Softball Notes

By Allan Aude

Again, softball fans, we're again for another week and another week things have been rather quiet. We're just beginning to get the hysteria we went through when the Jills made the final put in the game which brought the O.R.S.A. championship to Jarvis. The reason for the delay is not yet but we're hoping to see the Jills in action sometime this week. The Jills have not yet started their season. Likewise the Jills have not yet started their season. Likewise the Jills have not yet started their season.

Nanticoke C.G.I.T.

Start New Season

Nanticoke C.G.I.T. is off to a fine start for the new season. Recently the girls were guests of the W.M. at the home of Mrs. John Hennessey when those who had attended camp took charge of the worship service and then gave interesting and amusing talks about camp life.

Then, too, a gala wienner roast at the home of Mrs. John Hennessey, provided a jovial evening for the group, when all of the girls had great fun singing, talking, and eating. At their annual elections the retiring President, Eleanor Hennessey, has done an excellent job, handed over her responsibilities to the new President, Ruthann Hennessey, as vice president Alice Kitchen as secretary and Donna Lamb, treasurer.

The eighteen members are keenly enthusiastic about their group and have chosen as their autumn project to make diapers to be sent by the Unitarian Services to Europe.

PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Marshall of Fordwich, spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. L. Marshall.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Leathem spent the Thanksgiving week end with friends in Toronto.

Mrs. Freda Welt, of Montreal, Stewards with the Trans-Canada Airlines, spent the week end with her mother here.

Mr. Les Marshall made a business trip to Montreal this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Krouse and son attended Rockton Fall on Monday of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Belbeck spent Sunday in Brantford at the home of the former's sister, Mrs. W. J. Hayhurst.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Belbeck and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Porritt, Marlene and Larry were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Bourne at Grimsby.

Well folks, guess this just about does it for this week. The guest preacher was the Rev. J. S. Harrington, B.A., L.Th. of the Bible Society, Jarvis, Presiding over the service.

Incidentally, last Tuesday's game in Mr. Pleasant's new seven-man football game that we have seen this year and we'll never forget it. However we guess we won't see the eighty mark this season. See you next week folks.

Search Locates Missing Duck

Hunter Reclining On Mattress

When a duck hunter turns up missing there is no reason to automatically assume that he has fallen in a bog hole and drowned, or stepped in a ground-hole and broken his leg, or these things could happen to a duck hunter under extenuating circumstances and if it did it would be duty to find out the truth.

On the other hand a missing duck hunter could be repeating peacefully on the feather tick (duck feathers) in his own home, and completely at peace with the world.

A missing person, it seems, is one whose whereabouts is not known to others who are concerned about locating that particular person.

Late last Saturday afternoon a trio of duck hunters, namely, Allan B. Landy, Bruce Meacham and Jamie Wilson, all local characters, were scanning the skies in the vicinity of the Hagersville Army Camp home to pop off a few more ducks before calling it a day.

For some particular reason they became separated about this time probably because they were each looking in different directions, and when they again focused their eyes in search of themselves, Mr. Landy was missing.

The other two returned to their cars at the road and waited to the point where blood pressures began to rise and fears as to the welfare of their duck hunting companion seemed to demand action.

That was when the reserves were called out.

The reserves included the Jarvis Police Department, The Jarvis Fire Department, The Provincial Police, a posse of fifty local citizens and emergency crews at the Hagersville Army Camp, including crash trucks and ambulances.

Searchlights were brought into play as every square inch of the duck hunting domain was gone over. The searchers sloshed through swamps, scratched their faces and skinned their shins as they pushed through thickets. It seemed hopeless.

It was the Provincial Police, report by Ted Giddens, who finally became the hero of the hour. He phoned Mr. Landy's home and sure enough his man-eating produced the results that the whole countryside had been anxiously trying to produce for two hours.

He was where every good husband should be after the sun goes down—right at home in bed on the duck feather tick.

The moral to this story? Well there just doesn't seem to be one unless it might be "never let a duck hunter turn up missing"—those guys are apt to do anything.

COUNCIL OF THE VILLAGE OF JARVIS

Police and Firemen Are Guests Of Lions

Members of the local and Provincial Police forces as well as members of the Jarvis Fire Department were the guests of honour at the Tuesday night meeting of the Jarvis Lions Club. The guests earned this privilege of good will from the Club by their co-operation and assistance at the annual May 24th celebration.

Lion Chief Dave Banks introduced each of the guests as well as two visiting Lions, Past District Governor Gerald Baulandier of Simcoe and Past President Lion Carl Lutz, of Dunnville.

The guest speaker on Tuesday evening was John W. Sheppard, Solicitor, Jarvis, who has been operating an office in Jarvis on Wednesday for the past year. The speaker introduced his professional associate, Leon A. L. Miller and his address was of extreme interest to his audience. Mr. Sheppard was the top winner with a field score of 86 points and a yield of 52.28 bushels per acre.

Bruce Winley also introduced his professional associate, Mr. Sheppard was the top winner with a field score of 86 points and a yield of 52.28 bushels per acre.
