

(c) direct sale of milk by the producer according to demand and price in various markets, e.g., fluid milk, cheese, concentration plants, etc.;

(d) Payment to the producer according to grade and not according to ultimate use;

(e) Joint producer-consumer stores or co-operatives, so that surpluses may accrue to these groups instead of profits going to speculators.

2. The payment of a subsidy to reduce the price of butter to the consumer.

3. The importation of New Zealand butter, if and when Canadian butter production is inadequate.

4. The importation and manufacture of margarine exclusively by a Crown company, so that the quality and price may be regulated according to the needs of the dairy industry and the consumer.

Cocktail Bars in Jarvis

I.—JARVIS CHILDREN.

Everyday you see our children playing on the main streets of Jarvis. These Provincial Highways carry heavy traffic the year around.

Liquor lounges here will be patronized mostly by people arriving in automobiles. They will depart in cars driven by drinking drivers.

"Alcohol and gasoline do not mix." Lounges increase traffic hazards.

Sober drivers need care to avoid hitting your child.

Drinking drivers have less ability to be careful.

Mothers, Fathers, Neighbors ! Put X after "NO" and lessen the risk to Jarvis children.

II.—THE YOUTH OF JARVIS DISTRICT.

Any cocktail bar in Jarvis will be glamorous — soft lights, gleaming chromium, colorful leather — liquor served with skilled and flattering deference — sophisticated atmosphere set up as a bait.

Youth naturally flocks together, choosing some center for its social life.

We believe every effort will be put forth to make cocktail bars the social clubs for the young people over twenty-one within Jarvis District.

Fathers, Mothers, Friends ! Put X after "NO" and keep this temptation from our Village.
