ANNE HIRST
Your Family Counselor

Dear Anne Hirst: "What can you do with a husband that is never satisfied?"

"We've been married 12 years. My husband has nagged me through them all. I do everything he asks me to, and try so hard to please him. But it is no use."

"In all our married life, I have never been allowed to choose my own clothes. He always makes me buy what he likes. When it is anything for the house, he has to ask his sisters' opinions first; if they like it, he'll get it. He likes company and we have a lot. I'm considered a good cook and everybody enjoys coming here—but his constant nagging spoils everything for me."

"He is careless with his clothes, throwing them on the floor, or hanging them on doorknobs. Then he gripes because I don't keep the house straight! I do keep it straight—until he gets home."

INTERFERING FAMILY
"We have a daughter three years old. We never see eye to eye in correcting her. He thinks I should spank her for every little mistake. I've tried both ways and find I can do more with her by talking nicely. Then he tells me how his sisters think she should be brought up."

"My nerves are giving way under all this contention. He has to have his way in everything. I have been told he has always been this way, from a little boy."

"I never tell my folks how he treats me. I don't think it's right. You should work things out together. Can you advise me?"

NERVE-WRACKED
* It is a big job to change a man's nature after being married 12 years. But you can try.
* A wife has some rights, after all. It is time to assert yours.
* Your husband must be made to understand that you will not go on being treated like a worm.

* You must stand up for your own judgment in choosing your clothes and the furnishings of your home. And you will not put up any longer with his family's interference in the training of your little girl.
* Promise to talk things over with him, consulting his tastes and opinions. Put you will expect him to listen to yours too, and weigh them honestly.
* Remind him that marriage is not an outlet for the man's authority. It is a partnership between two people who love, and admire each other—who work out their problems with good humor and justice, and who neither seek nor accept outside opinions.
* Marriage can be the most beautiful and thrilling adventure in the world. Yours ceased to be that long ago. Now you are asking him to help you remake it, and you depend on him to do his part.
* If he will not, then you will have to decide your own future.
* Be tactful and gentle. But be firm.

HOW CAN I?

By Anne Ashley

Q. How can I clean a light fur?
A. Mix 1 pint of flour, 3 tablespoons of fuller's earth, and 1 pint of bran. Rub into the fur thoroughly, then shake well, and rub again with bran alone. Shake the fur once more and follow by brushing with a soft clean cloth.

Q. How can I remove the brush- es of my carpet sweeper?
A. Take the brushes out of the sweeper and dip them several times into hot water, to which a little common baking soda has been added. Then let the brushes dry in the sun.

Q. How can I cause the scars from pimples to disappear?
A. Bathe the scars with a solution of boracic acid, followed by an application of zinc ointment.

Q. How can I shrink dress goods?
A. Place the goods folded in a tub of cold water, to which a few handfuls of salt have been added. After a few hours, hang on the line without unfolding. The weight of the salt prevents wrinkles from drying in, and the salt sets the color.

Q. What is a good food for persons suffering from nervous diseases and rheumatism?
A. Celery is excellent. It can be cooked with a cream sauce, or just stewed with a butter sauce. Use it with salads, stewed tomatoes, or stuffings.

Q. How can I improve the flavor of applesauce?
A. Add a few drops of lemon juice. This is especially effective if the apples have a flat taste.

Q. How can I remove Vaseline jelly stains from clothing?
A. Moisten the spots with a mixture of 1 part aniline oil, 1 part powdered soap, 10 parts water. Allow to remain for ten minutes, then wash with water.

Q. How can I add nutritive value to mashed potatoes?
A. Try boiling them in their jackets, then remove the skins, and mash the potatoes until fluffy. What is left over will make excellent potato cakes.

Q. How can I revive the faded colors in a garment?
A. A little vinegar in the rinse water after laundering will help revive the colors.

Q. How can I clean marble?
A. Pound together two ounces of washing soda, three ounces of powdered pumice, and one ounce of powdered chalk; pass this through a sieve. Take a little of the powder and make it into a paste with cold water, rub it over the marble, and when all stains are removed, wash it with soap and water.

