ANY BACKWARD CITIZEN CAN RUIN

5,000) have formed an association for the industrial development of their town, certainly one of the most beautiful in Canada, and as a start raising a fund of $75,000 to buy two and a half acres of industrial land and a factory which stands on it.

The Perth Courier has strongly supported the project but comments editorially in a recent issue that "no space at all has been devoted to suggestions for the reader whose ambition is to do nothing for his community." The paper then proceeds to list 13 pointers on town planning, "designed especially for the backward citizen" as follows: I. Don't pay taxes. Let the other fellow pay his. Vote against taxes. Then fuss because the streets are not kept up.

2. Never attend any of the meeting's called for the good of the town. Wait until you get outside and then cuss those who made the suggestions. Find fault with everything that

3. Get all the town will give you, and don't give anything in return. Write unsigned letters to the editor demanding more for your tax

4. Talk co-operation, but don't do any thing for your town unless you get paid for it.
And by all means refuse to serve unless you are 5. Never accept an office. It's easier to criticize than do things. Accuse anybody who serves in an elected office of being a publicity

6. Don't do any more than you have to. When others willingly and unselfishly give their time to make a better town, howl because that

7. Don't back your fire or police departments. If the firemen work to bring the insurance rates down, tell everybody that is what they are supposed to do. Don't thank them or the policemen for endangering their lives that you might have a safer town in which to live. Demand special treatment; raise cain if anybody expects you to obey traffic and parking

8. Look at every proposition in a selfish way. If you are not the one that gets the most good out of it, vote against it. Never 9. Don't do anything for the youth of the town. Criticize them as potential delinquents. Keep your feet on them. Encourage them to move away when they grow up. 10. If you have good town leaders, don't follow them. Take a jealous attitude and talk down everything they do. 11. Don't work on any committee. Tell them "I'm too busy." 12. Don't say anything good about your town. Be the first to point out its shortcom-Pretend that if trouble comes your way it will be residents of some other town who will visit you while you are ill, bring in the fire detment if your home is burning, comfort you if you lose a dear one, stand back of you in dis-

13. And don't support your local retail stores and industries. Claim the prices and services in stores in other towns are better. Claim industry hurts the town. But if you need a donation, ask your local stores and industries for it. Expect them to back you, but don't back them.

If these 13 steps don't ruin your town, it isn't the fault of the backward citizen. At least he can be sure he did his damnedest. NOTE. The above appeared in a recent issue of the Municipal World.

Every man's affairs, no matter how little, are important to himself. -Samuel Johnson

PERPETUAL PROSPERITY --

WE LIVE IN AN AGE of mechanical miracles, but so far science has not solved the age-old problem of perpetual motion. That problem engaged the minds, mostly of crackpots, trying to generate a power that would continue of itself indefinitely by means of me-chanism or the application of the force of gra-

But the curiosity and ingenuity of mankind know no bounds, and the latest search is for perpetual prosperity that would generate and maintain itself with the minimum of effort and the manipulation of "purchasing power." The latest proposal for achieving perpetual prosperity is annual wage guarantees, the advocates of which contend that if every employer were forced to keep on paying employees whether they were working or not, the national income would be maintained, sales volume for business collectively would hold up, and hence there would not have to be any lay-offs. That sounds sim- viewed by a white explorer 275 years ago. ple enough, but the unpleasant question arises

THE HOUSEWIFE'S LOT --

"I FEEL that a lot of people who have never tried running a house don't realize that it is a lonely business, and that if you live your life more or less within the four walls of your home, it is very easy to get things out of proportion, to work yourself into a state of real anxiety over things that aren't worth that degree of feeling - the paint peeling from the kitthen walls or a crack in one of the best teacups. The view from the sink is narrow and the conersation of the sink is dull and depressing. I cel that husbands and children ought to be able to enjoy the company of their wives and their mothers, and not merely to depend on them for physical well-being, and that contact with the

to succeed Pierre Laniel.

He is a bold and unorthodox man. When he sought his first vote of confidence he promised to resign if he could not reach an honorable settlement in Indo-China within four weeks. The vote was 419 to 47.

The Indo-China cease-fire was arranged at Geneva, and Mendes-France had an energetic part in the work, negotiating directly with China's Chou-en-ai and Russia's Molotov, amid conferences with the British and Americans.

He returned to Paris to win an overwhelming endorsement for drastic economic proposals. Mendes-France has long wanted fundamental reforms to revitalize France's economy, not make they will let their County Council representatives know they do not want a lot of money spent on a needless hearing in order to settle the matter of County Equalization.
