The Wainwright (Alta.) Chronicle points out that a substitute is needed for the old time shoe that used to keep a boy busy. As a substitute it recommends a job after school hours.

The boy who has a demanding job is not so apt to go wrong as one with no employment. The very limitation of a boy's free time incline him to put what he has to healthy use. Idleness is a fruitful source of trouble at all times and work, if it has some obvious purpose, is an antidote for almost everything that may ail an energetic person. It is an idea as I can of the set up in Korea.

Well folks, I will close for now with a prayer and a hope in my heart to return again to the best town in the world.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Fort Lewis, Washington, April 15, 1951

To the Editor, Jarvis Record: I am writing this short letter in hopes that it will find everybody in Jarvis.

I am writing this short letter in hopes that it will find everybody in Jarvis. I am writing this short letter in hopes that it will find everybody in Jarvis.

I will write and give you as good an idea as I can of the set up in Korea. Well folks, I will close for now with a prayer and a hope in my heart to return again to the best town in the world.

I remain as ever, MAX McMILLEN normal rate of consumption and pay another twelve or fifteen dollars a year into the federal treasury through the cigarette tax. We hesitate to quit entirely because the idea might take hold and everyone would quit. Since Mr. Abbott expects to take in an additional eight or nine millions through the increase alone, the move would definitely result in a deficit at the end of the year.

One thing you can say about Mr. Abbott he is not one to present a budget with any possibility of ending up with a deficit. As a matter of fact he is always extremely pessimistic with regard to anticipated revenue and likes to end up with two or three hundred million surplus.

Three hundred million surplus. A surplus is always handy when it comes to paying off taxpayers by means of a subsidy payment of some kind.

The wheat growers in western Canada aren't satisfied with the $65 million gift from the public treasury. They want it boosted to $200 million. Next time we bet on four acres and get beat out on a straight flush we're going to demand our money back.