CHRONICLES OF GINGER FARM
By Gwendolyn E. Clarke

It's so quiet in the country? So quiet that every noise sounds as if it were broadcast through a microphone. Just dropping off to sleep last night when three things happened at one and the same time. A Deisel engine train blared its way along the track, it might have been heading straight for our bedroom from the sound of it — a four-engine train, they say, that over the house, and Bob drove down the lane with his noisy truck on route. I believe, to help some other fellow, also with a truck, who had slipped into the ditch near our gate. Later there were sounds of trucks in low gear, presumably a tow-truck pulling the other fellow on to the road. So there was plenty of noise for half-an-hour or so, but in the city where there is noise all the time, what I heard would probably never have been noticed at all.

But maybe we had better get ourselves used to noise, because pretty soon there'll be less of it. You see we are right on a partly constructed highway and the equipment has already been assembled for a paving job. Apparently the surface is to be what is known as "hot-mix." Hot mix or cold mix, or anything else, they like to call it all right with us just so long as we get a highway that is free of dust, dips and hollows — which is what we have had for about twenty years, even though this stretch of road has been officially known for that length of time as Highway No. 25. Believe me, however great the noise, it is noise that will be most welcome.

Well, the year is surely speeding away into the limbo of forgotten yesterday. Wonder why time passes so much quicker as we get older. Seems just as if we were travelling in a high-speed vehicle, minus the brakes. And it is such a pity that these lovely days go hurrying by — frosty mornings, bright sunny days — so different from the weather that was handed out during the time the ploughing machine was in progress at Allison. You would think when so much depended on him the weatherman would be a little more co-operative. But he said it rained nearly all the time — and that was one day it was fine down here and we were thinking happily that he had struck a good day.

When Bob spoke of going to the Ploughing Match I happened to say that that was one event I had never yet been to see. Bob told me I wouldn't find anything there that would interest me. I wonder? Seems to me whenever a large number of people get together in one place there is bound to be something interesting all the time. Maybe some of you ladies who do go to the big ploughing matches might like to tell me if I am missing out on something worthwhile. It would be nice to have a few highlights from a woman's point of view. Sometimes our menfolk don't get quite the right slant on just what is likely to interest us. Although I am quite sure that in our younger days I and Partner and I could have gone to a ploughing match together, we wouldn't have had so much trouble in finding a common interest. I know we would have had a good time and found much that was challenging and diverting. But in those days we were so busy making the living we didn't have either the time or opportunity to take in such worthwhile events. Now we are older it would be more of an ad-

New and Useful Too

Spickled Paint
You can now break monotony of a solid-color paint job and avoid using a primer coat at the same time. New paint produces a spickled or broken surface and comes in a wide range of colors. Can be light blue-dark blue, etc. Can be applied with either brush or spray gun and is available in flat, gloss and semi-gloss.

Glass Yacht
Made of a composition of glass fibre and resin, new 16-ft. boat weighing only 40 lb. and molded entirely from one piece opens possibility of mass-producing larger sea-going craft. Simple construction involves layers of glass fibre placed over concrete mold resembling an overturned hull. Another mold is laid over top and resin is drawn through the matrix of glass under vacuum. An accelerator added to resin causes it to set after impregnation. Unlike wood, hull will not warp, crack or warp. Fast, and split, crack or warp. Fast, and split, crack or warp. Fast, and split, crack or warp.

Home Safety
A handy fire extinguisher that is inexpensive and easily operated by merely pulling a metal ring and pushing a button. Fire is smothered by 12 to 18 ft. stream of pressurized fluid. Hermetically sealed container holds 16 ounces of fluid, claims to stop gasoline, oil, grease, wood and paper fires in two to 10 seconds without damage to woodwork, draperies, motors, paint, etc.

In a Lather
You can get whipped cream in a matter of minutes with this machine on so many farms it doesn't take too long to get to the churning before and after the history. Certainly there is less help in needed. But I generalize too much. Because we live in a well-populated district, where probably 90% of the farmers have hydro power and can thus make use of labour-saving conveniences. I am afraid I sometimes forget that other more isolated districts still depend on hand power for most of their work, and coal-lamps and lanterns as the only means of illumination to lighten their darkness. But for your consolation let me remind you that the more electrical equipment you have around the more there is likely to be mechanical trouble. If something goes wrong with the milker and you suddenly have to milk by hand it disorganizes your whole day. Or if your electric washer refuses to function you feel it is a major tragedy to finish your washing by hand. And now the hydro rate has gone up — so what? That's another thing you don't have to worry about.

