

Lets see now, where did we leave off? Oh yes, we signed off for two weeks to study the geography of Western Canada and to recover the vitality needed to return to the grind for another fifty-two weeks.

One of the most pleasant things that has happened to us in a long time occurred this week when we opened our small mountain of mail. One of our readers took our suggestion literally to write in and say we were missed while on vacation.

Then, of all things, we found ourselves involved with a cooking school on Tuesday night. Irene Fish, the better half of the Fred Fish team, assigned us to a task on the final night of the two-day cooking school, sponsored by the Pireside Club.

As a result of these things there has been little time to set down on paper the thoughts an editor has as he looks back on the week.

Two of our neighbours turned out to be pretty lucky at the cooking school this week. One was the winner of a new electric range and the other a lovely looking cooked ham with all the trimmings.

We notice in the news that the population of Port Dover has increased during the past year. Amazing!

MEETING - The Teachers of Jarvis Public School were guests at the regular meeting of the Jarvis Women's Institute held on Wednesday, September 14th at the home of Mrs. William Davidson. They also contributed to the program. Mr. Harvey Sider, Principal of the school, spoke on the topic "If A Man Empties His Purse From Him." He stated that nothing is permanent, citing the example of the stage coach up to the present mode of travel and the future of education. Education is expensive but it is something that cannot be taken from us. Communism is a constant threat to civilization, but if our boys and girls have a good education it will not gain a stronghold. Also, education is a pleasure which becomes richer and deeper as we advance in the field of learning. The more we learn the more pleasure we get out of life. Miss Marie Saunders also delighted the ladies by an illustrated talk on her recent trip to Great Britain. Mrs. William Bailey, Education convener, led an interesting discussion on the present educational system to be held in the Jarvis Community hall on November 18th.
