

Both are Super!

"SALADA" TEA & COFFEE

ANNE HIRST Your Family Counselor

"Dear Anne Hirst: I cannot go on this way! If you will advise me, I'll try to do as you say. I am 24, very much in love with a man 30, and we've been engaged over a year. Because of the housing situation he must live in a small house with his sister, a widow with four children under 16. He expects me to live there when we marry. I have thought it out over and over again, and I am convinced it won't work.

"He supports her children as though they were his own, and I expect he will want to continue helping out. They do as they please, and the younger ones aren't even kept clean; their mother is a lazy housekeeper, too. I am the quiet, home-loving type; I don't care for parties or the good times other girls expect.

Sew-Easy Separates

4545 SIZES 2-10 by Anne Adams

Busy mom, whip up these wondrous in a jiffy! Minimum of pattern parts, no darning worries — this was designed for beginners! Princess jumper, box jacket, blouse offer in any changes for Monday-to-Sunday variety. Pattern 4545: Children's Sizes 1, 4, 6, 8, 10. Size 6 blouse 1 yard 35-inch; jumper 1 1/2 yards 35-inch nap; jacket 1 1/4 yards 35-inch.

This pattern easy to use, simple to sew, is tested for fit. Has complete illustrated instructions. Send THIRTY-FIVE CENTS (35c) in coins (stamps cannot be accepted) for this pattern. Print plainly SIZE, NAME, ADDRESS, STYLE NUMBER. Send order to Box 1, 123 Eighth St., New Toronto, Ont.

RAE THE CLYDE TAE, THE ST. LAWRENCE—The new 22,000-ton Cunard liner Saxonia goes through her paces during her recent trials in the mouth of the Firth of the Clyde, Scotland. The Saxonia, largest Cunarder ever built for the St. Lawrence river service.

our engagement, but I love him terribly and it would hurt me deeply. What do you suggest? R. T."

A HOME OF HER OWN

- You two are not adolescents, and probably you could meet almost any hurdle intelligently; but it is foolhardy to walk open-eyed into circumstances so fraught with risks as this one promises. Your fiancé's sister is already mistress of the only home he knows. There would be friction, even if you admired each other warmly. You cannot admire her, and it is not unlikely she resents the very idea of your marriage.
- The housing situation is easing up, I'm told, but it has postponed many a marriage. Yet where there's a will, etc.
- If your fiancé is convinced you will marry him until he can provide a place for the two of you, he will stir his stumps with more vigor and find one.
- Most men are not so sensitive nor imaginative as women, and you may have difficulty in persuading your fiancé to see things your way.
- But he, too, must have done a little thinking about the situation; he should realize that renewed efforts to find living quarters, can make the marriage possible.
- Remind him that you will be content to start modestly and live that way until conditions improve. If you are not working, perhaps you can find a part-time position. That will occupy your mind, and provide for the future—which is always well-come no matter how well off the man is.
- Why consider breaking the engagement? Talk things over, and inspire each other by your mutual love and faith.
- Meeting the facts head-on, together, should make you both admire the other more.

WHAT A RISK!

"Dear Anne Hirst: Four months ago I met a man who had just got his divorce from his third wife; they had been married only a short time. I fell in love, and he claims he loves me. He has taken me everywhere, and brought me lovely gifts. (I hear he is dating another girl, but he denies this.)

"I have been married and divorced, and have a baby! Shall I take this man seriously, or look the field over?"

UNDECIDED

- To marry a man who has had three wives and failed to hold one, is reason enough of itself to wonder what is wrong with him. It certainly does not recommend him as a husband.
- To marry anyone whom you have known only a few months is a terrible chance to take. How can you possibly know whether you two are well suited?
- I'm afraid you are letting your heart rule your thinking. Yes, I know some farmer's wives have that many and possibly more, to feed every day. But at least you are prepared for it. But when there is a family of two, tripling up on a meal isn't so easy, especially for a man who is not a cook.
- Stores were closed. . . had I enough food in the house to feed seven people for dinner? Yes, I know some farmer's wives have that many and possibly more, to feed every day. But at least you are prepared for it. But when there is a family of two, tripling up on a meal isn't so easy, especially for a man who is not a cook.
- Stores were closed. . . had I enough food in the house to feed seven people for dinner? Yes, I know some farmer's wives have that many and possibly more, to feed every day. But at least you are prepared for it. But when there is a family of two, tripling up on a meal isn't so easy, especially for a man who is not a cook.

along with him; this time you want to be very sure the man is responsible and will not let you down. From what you have already heard about this one, you should surely hesitate to take him seriously.

