PERSONALS

G. Richardson officiating. The Godparents are Mr. and Mrs. Fred B. Weir.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Belbeck spent Thursday with relatives in Hamilton.

Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Smith, Sr. were dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Reichold on evening last week.

Recent findings of a Gallup Poll suggest that the more a Province spends on Education, the less its people know - or care - about public affairs. The poll found that in B.C. which spends more per capita on schools than any other Province, has the lowest proportion of people who can name their M.P. - 52 per cent. The highest proportion, 81 per cent, is reached in the Maritime, which spends the lowest amount per capita on schools.

The Canadian Government has bluntly refused to help New Brunswick on the St. John River, which according to New Brunswick officials will "virtually revolutionize" that Province's industrial future by bringing down present high cost of power. Against this figure it may be noted that during the fiscal year just ended, Ottawa pumped $12.6 million to New Brunswick in the form of Old Age Pensions, $14.7 million in the form of baby bonuses, making a total of $27.3 million. Ottawa would never consent, states the Letter-Reviewer, to give Provinces for development purposes, money it now pours into them for "social welfare." But it would be far better off if that were the case, and would have far less need for social welfare.

Tom McCall's name can be added to the list of local boys who have made good. During the past two decades, particularly Tom has held many important positions of trust and responsibility. His new appointment as Director of Public Relations for the Chrysler Corporation is a further challenge to his capabilities and one that he will meet with the same determination and skill that has marked his career to the present time.

The Canada Trust Bulletin points out that charitable foundations exist in several Canadian cities which can prove very helpful to communities in the future. This leads us to believe that every municipality in Canada might well establish a Charitable Foundation, providing some philanthropic person might start it. Then people might be encouraged to consider bequeathing a sum when they depart this sphere to the foundation for the future development of the municipality. The fund could be administered by the elected representatives of the people and used primarily for educational and cultural advancement.

THE HUSBAND'S COMPLAINT

The woman thinks she's overworked. When she must do the dishes. But if she had to do our jobs. She sure would have some wishes.

She'd wish for air conditioned barns. She'd wish with automatic taps. On cows that take so long to milk. From tails she'd get some raps.

We like to watch the T.V. set. The mysteries and the fights. But in comes wife with a broom. To set the place to rights.

When we get the Jarvis Record. She grabs it just to see. If her name is in the personals. And to see who had a tea.

But when I finally get a chance. At the ads to get a look. She has the back page all cut up. To use in her scrap book.

A wife is so much bother. But when I stop to think. What would I do without her. When the stove goes on the blink?

By Judy Fess

THE LIFE OF A WIFE

It's dusting, scrubbing all day long. The reward we never get. Oh, how my life has seemed. When I'm 7 and I first met.

The washing and ironing have to be done. And Junior's nowhere to be seen. Besides the house needs dusting and Oh life! It seems so mean.

But we wives never mention it. While our husbands take their leave. To lead a quiet business life. While we stay home and grieve.

What shall I get for supper? Oh dear! There is no meat. The fridge, it looks so empty. What ever shall we eat?

So wives of Jarvis district. A request I'd like to make. Does Marten-Dietrich dish men's socks? And all day does she bake?

These problems, and a great deal more. Appear to wives each day. But all these things we have endured. No matter what we say.

FOR YOUNG MEN OF 16
Apprentice Training for a Bright Future

Combines thorough trades training, schooling, sound discipline, with understanding of the spirit of youth and you have the elements of the Canadian Army's Soldier Apprentice Plan for young men of 16. The Soldier Apprentice training is designed to enable young men to gain promotion to higher ranks in the Army.

The young men who are accepted for Soldier Apprentice training receive:

• thorough trades training in one of 16 trades.

• academic training — comparable to that received in secondary schools.

• the general military training of the Canadian soldier.

Soldier Apprentices are eligible for all Army benefits, including 30 days annual leave. They receive half pay when 16 and on their 17th birthday they receive full pay.

To be eligible, the young man must be at least qualified for high school entrance. He must have attained his sixteenth but not his seventeenth birthday.

Courses begin in September but applications are now being received. Following interviews, the applicants may be accepted after June 1st and then sent home on leave until courses commence in the fall.

To obtain an interesting booklet and full information on the Soldier Apprentice Plan, write, phone or visit the Army Information Recruiting Centre nearest your home.

"Careful, Pauline!"

Of course no one would dream of climbing a telephone pole without being especially careful. Yet every time you climb a shaky ladder or stand on a rickety chair you may not realize what a big chance you're taking. Actually more people have accidents right at home than anywhere else.

By avoiding accidents you save more than suffering and worry — you save money, too! In a family the size of ours (we're now over 31,000), these savings are important. That's why our employees are not only thoroughly trained to use safety tools and methods, but continually reminded to take every precaution to avoid injury to themselves and others.

It's another way we help keep costs down so we can provide you with the best possible telephone service at the lowest possible cost.

How to prevent home accidents is shown in "Home Safe Home", a poster available free from the Health Department of your Provincial Government or from the Department of National Health and Welfare, Ottawa.
