School Ahead - Go Slow

Have you ever slowed down your car automatically when a road sign warns that there is a school just ahead...

Most motorists have had such an experience. It is an excellent habit to slow down any time you approach a school zone...

Many children have good safety habits concerning traffic instilled into them practically from the time they begin to walk...

Then it's up to the adult motorist to think for the child and himself - to go out of his way, if need be, to ensure the safety of small children.

A total of 184 children under 15 years old were killed in traffic accidents in the Province of Ontario last year, according to figures of the Ontario Safety League.

Our schools, for the most part, are doing an excellent job of training school children to observe proper precautions in traffic.

However, in the last analysis, it is always up to the motorist to exercise the utmost precaution when travelling through an area where there are children playing.

Here are rules for parents and motorists, recommended by the Ontario Safety League:

1. Set children a good example by crossing streets only at intersections, waiting for the signal, looking both ways and turning traffic before crossing.

2. Find out what traffic safety education your children are receiving at school and coordinate it with your own.

3. Impress upon children the danger of playing in the street or near moving traffic. See that they play only in approved play areas.

4. See that children are skilled in using outdoor toys such as roller skates, bicycles, scooters, tricycles and wagons, and that the youngsters practise safety rules when using the toys.

5. Keep a constant lookout for children. Even when children are clearly in view, their actions sometimes are unpredictable.

6. Near school areas be constantly alert for signs, traffic police, signals, school patrols and for children themselves.

7. Decrease speed and increase vigilance when driving near playgrounds and residential areas and other places where children are likely to be found.

8. Don't compete with bike riders. Be ready always to give them the right of way.

9. Exercise special care when backing in an area where children are likely to be playing. It is good practice to get out of your car and make sure there are no children near, immediately before starting to back up.

LABOR DAY - THE LABOR DAY weekend is more than a holiday. It is the end of a season.

Back to school is the theme for families with children. The harvest is foremost in the thoughts of the farmer.

Mixed feelings greet this national holiday. Summer, if it has been favored by fine weather, usually is a happy time, but mothers hurried for two months by restless children are relieved when the time comes to pack the youngsters off to school.

The boys and girls themselves, though vexed in their denials, on the whole are equally happy to be returning to their classes, for reunions with their mates is not for the lessons, which, in their view, are a necessary evil.

The approach to Labor Day is tempered usually by conditions of the past summer. There is reluctance to see a fine summer on the wane, but if rain and cold have predominated the Autumn holds promise of clear, warm days and crisp nights that turn the leaves to crimson and gold.

the spring and continuing into early summer. July and August were more normal but the damage was done, crops were delayed and rust appeared on the wheat.

Spring rain delayed seeding on the Prairies and now, with the late harvest certain, frost may damage crops. Late August rain delayed ripening and prevented machinery getting to the fields.

Cool and wet was the story, too, in British Columbia. There crops are about two weeks late and spring frosts damaged fruit products.

IF WE STOP JOSTLING - By Joseph Lister Rutledge

SOMETIMES it seems that if we were a little wiser we might also be a little more patient. A thousand lecturers and broadcasters have told us of Canada's boundless future.

Every day that passes a thousand new citizens are born in Canada. Every month thirty thousand new young lives. Every month ten thousand new people reach our shores.

The trouble with us is that we don't consider this a personal matter. This growth is a benefit to an intangible "someone else", not ourselves. But we are the beneficiaries.

Settlement of the Assessment problem in Hamilton without going through a costly appeal will have some come news to the taxpayers of the County.

If that is not enough, let us not forget that the matter of equalization on a proper basis and it could be that the municipal government has a major job on its hands.

That's one part of this future we talk about that came home to roost. And why? One reason, one that we seldom mention, is that ten years ago on an average we worked ten hours a week more and earned $5 a week less.

The Duchess of Kent opened a huge new generating station at Niagara Falls Monday, adding a fresh surge of 900,000 kilowatts to Canada's resources of electrical energy.

A week-end jaunt took us five hundred miles northward into what was called the hinterland at the turn of the century. That is no longer so.

The Duchess and her daughter, 17-year-old Princess Alexandra, saw for the first time the wonders of the Niagara River and Falls.

The central position of Ontario and the energy of its people have combined to make it a most vital manufacturing area.

It was anticipated the Mining strike in Timmins last year would have disastrous effect on the economy of the town.

This past summer has been one of varying climates. Maritimers found conditions almost normal, although rain was slightly above average and there was a paucity of heat waves.

Manitoba and northwestern Ontario got off to a poor start, with wet, gusty weather spoiling the spring and continuing into early summer.

Church Vacation School CLOSING The Annual Church Vacation School held at St. Paul's Church for Boys and Girls of the Community closed on Friday night with a record attendance nearing the hundred mark for the week.

The Boys and Girls studied the course in the Armour of God, St. Paul's Epistle to the Ephesians and the closing session took the usual daily pattern of the Worship service and then was followed by an entertainment program.

The pre-school Primary and Junior School sang several numbers they had learned through the week.

Robert Fish, Jill Peresky and Bonnie Banks performed a skit "The Soldier". The Rector welcomed the parents and after the singing of the National Anthem, refreshments were served.

A much appreciated gift was the ice cream which was donated by the United Church of Jarvis.

Through this Church notes column we wish to express a sincere word of gratitude and profound appreciation for the assistance given by the staff, which worked unceasingly to make the effort successful.

The school conducted at Nanticoke a week ago had over forty children in attendance and closed with a weller roast shared jointly by the Anglican and United Church of the community. Again the staff who made the school possible are deserving of the highest tribute of gratitude.

Saving money... and writing cheques

A bank offers you two types of deposit account, Savings and Current. If your main purpose is to save, to accumulate funds, it's good to have a Savings account.

The money you leave in a Savings account earns interest, and your bank book gives you an up-to-date, continuing record of your financial progress.

If you write cheques frequently, you will like the many advantages of a Current account.

mostly by immigrants from far countries. The upper rooms are all rented as offices to accommodate the business overflow from the crowded centre of the city.

But it is the old, old story of the rise and progress of all great cities. Babylon, Rome and London sprang up out of small villages and were built and rebuilt by succeeding generations over hundreds of years.

There is something sadly nostalgic in the sight of an old mansion being torn down, watching the wreckers ripping off the roof, tumbling the brick-work and exposing the skeleton interior with the floral decorated rooms, the empty cupboards, the leaded-windowed alcoves and wide staircases - all of which, if they could speak, could tell many tales of old unhappiness and joyful things of family gatherings long ago.

This morning, on my way to town, I was watching this wrecking process when a young mother with her small boy paused to look on. Turning to the youngster, she said: "See, Jimmie, they're taking the house apart."