Where love and faith obtain, there is always hope for happiness. If circumstances delay your marriage for instance, face them fearlessly and work things out together. Anne Hirst can be helpful, if you write her at Box 1, 123 Eighth St., New Toronto, Ont.

Time is a queer thing. On a Saturday you often look back and wonder where the week has gone to! Other times the beginning of the week seems such a long way off. But still, fast or slow, time is certainly moving on. The Exhibition is over, fall fairs are coming up, children are back to school, days are getting shorter and all the hundred and one extra jobs we hope to get done before the leaves fall are crowding in on us. Isn't that the way you feel? But cheer up — that sort of feeling is inevitable with the early days of autumn, and yet we always do get through, don't we?

But what is it that makes one week seem longer or shorter than another? You know how it is — sometimes we plan to do this and that, and then, at the end of the week, because of unforeseen interruptions, we find we have accomplished little more than ordinary everyday chores. Isn't it on such occasions that time seems to have slipped away? On the other hand, occasionally — get done even more than we had planned, and then it is we can hardly believe that only a week has gone by. That is what happened around here last week — but it was more by luck than good management. Monday of last week was Labour Day. We were not expecting company so, and we were down to our last kitchen towel and teacloth, I got ready for a big wash. I was usually the first lot ready for the machine when Johnny blew in and announced that he wanted to thresh his field of oats today — the one that he had sown on our farm. Could I feed four or five extra men for dinner? Could I? For a few minutes I was in a dither. Stores were closed. . . had I enough food in the house to feed seven people for dinner? Yes, I know some farmer's wives have that many and possibly more, to feed every day. But at least you are prepared for it. But when there is a family of two, tripling up on a meal isn't so easy, especially for a man who is not a cook.

WEeping WINNER — Lee Ann Moriwether of San Francisco weeps tears of joy after winning the "Miss America" contest in Atlantic City. Her vital statistics are: bust 24 1/2 inches, waist 22 inches, hips 35 inches.

Johnny first mentioned threshing we thought the oats would be too tough but he turned out some of the stooks ahead of time and they went through the machine all right. By five o'clock the oats were threshed and the machine on its way out. For the next hour Partner and Johnny were bagging up the screenings in the barnyard before the cows could get a chance to gorge themselves — with possibly disastrous results. Tuesday and Wednesday were hot, wet and humid. But Thursday was a red letter day. It was our local W. I. meeting and we had as guest speaker, Miss Sybil Bennett, Federal member of parliament for Halton County, and a very able lawyer. Miss Bennett is well-known to many of the members of our branch, and we also knew her as an excellent speaker. Her subject was the making of a will, particularly in regard to farm folk. Naturally she stressed the importance of both husband and wife making a will, but she also touched on the almost equally important matter of filling income tax returns, and explained how the settlement of an estate can be complicated in any case where such returns had not been made. "If you are not filing returns," said Miss Bennett, "don't think you are getting away with anything just because the government doesn't check up on you and request you to do so. The government has become tired of sending out requests and warnings. Now it lets the matter ride until an estate has to be settled. Then the government steps in and if returns have not been made each year then the government may demand income tax returns, possibly for the past ten years." Miss Bennett explained the worry and extra work this brings to the widow and the executor — work and worry that can easily be avoided if every farmer makes a point of

CHRONICLES OF GINGER FARM

Time is a queer thing. On a Saturday you often look back and wonder where the week has gone to! Other times the beginning of the week seems such a long way off. But still, fast or slow, time is certainly moving on. The Exhibition is over, fall fairs are coming up, children are back to school, days are getting shorter and all the hundred and one extra jobs we hope to get done before the leaves fall are crowding in on us. Isn't that the way you feel? But cheer up — that sort of feeling is inevitable with the early days of autumn, and yet we always do get through, don't we?

