According to the sports editor there must be a general phobia some sort regarding baseball or softball uniforms. We never suspected the girls could ever be counted in that group who like to hoard up uniforms. Maybe the suggestion, however, is unfair. It could be just an oversight and the uniforms will be available when they are needed.

We make no hesitation in making known that we can now be counted among that group who will have no part whatsoever in supplying uniforms for local softball or baseball teams in Jarvis. It cannot be said we have never made any such contributions in the past because we have—plenty. But it is altogether too apparent the uniforms were either received with the spirit in which they were given and until that situation is rectified, we are showing ourselves entirely from such moves in the future.

It seems when foodlights were installed in Jarvis too many of those who enjoyed their benefits failed to appreciate the purpose for which they were intended. The only interest in sport, apparently is to play on a winning team and listen to the cheers from judging bleachers on an amateur play. We have yet to see a local performer that would rate better than amateur standing and consequently that is the spirit in

Learning Business Practice

In Ontario the wheels of industry turn for the benefit of every single one of us. Our lathes, dynamos, drill presses, farm combines, tractors, business machines, etc. are producing goods and services which earn dollars. These dollars provide food, clothing, medical care and other necessities which contribute to our security and high standard of living. Every single one of us, therefore, has a very personal interest in the flow of a steady supply of trained workers to industrial plants. These workers will operate machines which are important to our way of life.

We should appreciate, then, the co-operative efforts of government, industry and labour in the field of employee training. In schools and in factories our workers, young and old, are given the opportunity to develop new and specific skills in every field of business and industrial activity. For instance, every effort on the part of office workers to become proficient in typing, filing, shorthand and secretarial work, will mean greater business efficiency—will help to make Ontario a finer place in which to live and work.

Our Way of Life Rewards Trained Hands

Ontario workers know they can earn more, have executive responsibility and enjoy a higher standard of living in direct ratio to the skills they acquire and the way they make use of them. That's always true in a free economy—that's why our competitive system will continue to make Canada great and a great place in which to live.
