On the Farm Front

BRIEF NOTES FOR THE BUSY FARMER

— By Haldimand Harry —

Why do farmers not support their own organizations? Even after ten years or more of work in an effort to get farmers to work together it has again been found that farm folk do not seem inclined to do very much even to help themselves. Recently it seems a letter and a card were sent to a branch of the industry with the suggestion that the card be sent back supporting a certain project. It was found in most cases that 10 per cent or less of the cards were returned.

Just about the same response was received from another and similar proposition when a group of farmers it is about time to think about mul- were asked if they wished to have their name added to a list of those to receive a certain monthly publi- cation with no cost to themselves. Only between 8 and 10 per cent of the cards were returned. This sort of thing is watched by those in au- thority and is often used as an index of the number of farmers interested in their own organizations. To say the least it is not a very good index.

Butler production during Septem- ber was just about the same this year as it was a year ago. During the current year some 95,457 pounds were made in Haldimand County as compared with 93,792 pounds during the same month last year. The ac- cumulated production for the nine months this year is 1,180,253 pounds as compared with 1,227,170 pounds during the same period a year ago.

Just the same picture holds for the butter situation in the province as a whole.

If you have a bed of strawberries it is about time to think about mul- ching it for winter protection. This operation should take place after the plants have hardened off but before any damage is done by severe frost. Long poles or branches of trees are used to keep the straw from blowing away. Leaves do not make the best mulch as they tend to smother the plants.

It is time too, to give some pro- tection to young fruit trees in order to avoid damage by mice. All leav- es, litter and other rubbish should be cleaned away for at least two feet from the trees. All sucker growth as compared with 1,227,170 pounds during the same period a year ago.

wire mesh at least two feet high may be placed around the tree, extending down to root level. Embedding the base of the wire in crushed stones or cinders will give added protection as mice will not burrow in this mater- ial.

This is the time of year when rats tend to invade the barns and stables. It has recently been estimated that it costs the farmer $2.00 a year to keep one rat. Three rats will eat and destroy as much feed as would be re- quired by two laying hens in one year. It is time therefore to start a program of control. Just remem- ber that for every one rat that you see there is likely to be another four or five around the premises. This costs money and we cannot af- ford to keep them around as boarders.

THE WEEKLY SAY
MAJOR PROBLEM
Newfoundland industry which on- ly now is catching up with progress, is facing a new threat to its exist- ence: a proposal that freight rates be equalized throughout Canada.

—Port Union (Nfld.) Fishermen's Advocate

UP TO VOTER
The necessary machinery is pro- vided to see that no eligible voter is deprived of a vote but in the final analysis the onus is on the individual to check and make sure his or her name is on the (voters' list).

—Barrie (Ont.) Examiner

PREVENTION IS BETTER
With so many of our citizens and visitors starting carefree trips that end in bodily harm in twisted steel, it is time the roads be cleared of careless drivers before their first accident. Their inconsiderate rates very low in comparison with the lives they might take.

—Little Current (Ont.) Manitoulin Expositor

SWELL WITH CRACKERS
No one phase of industry in this country better illustrates the econ- omic and population changes that have taken place within the past 75 years than does our cheese industry. Today-Canadians are eating well over 60,000,000 pounds yearly.