What is it that makes one week seem longer or shorter than another? You know how it is — sometimes we plan to do this and that, and then, at the end of the week, because of unforeseen interruptions, we find we have accomplished little more than ordinary everyday chores. Isn't it on such occasions that time seems to have slipped away? On the other hand, occasionally — get done even more than we had planned, and then it is we can hardly believe that only a week has gone by. That is what happened around here last week — but it was more by luck than good management. Monday of last week was Labour Day. We were not expecting company so, and we were down to our last kitchen towel and teacloth, I got ready for a big wash. I was usually the first lot ready for the machine when Johnny blew in and announced that he wanted to thresh his field of oats today — the one that he had sown on our farm. Could I feed four or five extra men for dinner? Could I? For a few minutes I was in a dither. Stores were closed. . . had I enough food in the house to feed seven people for dinner? Yes, I know some farmer's wives have that many and possibly more, to feed every day. But at least you are prepared for it. But when there is a family of two, tripling up on a meal isn't so easy, especially for a man who is not a cook.

It seemed stranger to have a threshing machine on the farm again after a lapse of four years. More strange still to see horses at work — there were four teams drawing in. When ding income tax returns each year, as required by law — even though your NET income may be in the non-taxable bracket. You may know that but the government doesn't unless you make returns to prove it.

It was all very good advice but I am afraid I forgot all about wills and succession duties in our excitement over the marvelous achievement of that delightful little girl, Marilyn Bell. We admired her not only for her courage and endurance in completing the swim but for her fine character and personality.

How Can I?

Q. How can I keep the flavor and vitamins in vegetables when cooking them?

A. Do not cook them in too much water. Cauliflower, cabbage, spinach, and string beans need no more than a fourth to a half a cup of water to start steaming and releasing their juices.

Q. How can I clean rusty keys?

A. Leave them in a sauce containing kerosene for several days. The rust will be loosened by the oil and will then rub off easily.

Q. How can I remove white spots from a table caused by heat?

A. By applying, in order named: kerosene, alcohol, and linseed or sweet oil. A different cloth should be used for each treatment. Keep rubbing in the linseed oil until the spot disappears.

Q. How can I make a remedy for falling hair?

A. A suggested remedy is to rub salt into the scalp, then massage until the scalp tingles. Also add salt to the water when washing the hair.

Q. How can I make a cement for glass?

A. A cement for attaching objects to glass can be made by melting together one part resin and two parts of yellow wax.

Q. How can I make a remedy for falling hair?

A. A suggested remedy is to rub salt into the scalp, then massage until the scalp tingles. Also add salt to the water when washing the hair.

Q. How can I make a cement for glass?

A. A cement for attaching objects to glass can be made by melting together one part resin and two parts of yellow wax.

Q. How can I keep the flavor and vitamins in vegetables when cooking them?

A. Do not cook them in too much water. Cauliflower, cabbage, spinach, and string beans need no more than a fourth to a half a cup of water to start

Q. How can I make a remedy for falling hair?

A. A suggested remedy is to rub salt into the scalp, then massage until the scalp tingles. Also add salt to the water when washing the hair.

Q. How can I make a cement for glass?

A. A cement for attaching objects to glass can be made by melting together one part resin and two parts of yellow wax.

Q. How can I keep the flavor and vitamins in vegetables when cooking them?

A. Do not cook them in too much water. Cauliflower, cabbage, spinach, and string beans need no more than a fourth to a half a cup of water to start

Q. How can I make a remedy for falling hair?

A. A suggested remedy is to rub salt into the scalp, then massage until the scalp tingles. Also add salt to the water when washing the hair.

Q. How can I make a cement for glass?

A. A cement for attaching objects to glass can be made by melting together one part resin and two parts of yellow wax.

Q. How can I keep the flavor and vitamins in vegetables when cooking them?

A. Do not cook them in too much water. Cauliflower, cabbage, spinach, and string beans need no more than a fourth to a half a cup of water to start

Q. How can I make a remedy for falling hair?

A. A suggested remedy is to rub salt into the scalp, then massage until the scalp tingles. Also add salt to the water when washing the hair.

Q. How can I make a cement for glass?

A. A cement for attaching objects to glass can be made by melting together one part resin and two parts of yellow wax.

Q. How can I keep the flavor and vitamins in vegetables when cooking them?

A. Do not cook them in too much water. Cauliflower, cabbage, spinach, and string beans need no more than a fourth to a half a cup of water to start

Q. How can I make a remedy for falling hair?

A. A suggested remedy is to rub salt into the scalp, then massage until the scalp tingles. Also add salt to the water when washing the hair.

