GUY MADISON,

We have so much to protect A few years ago representatives of a number of farm organizations met in Ottawa to urge on the government the passing of legislation that would enable them to control the marketing of

On that occasion the farmers' own solicitor advised them to proceed with caution. He said: "We are asking for legislation to stop people from doing things they have always had a right to do. The courts don't like that kind of legislation, and if they can find any reason for doing so they will throw it out." But the solicitor's advice fell on deaf ears.

Every farmer who feeds livestock, and has to buy feed for such stock, knows that it is much cheaper to buy directly from the growers, before the feed has entered the channels of trade, for when it gets into those channels it has to pass through so many hands, and submit to so many charges that the cost is likely to become prohibitive.

Stephen F. Murphy, a farmer who operates turkey ranches at Mission City and Princeton, B.C., has had some first hand experience of this, in buying feed for his birds.

He buys about 1000 tons of low grade wheat or coarse grain every year in the prairie provinces and has it shipped to his ranches in B.C. His practice has been to buy through dealers who operate under licenses issued by the Canada Wheat Board. Murphy appears to be a live wire who wants to kno where his money goes and what value he gets for it. He has bee committee in charge was Mesdames Walter North, Gordon Cherry, Ar-thur Cowan and Jim Ebert. The next Hoss and Dance will be held Murphy sees no reason why he should have to ask the Wheat Board's permission to do what the BNA Act states he has a right to do. Nor does he see where Parliament got the authority to give the Wheat Board the powers it is exercising. He resolved to take his case before the courts.

He delivered to the Canadian Pacific Railway at Winnipeg ag of wheat, one of oats and one of barley, and he requested home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Duncan.
Several from this vicinity attended the euchre and dance held at Wiggin's Hall on Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Reg. Iliffe spent Sun day in Toronto the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. Powell.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Howell of Hamilton, spent Sunday with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Ruth Youmans.

Mr. and Mrs. Cameron Mitchell spent a couple of days last week in Toronto attending the Milk Convention.

The railway company refused the shipment of was not authorized by the Wheat Board. Murphy then went to the court and filed a claim against cising. He asks the court for: t. A declaration by the court that he is entitled to have

2. An order to the C.P.R. to accept the grain and ship it. Damages and costs. This action of Murphy's is a challenge to the authority of farmers.

C.G.I.T. MEETING

The regular meeting of the Merry Maidens C.G.I.T. was held in the Sunday School Rooms of the United Church on Tuesday, January 11th. We opened with the business period led by President Darla Walker. The roll call was read and nineteen members were found present. We received a Thank You note from Miss Lee for the Christmas basket. The minutes were read by the Secretary, Jill Peresky. We have started a bible study and are divided into three groups for different studies. When that was over some of the girls joined together and played a lively game of Follow the Leader. Then the proup was dismissed till next Tuesday.

— By Haldimand Harry

According to recent reports the hog runs in December showed a great deal of strength. During the first four weeks of the month there was an average of 118,000 head, which is just a thousand less than in November, but 20,000 more per week than in December a year ago. During the week ending December 18th, slaughterings reached 134,500 head which was the seasonal peak for the year. Formerly the high point has always been reached in November.

This information runs pretty true to predictions. It had been expected this fall but as the season advanced there seemed to be a holding back and the industry was a bit puzzled. It was shown, however, that the Western run was delayed be vailable. As a matter of fact, it is now predicted that the completion of the marketing of the spring pig crop may run well over into the new year.

The final estimates on the quantities of seed grown and available for livestock feeding in Haldimand have just come forward and they are rather enlightening, to say the least They seem to show a bigger crop than was produced in 1953 and the guess here is that this is not quite. guess here is that this is not quite the case. Taking the four crops oats, barley, mixed grain and corn the report shows a total of 47,500 acres grown in 1954 yielding 1,792,100 bushels as compared with 37,700 acres and 1,401,200 bushels in 1953. It is doubtful if many farmers will agree with this estimate although these figures are based on figures sent in by farmers (crop reporters living here in the county.

-OOoAlmost the same thought was stressed by W. E. Breckon, the World Wheat King, when speaking at the annual meeting of the Haldimand Soil and Crop Improvement Association last week. Mr. Breckon told his audience of the great need for knowing the soil type or types that appeared on the particular farm in question and then to grow the crop best suited to that set of conditions. Mr. Breckon went on to say that many farms that were heaviy stocked were attempting to grow too much grain. He maintained that such farms should be growing more grass and legumes for hay and pasture which was not so easily purchased as grain. Furthermore the growing of grain provided a serious drain on the levels of soil fertility and humus or organic matter.

on the levels of soil fertility and humus or organic matter.

-OO
Butter production in Haldimand jumped up in November last to the extent of about 40,000 lbs. This is shown in the statistics for the month which have just come in During that month, Haldimand Creameries made 134,505 lbs. of butter as compared with 93,285 lbs. for the same month in 1953. This has helped to bring the 1954 total up nearer to that for 1953. The accumulated total for the eleven months now stands at 2,047,434 lbs. as compared with 2,122,247 lbs. for the same period in 1953. On a provincial basis, there was a 9.7 per cent increase during November.
