A friend sends us a cure for peptic ulcer, which he clipped from a U.S. Journal, and which is recommended by an eminent physician. This doctor says there are many treatments that might be used but bed rest alone improves the ulcer condition. The best results, he says, follow when the patient stays in bed for about three weeks at a time. That sounds to us like a darn good treatment.

Guy Leathong is his old self again after a sojourn in Hospital. He also gave us some free verbal advice on peptic ulcer cure yesterday morning. Says Guy: "the only thing to do with that disease is go to the hospital and have your stomache cut out. Without a stomache you couldn't possibly have stomache ulcers." The bed treatment sounds the most appealing to us. But what are we worrying day of rest for Canadian works. have stommene uncers. The bed ing performed by this organization treatment sounds the most appealing to us. But what are we worrying about! We haven't had any sign of peptic ulc r since we made the mistake of suggesting we might be lack-tise the day for worship, rest and culin this conflict and I may safely say that this cemetery is the most beautistiful spot in Korea. It is lined with fags of every nation and has the only green grass in Korea. Up to date there are only thirty-three Canadian graves there. But this still rerves as a grim reminder of the injustice of war.

THOMPSON—MILLS

A lovely spring wedding took place at Wesley United Church, Jarvis, on Saturday, May 26th, when Barbara Ann, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Walter Mills, of Jarvis, was united in marriage to Frederick James Thompson, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Thompson, of Sekirk, Rev. R. J. Irwin officiated.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, looked lovely in a long gown of white lace over sa'tin with net train and finger tip veil of nylon net and lace. The veil was held in place by a headdress of seed pearls. She also wore a set of earrings, the gift of the groom. Her flowers were white roses and gardenias.

The bridesmaid Miss Eva Gabor, of Hamilton, wore a long gown of Hamilton, wore a long gown of Hamilton, wore a long gown of Hamilton. She wore a long dress of yellow taffeta with a headdress of seame material and carried a nose gay of pink rosebuds.

The groomsman was Mr. Keith Thompson, of Caledonia, brother of the groom and the ushers were Mr. Jules Bertrand, of Hamilton and Mr. Robert Thompson, of Waterford, also a brother of the groom.

The Church was prettily decorated with baskets of roses and spring flowers. Miss Meta MacMurchy presided at the organ and the soloist was Miss Norms Stire.

Mr. Harrison Arrell in thanking the speaker, spoke appreciatively of the address and also related to the men some of the history of the Paristor of York, which was extremely interesting. Archdeacon R. C. Blagrave also stated that he was very happy to be able to meet the men of the Deanery once again. He enlight end the men on his task as Hospital Chaplain at the Sanitorium and stated that he has an Anglican congregation of two hundred in that institution. Canon Wase then spoke briefly and remarked that men should be diligent readers of Church periodicals.

The meeting was closed by the Ven Banyliellon.

BANFIELD-AWDE

BANFIELD—AWDE

On May 19th, at Chalmer's Presbyterian Church, Rev. W. H. Fu''er officiated at a double-ring ceremony in which Edna Lillian, eldest daughter of Mrs. Awde and the late Harold Awde, was united in marriage to Gordon Clarke, son of Mr. Warren Banfield and the late Mrs Banfield. Given in marriage by her brother Richard Awde, the bride was gowned in a white lace street-length dress with a fingertip veil and carried a bouque, of "ad roses and white carnations. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Betty Taylor, gowned in pale green satin. Elaine Clarke, niece of the groom, acted as flower girl, dressed in blue. Both carried roses and carnations. Mr. Sam Ross, of Port Dover, was best man.

Ushers were Keith Banfield and Abraham Taylor. Before and following the ceremony, Mrs. Jack Clarke of Brantford cousin of the bride, sang "Because" and "Always" accompanied by Mrs. Elva Waiker of Nanticoke.

Following a small reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Perley of Paris, spent Sunday at the home of the former's niece, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Belbeck.