Q. How can I make a cement for glass?

A. A cement for attaching objects to glass can be made by melting together one part resin and two parts of yellow wax.

Q. How can I keep the flavor and vitamins in vegetables when cooking them?

A. Do not cook them in too much water. Cauliflower, cabbage, spinach, and string beans need no more than a fourth to a half a cup of water to start

Q. How can I make a remedy for falling hair?

A. A suggested remedy is to rub salt into the scalp, then massage until the scalp tingles. Also add salt to the water when washing the hair.

Q. How can I make a cement for glass?

A. A cement for attaching objects to glass can be made by melting together one part resin and two parts of yellow wax.

Q. How can I keep the flavor and vitamins in vegetables when cooking them?

A. Do not cook them in too much water. Cauliflower, cabbage, spinach, and string beans need no more than a fourth to a half a cup of water to start

Modern Etiquette

Q. When one does not believe in the custom of tipping, isn't it one's privilege to omit it?

A. Although there is nothing compulsory about tipping, still a person who tries to omit it must be hard-shelled enough to shake off the black looks he will receive from those who have served him, and the possible accusations of "stinginess."

Q. When a woman has been introduced to you as "Alice Young," how do you know whether to address her as "Mrs. Young" or as "Miss Young?"

A. The only thing to do in this case is to ask her, unless there is someone else nearby whom you can ask.

Q. How can I make a remedy for falling hair?

A. A suggested remedy is to rub salt into the scalp, then massage until the scalp tingles. Also add salt to the water when washing the hair.

Q. How can I make a cement for glass?

A. A cement for attaching objects to glass can be made by melting together one part resin and two parts of yellow wax.

Q. How can I keep the flavor and vitamins in vegetables when cooking them?

A. Do not cook them in too much water. Cauliflower, cabbage, spinach, and string beans need no more than a fourth to a half a cup of water to start

Q. How can I make a remedy for falling hair?

A. A suggested remedy is to rub salt into the scalp, then massage until the scalp tingles. Also add salt to the water when washing the hair.

Q. How can I make a cement for glass?

A. A cement for attaching objects to glass can be made by melting together one part resin and two parts of yellow wax.

Q. How can I keep the flavor and vitamins in vegetables when cooking them?

A. Do not cook them in too much water. Cauliflower, cabbage, spinach, and string beans need no more than a fourth to a half a cup of water to start

Q. How can I make a remedy for falling hair?

A. A suggested remedy is to rub salt into the scalp, then massage until the scalp tingles. Also add salt to the water when washing the hair.

Q. How can I make a cement for glass?

A. A cement for attaching objects to glass can be made by melting together one part resin and two parts of yellow wax.

Q. How can I keep the flavor and vitamins in vegetables when cooking them?

A. Do not cook them in too much water. Cauliflower, cabbage, spinach, and string beans need no more than a fourth to a half a cup of water to start

Here Are Delicious Ways to Prepare Broilers and Fryers

BY DOROTHY MADDOX

The Department of Agriculture reports that unusually large supplies of broiler-fryer chickens are now on the market. So let's take advantage of the lower prices.

Here's a wonderful version of that world-famous taste treat, Hungarian chicken paprikas:

Chicken Paprikas (Serves 4)

One-quarter pound salt pork, diced; 1 broiler fryer (3 to 3 1/2-pound ready-to-cook weight), cut in serving pieces; flour, 1 tablespoon red (Hungarian) paprika, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup Tokay wine or soup stock, 1 cup sour cream, 1 cup heavy cream, 3 medium onions.

Preheat electric skillet or heavy iron skillet. Place diced pork in skillet and fry for 10 minutes, turning frequently. Meanwhile, dredge chicken with flour. Blend seasonings into wine or stock and mix with cream. Shred onions.

When pork cubes are glazed and slightly brown, add chicken and brown well on all sides (about 10 to 15 minutes). Add onions, stir lightly; pour 1/2 of cream mixture over chicken and blend carefully. Cover skillet; turn heat low and cook for 20 minutes.

