Merry Christmas, Everybody!!

We have an apology to make. The name of the "Neighborhood News" Commentator is not Don Fairbairn—its Don Fairbairn. We were corrected by one of his faithful listeners (from the Jarvis Area) who was more than slightly peeved at us for misspelling his name. We were corrected right after the broadcast last Sunday morning when it seems he referred to us in a more kindly vein than was the case on the previous Sunday. But we missed it again. After throwing off the quilts at an earlier hour to stoke up the Church furnace we crawled back under again with every intention of tuning in on "Neighborhood News" at ten o'clock. Instead of awakening at ten o'clock we went fifteen minutes past the hour and were aroused (as usual) by the changing of the telephone with news from a fresh batch of listeners of this, apparently, favorite news broadcast. For those who haven't been listening regularly we would suggest they join the editor next Sunday morning at 10 A.M. and listen in to find out what this is all about.

We have often been asked what the Board of Trade is in Jarvis. Well, besides the honour of being the smallest municipality in Canada with a chartered Board of Trade, which is honor enough in itself to support the organization wholeheartedly, the Board of Trade has many marks to its credit. Anyone with any doubts in this connection should attend one of the Christmas Children's parties in the Town Hall which is sponsored entirely by the members of this organization. Just stand for a half hour or so and watch the little children walk up and receive a bag of candy if you don't think this effort is worthwhile. If you are not convinced then—well, we doubt if there is any good or would make you think any effort in the world was worthwhile.

Friday is an important day in the community. Annual nomination meetings will be held for Walpole

Township and the Village of Jarvis. It is an important day because the people will select from among their peers the men and (women) who will administer public affairs for their behalf for the ensuing twelve months. When we say the people we mean that group who, year after year, recognize their responsibilities and get out to make this selection. We don't mean that group who regard this event as something far removed from them personally and never entertain the thought that they have a responsibility in this regard. Democracy would work much better if the second group would change their ways.

One thing about being a made in the elimination of overdue excitement arising from wondering what is in the Christmas parcel bearing your name. When you are around for the choice narrows down to a very fine point. When those near and dear to you and even those who may feel obligated to select a gift for you start out on their Christmas shopping expedition they may have the very best intentions but before they go very far they can only associate you with one gift—yes you guessed it a TIE. In order to properly impress you with the spirit behind the gift the donor could hardly be expected to select a tie of a plain hue so you could wear the tie and get some use out of it. Rather, in keeping with the spirit of the season, only those creations incorporating all colors of the rainbow seem fitting for the occasion. Yes, you guessed it that is exactly what TIE they pick out and it represents in the dresser drawer until next someone else. But its really not the color that counts. It's the spirit of the thing, and don't think we don't like it.

RETURNS HOME

The many friends in this district of Mrs. Peter Henderson, will be pleased to learn she was able to return to her home in Hamilton on Friday, December 1st, after being confined to the Sanatorium.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of the late Rev. Gerrit Lyzenga and the family of the Rev. John Ehlers unite in expressing their thanks to the Christian Reformed Church and the community for the many acts of kindness performed and the words of comfort spoken at the time of the recent accident involving both families during the sad bereavement of the Lyzenga family, and the continued illness of the injured. We are especially grateful for the fine services rendered by the Doctors and nurses, the Police Force, the Rev. Fuller and his congregation, the Rev. Fuller and his congregation, the Rev. Fuller and his congregation, as well as the Home's Funeral Home. The flowers were also appreciated.
