Softball Notes

Hello again softball fans. The Erie League is winding up its schedule this week and Lamba have already clinched first place. Selkirk, Nanticoke and Port Dover are the other three teams in the playoffs but as yet they haven't decided their playoff positions. It is hoped to get the playoffs under way the week after this possibly August 1st. However it may be settled by the time the paper goes to press.

We don't remember a season when the teams in the playoffs were more evenly matched than this. All four teams have won a game and lost one to another during the season.

Port Dover and Lamba played one of the better games of the season the other night with Port Dover winning four to two.

Speaking of the Erie League, we had a meeting of the executive a few weeks ago to decide where two players were going to play. Following the decision of the executive, they must continue to play where they were the one player and the management of the team seeking his advice abide by the decision.

Imagine our surprise to find ourselves playing against the other player a few nights ago with the team that we were supposed to play with. Apparently some people have no respect for league rulings or D.R.S.A. rulings either.

That was quite a ball game between Jarvis Jills and Selkirk last week. It was unfortunate that one of the main players on the Selkirk team was injured. While we believe Jarvis were on the way to a victory, it would have undoubtedly been much closer if Ruth Gee had been in the lineup. Speaking of injuries, softball costs can be a decided asset to a player but we would urge the players to be very careful with their bodies. It is when they are practically a necessity on some outfields. Why we're still on the subject, we noticed that player that night who was a reality into the Jarvis diamond. This runner is now asking for trouble.

We recall seeing a crucial run in a playoff game, travel in from third base although the shortstop hadn't touched the runner, but nevertheless he was occupying the base. What was the umpire's side of the question all season and urging players to take their decisions gracefully. We were caught flat footed the night when we blew up over a decision. However, we still think there should have been tossed out of the game. We don't know whether the ump took our advice or not, but he did have a already several thousand miles from here.

Jarvis Jills and Selkirk Ladies played in another thrilling ball game on Tuesday night with the Jills winning a twelve to eleven decision. The Jills picked up nine runs in the first inning and Selkirk made a strong comeback and had the tying run in the ninth. Although it was only an exhibition game it drew a good crowd. Selkirk fans really deserved credit as they follow their team over the league circuit. The Jills played Thursday night at Selkirk and won a good battle to keep the street clean in front of their places of business. The suggestion has much merit and it would be a fine thing if this could be accomplished without the necessity of a by-law.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Christie have been faithful members of the Garnet United Church since their marriage. We join with their many friends in the congratulations due this highly esteemed and respected couple.

Charles Bier, Jr., is the possessor of a "Royal" Elk head which he had mounted after he shot the animal in the Rocky Mountains while on a big game hunt in the fall of 1945. The animal is larger than the span of a man's arms and is a model of perfection. There are six points on each side.

The mounted head came into his possession on Monday when it was shipped here from a taxidermist in Alberta. The formation of the antlers are so perfect that veteran big game hunters classify it as a "Royal Head". Charles has already had many tempting offers for his trophy with Mr. and Mrs. Christie as guests of honor.

The animal was shot in the fall of 1945 when Charles went on a big game hunt with some friends in Alberta. The hunt took them into the Rocky Mountains where they were successful in securing a number of trophies. Charles has been hunting big game for over twenty years and he has never seen a head like it. He also said that the animal, which was an old bull undoubtedly making his way into the hills to die.

It is a pity that there will be many stories from the local deer hunters in circulation from now on — especially in the presence of Charles Bier. He's in a class by himself.