Add remaining cream mixture, cover and cook until chicken is tender (about 15 to 20 minutes). Sprinkle with paprika before serving. Serve with broad egg noodles.

Curry Broiled Chicken (Serves 2 to 3)

Two and one-half to 3 1/2-pound broiling chicken, salt and lean forward slightly, but the head should never be bent at a right angle.

Q. If a bride is extremely busy, isn't it all right for her to wait two or three weeks to acknowledge her gifts?

A. She would be very ungracious and rude if she did. Each gift must be acknowledged promptly — the same day received, if possible.

Q. Who goes first when entering a room of her house, the hostess or her guest?

A. The hostess goes first only when it is necessary to show the way. Then she usually says, "Excuse me for going first."

Q. How can I keep the flavor and vitamins in vegetables when cooking them?

A. Do not cook them in too much water. Cauliflower, cabbage, spinach, and string beans need no more than a fourth to a half a cup of water to start

Q. How can I make a remedy for falling hair?

A. A suggested remedy is to rub salt into the scalp, then massage until the scalp tingles. Also add salt to the water when washing the hair.

Q. How can I make a cement for glass?

A. A cement for attaching objects to glass can be made by melting together one part resin and two parts of yellow wax.

Q. How can I keep the flavor and vitamins in vegetables when cooking them?

A. Do not cook them in too much water. Cauliflower, cabbage, spinach, and string beans need no more than a fourth to a half a cup of water to start

Q. How can I make a remedy for falling hair?

A. A suggested remedy is to rub salt into the scalp, then massage until the scalp tingles. Also add salt to the water when washing the hair.

Q. How can I make a cement for glass?

A. A cement for attaching objects to glass can be made by melting together one part resin and two parts of yellow wax.

TABLE TALKS

BY JANE ANDREWS

Once again the demand in thousands of homes is "cookies, and still more cookies." With lunch boxes to be packed, and after-school snacks taking their toll, it's a woman's sacred job to keep the cookie jar supplied. Here are some suggestions which will be timely and helpful.

FUDGE BROWNIES

1/2 cup butter
2 squares unsweetened chocolate (1 oz. squares)
1/2 cup flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup sugar
2 eggs, beaten
1 teaspoon vanilla
Pre-heat oven to 350 degrees F. Melt butter and chocolate over hot water. Remove from heat and

LEMONADE COOKIES

3 cups sifted flour
1 cup sugar
1 cup butter
2 eggs, beaten
1 teaspoon soda
4 tablespoons frozen concentrate for lemonade or juice of 2 lemons
1 teaspoon vanilla (optional)

Roll together flour, sugar, and butter. Add beaten eggs and soda. Stir in concentrate for lemonade. Add vanilla (use this only if you like lemon-flavored cookies). Either form the dough into balls and flatten with a fork — or chill dough in refrigerator for at least 1 hour, then roll out and cut. Bake on greased cookie sheet at 400 degrees F. for 8-10 minutes, or until cookies are baked but not brown. Makes 5 dozen cookies.

Thin, crisp and flavoured with roasted, unblanched almonds are these refrigerator cookies. Brown sugar and cinnamon add

PLAIN HORSE SENSE

BY F. (BOB) VON PILIS

A. E. Reilly, London, Ont., writes, "As an engaged man and have done a good deal of research in the field of Consumer Credit your remarks of life" was of special interest.

"There is certain opposition to the distribution of goods on credit which seems to me a hardship to those people who have had no opportunity to amass any capital."

"It does seem to me that since our entire economic life is based on borrowed money there is no logic in carrying about the same system being applied to any responsible group of people on any level."

Savings or Credit

The question appears to be whether people should save first and then buy or buy first and then cut down on their expenditures to meet the instalments.

As far as the "necessities of life" are concerned, like food, shelter, clothing, schooling, care of health, provision for old age, Justice demands that every individual should have the opportunity to provide for himself and his dependents. Those who cannot look after themselves, have to be looked after by society.

The natural right to life of every man implies the duty of every man to work for his own maintenance. Time was when men lived off the soil, either by hunting or pasturing cattle, or eventually working the land.

The law of the jungle governs and the victor took all. For his own protection man began to live in groups and delegated some of his rights and powers to the group. In return the group undertook to care for his and his family's safety and to ease the conditions of life.

