It is being fr ely predicted that the industrial part of Ontario will double in population during the next thirty years. In fact, Dr. Pleva of the University of Western Ontario made this statement when speaking to the annual meeting of Zone 2 of the Ontario Conservation Association last week. Furthermore, Dr. Pleva said this increase would take place entirely in the urban centres. In other words the rural and farming population is likely to remain about where it is now. That being the case there will be a tremendous increase in the demand for the products of the farm with little or no increase in the amount of help to produce them. That in turn means that farmers will be called upon to increase their efficiency as never before.

-OOLong range forecasters predict that between now and 1960 we, in this part of Ontario are likely to see drier and more prolonged dry spells than we have during the past few years. It appears that we are currently on the dry side of the cycle. This means that increased efforts will be necessary to conserve water supplies in order to have enough to go around The water table seems to be lowering and conservation principles will have to be invoked in order to build hem up.

-OOCreamery butter production in Hal dimand is up again. According to the latest report the production during August 1951 was 119,768 lbs. as sompared with 109,966 lbs. during the same month last year. However, the cumulative total for the eight months ending with August 1951 was 10,86,796 lbs. and almost fifty thousand pounds below the same period of a year ago.
