UNITY IS STRENGTH
 Acting separately, the eastern provinces of Canada have been unable to get anything like their share of industries or public monies from the central government. Now, acting together, they might be able to exert the necessary pressure to assure Parliament a brighter future than is sometimes apparent.

Pen, Scissors and Paste

After reading what Clyde Corrigan has to say about the weather out on Vancouver Island, and after enjoying the weather we have been enjoying here for the past few weeks, we can only conclude that Clyde made a grave error in ever leaving the garden of Eden. Of course we are not naive enough to think that this kind of weather can last, but the prospect of enjoying something like this even for a few weeks of the year is enough to compensate for the damp, cold days preceding winter.

There is a strong possibility that by the time this appears in print, we will be experiencing at first hand the climate in Ontario's northland. The Northland weather is at its best the latter part of October. We would be further changed this week by the removal of a house from the corner of Main and Peel Streets and by the removal of a few trees and several large branches of other trees. It has been something like a house-cleaning and we will, no doubt, become used to it in time. We think it would be a good idea for the Board of Trade to promote a general smartening up of the whole town for ourselves. We have invented little modernizing would give this gated weather in the Northland almost every other month of the year and have found it to be excellent. We mustn't overlook October however. Besides they say the deer season opens in a few days and it is a long time since we have tried our trusty rifle and with meat the price it is and a family to feed.

The Union leaders say that they don't like to take things for granted, they deduct union dues from our members and give the money to us, or we won't let our members work for you. The em- to advantage.

Owners in the mines at any rate say: you go to the devil and collect your own union dues. So the Union leaders stop the men from working and sit back and continue to draw their salaries. It doesn't hurt them. It doesn't hurt the mine owners because their product is safe if stored away. It does hurt the employees, however, whose weekly pay cheque stops when work stops. The demand for the check-off is as absurd as unreasonable as anything can get. It is wrong in principle, it is wrong in practice. It is a vicious thing when the daily living of men can be denied by the unavoidable demands of a few individuals.

The appearance of Main Street has been further changed this week by the removal of a house from the corner of Main and Peel Streets and by the removal of a few trees and several large branches of other trees.