A Stable Economy based on industrialized states developed.

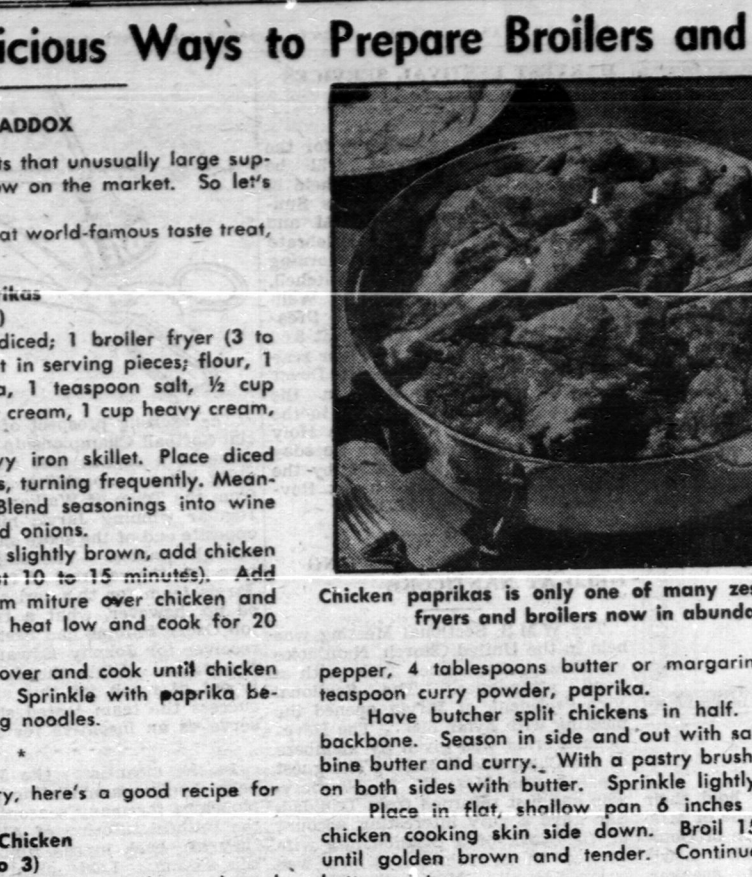

DOG-GONE — ALL GONE! — "Fifi", French poodle, finds that this Papillon sidewalk vendor of "glaces" (ice cream in a goy this Canadian dog), is sold out of his favorite dessert. This is not calculated to put a fellow in a "good humor."

FUTURISTIC SKIRT? — To see what kind of skirt pretty Carol Castaknoll, is wearing turn the page upside down.

HIS HEARTS ARE IN THE RIGHT PLACES

A man whose problem is way deep down in his hearts is Senor Geraldo Machado, of Belo Horizonte, Brazil. His problem is a mixed blessing — he is the possessor of two hearts; one on the left and one on the right. Machado's problem is whether or not to accept the $2,500 offered by a local medical school for his body when both hearts cease to pump.

DRIVE WITH CARE

Chicken paprikas is only one of many zesty ways to serve fryers and broilers now in abundant supply.

pepper, 4 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted; 1/2 to 3/4 teaspoon curry powder, paprika.

Have butcher split chickens in half. Remove neck and backbone. Season in side and out with salt and pepper. Combine butter and curry. With a pastry brush, coat chicken pieces on both sides with butter. Sprinkle lightly with paprika.

Place in flat, shallow pan 6 inches from flame. Start chicken cooking skin side down. Broil 15 to 20 minutes. Continue brushing with the butter mixture.

Has To Fight A Lion To Win A Bride

Marriage is a lottery — so the saying goes. But it's even more of a chance business than that for some of Africa's native lovers.

That young Zulu goes in search of a bride, for instance, he first has to swim a crocodile-infested river to prove his manhood, then buy the bride with twenty or more head of cattle, and finally take his mother-in-law along on the honeymoon.

Once the wedding day has been set, the girl and her friends get to work and build a hut. After the wedding she will till the fields all day and look after her husband. In time he may be rich enough to buy a second and third, or even more, wives, and each will work for him. Soon his daughters will be getting married and he will receive cattle for them.

But marriages will be carefully arranged so that the daughter goes on her honeymoon, mother-in-law will be able to go along.