Plastic Mattress
Springless mattress core made of air-filled cubes of vinyl film recently introduced in plastic film. Product weighs about 35 lb. Twin bed size mattress is made up of 136 cubes. In case of air leakage, single cubes can be replaced.

"Rollable" Washer
First all-Canadian automatic washer is equipped with castors for rolling into kitchen, laundry or bathroom. Washer is yard-stick high and can also be permanently installed. Machine has flexible rubber washing sphere with a "humming hand" agitator in a steel container with only one control lever to set. Claimed to use less hot water than other automatic washers; uses seven to nine gallons. Dirty water goes up and out instead of down and through clothes.

Nine-in-One Watch
Campers, Boy Scouts and all outdoor folk will be well equipped with a watchlike gadget worn on the wrist. Device acts as a watch, compass and barometer; operates as a tape measure, ballpoint pen, signalizer and magnifying glass; is complete with Morse Code and constellation data.

Dry Mittens
Wet and snow will not penetrate specially treated mittens, company claims. Fabric is coated with water-resistant, vinyl resin; coating won't crack or peel and is flexible in cold weather. Said to withstand ageing and discoloring, mittens come in children's and adults' sizes.

Battery Caps
Water level in your auto battery corresponds with the water level in new transparent polycarbonate caps. When water is low a battery it is indicated on set of globular filler caps.

Spectators' Special
Rugby fans will go for this versatile article—a cushion, seat cover and rug, all in one. A zippered case of water- and abrasion-resistant vinylite plastic with a shoulder strap for easy carrying, compactly holds a rug and acts as a cushion. Take the rug out and case can be a seat cover.

Tired Aching Tender Feet
Four feet may be so tender and inflamed that you think you can't go another step right into the flesh. You feel sick all over the pain and torture, you'd give anything to get relief. TABLE TALKS

By Jane Andrews

Although the "boughten" kind of last year, doughnuts made in the good old-fashioned "Down East" manner are still popular. Doughnuts are crisp, coated on the outside, soft and delicate within, faintly sweet and spicy.

Unfortunately, they're a bit difficult to make properly, but they're well worth the bother. So here are some hints on their making, together with a really fine recipe. For tender doughnuts, remember the handling that is unsatisfactory as for bread. Plenty of flour on pastry cloth or board facilitates the handling that is unsatisfactory. A fat thermometer registers the right heat — 375 degrees F. Higher than that means doughnuts cook on the outside and within, and lower than that means they become fat — soaked. The sour milk used in this recipe helps for extra delivery in texture and extra richness in flavor.

CHRISTMAS CAKE
2 cups seedless raisins
1 cup currants
1½ cups separated seeded raisins
1½ cups drained red maraschino or candied cherries
1½ cups silvers or chopped mixed candied peels and citron
½ cup cut-up candied pineapple or other candied fruits
1 tsp. finely chopped candied ginger
3 cups sifted pastry flour or 2½ cups sifted hard wheat flour
1½ tsp. Magic Baking Powder
¾ tsp. salt
1½ tsp. ground cinnamon
½ tsp. ground nutmeg
½ tsp. ground ginger
¼ tsp. ground mace
¼ tsp. ground cloves
1 cup butter
1¼ cups lightly packed brown sugar
6 eggs
¾ cup molasses
½ cup cold strong coffee

METHOD
Wash and dry the seedless raisins and currants. Wash and dry the seeded raisins, if necessary, and cut into halves. Cut cherries into halves. Blanch the almonds and cut into halves. Prepare the dates, peels and citron, candied pineapple or other fruits and ginger. Sift together 3 times, the flour, baking powder, salt, cinnamon, nutmeg, ginger, mace and cloves. Add prepared fruits and nuts, a few at a time, mixing until fruits are separated and coated with flour. Cream the butter; gradually blend in the sugar. Add unbeaten eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition; stir in molasses. Add flour mixture to creamed mixture alternately with coffee, combining thoroughly after each addition. Turn batter into a deep 8-inch square cake pan that has been lined with three layers of heavy paper and the top layer greased with butter; spread evenly. Bake in a slow oven, 300°, 2½ to 3 hours. Let cake stand in its pan on a cake cooler until cold. Store in a crock, or wrap in wax paper and store in a tin. A few days before cake is to be cut, top with almond paste and ornamental icing.