And, always, the husbands will be carefully chosen for their physique and courage; he will have to swim a knife through crocodiles, or battle her other suitors, or meet a lion, armed only with a knife to prove that if danger ever threatens his bride, he will not run away, but will defend her.

DOG-GONE — ALL GONE! — "Fifi", French poodle, finds that this Papillon sidewalk vendor of "glaces" (ice cream in a goy this Canadian dog), is sold out of his favorite dessert. This is not calculated to put a fellow in a "good humor."

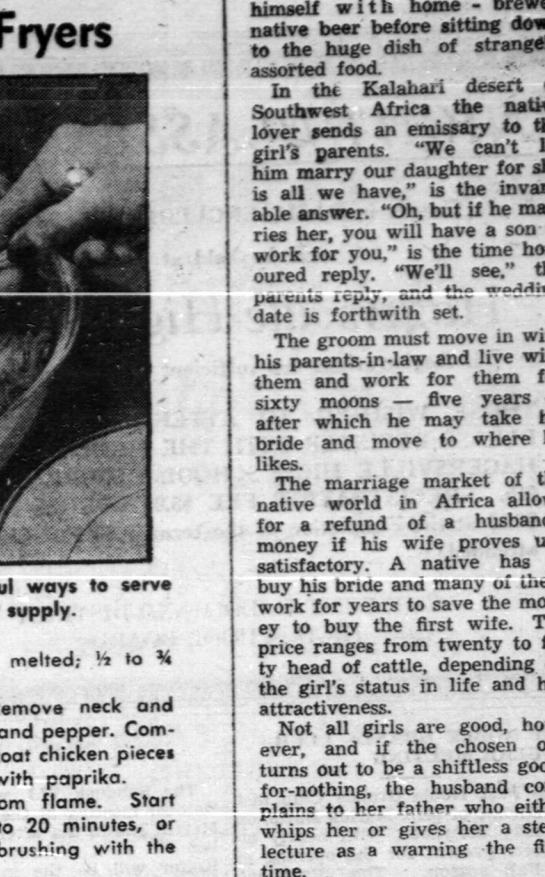

FUTURISTIC SKIRT? — To see what kind of skirt pretty Carol Castaknoll, is wearing turn the page upside down.

HIS HEARTS ARE IN THE RIGHT PLACES

A man whose problem is way deep down in his hearts is Senor Geraldo Machado, of Belo Horizonte, Brazil. His problem is a mixed blessing — he is the possessor of two hearts; one on the left and one on the right. Machado's problem is whether or not to accept the $2,500 offered by a local medical school for his body when both hearts cease to pump.

DRIVE WITH CARE

DRIVE WITH CARE

DOG-GONE — ALL GONE! — "Fifi", French poodle, finds that this Papillon sidewalk vendor of "glaces" (ice cream in a goy this Canadian dog), is sold out of his favorite dessert. This is not calculated to put a fellow in a "good humor."

FUTURISTIC SKIRT? — To see what kind of skirt pretty Carol Castaknoll, is wearing turn the page upside down.

HIS HEARTS ARE IN THE RIGHT PLACES

A man whose problem is way deep down in his hearts is Senor Geraldo Machado, of Belo Horizonte, Brazil. His problem is a mixed blessing — he is the possessor of two hearts; one on the left and one on the right. Machado's problem is whether or not to accept the $2,500 offered by a local medical school for his body when both hearts cease to pump.

DOG-GONE — ALL GONE! — "Fifi", French poodle, finds that this Papillon sidewalk vendor of "glaces" (ice cream in a goy this Canadian dog), is sold out of his favorite dessert. This is not calculated to put a fellow in a "good humor."

FUTURISTIC SKIRT? — To see what kind of skirt pretty Carol Castaknoll, is wearing turn the page upside down.

HIS HEARTS ARE IN THE RIGHT PLACES

A man whose problem is way deep down in his hearts is Senor Geraldo Machado, of Belo Horizonte, Brazil. His problem is a mixed blessing — he is the possessor of two hearts; one on the left and one on the right. Machado's problem is whether or not to accept the $2,500 offered by a local medical school for his body when both hearts cease to pump.

DRIVE WITH CARE

DRIVE WITH CARE