

The season is over so far as hockey is concerned locally. Saturday night saw Bill Henderson's Jarvis Chev's bow out of the Intermediate "B" O.H.A. picture, when they dropped the decision to New Dundee in a ding-dong battle at the Simcoe Arena.

After evening the count at a win apiece on Thursday night, it looked as though Jarvis might well be on the way to an Intermediate championship, but an unfortunate highway accident, involving four of the players after the game, weakened the team for the clincher on Saturday night.

It might be a logical observation to say that the Jarvis Hockey Club sports more and better home-titching than any other team on the go this season. Murray Walker was stitched up for a facial cut. Dick Arnot followed suit. Willis Smith got fourteen around his left eye which we regret to report, resulted in permanent injury to the eye itself. Bob Nixon picked up six or eight around his right eye in the first game with New Dundee and added twenty more in the car crash following the second game last Thursday night. Brother Bill Nixon required about six stitches in the same mishap. A fairly good estimate of the total stitches required to bring the human skin together again on the Jarvis Hockey Team is seventy. A hazardous pastime.

Despite being riddled with injuries the Jarvis team put up a real game in the final go. Had the team been intact there could have been only one result. Jarvis would now be in the final. The team is to be congratulated on the showing made in their first year in organized hockey. The experience forms the foundation for a better team next year and if the heard from in the future in this game of hockey.

In reference to hockey this week we can't resist mentioning that Haldimand defeated Norfolk in the O.H.A. Intermediate race. The Haldimand imports kept the Norfolk entry from a shameful defeat in the last game we understand. The report reaching us is that one of the imports set up four of the five goals the Flashmen put on the score sheet. An actualy we have been a Port Dover fan all season but our feelings are assuaged by the fact the result leaves our Port Dover contemporary shodulately speechless. In fact we would not be surprised if he has taken off again on a trip to Georgia, or what ever state it is they manufacture that mountain moonshine. Great stuff to numb one's grief, they say.

There is no end to Hockey news this week. Friend Roy Edwards is presently stand-in goalie for the Buffalo Bisons. Roy moved from the St. Catharines camp after the season of the City tendered him a banquet at which he received the most valuable-player award with the Teepees this season. Red Kelly is in the same category as some of the members of the Jarvis Hockey team. Red had twelve stitches around his mouth after the final game with Toronto and also had two or three teeth dislodged. Despite this he played in the opening game with Monmouth and was one of the most valuable players on the ice. Judging by the way Jack Mehenbacher was last Saturday night he is not at all disturbed by the unfavorable publicity accorded him by the top brass in the Toronto-Detroit series. The referee-in-chief, Carl Voss, must have a pretty good opinion of the Netter-Corners arbitrator (which incidently is shared by his friends here) as he wouldn't be No. 1 referee in the Stanley Cup play-offs.

"What to do in a small town" may seem like a good question to this city dweller who hurries home to town in on the latest TV program, but it is a pretty stupid question to anyone who really takes part in the community life of the towns which make up such a great part of this province.

Last Friday night Miss Meta MacMurphy, choir leader at Wesley United Church, organized her talent for the presentation of the Sacred Cantata, "Olivet to Calvary," which was enjoyed by a fairly large congregation. From our point of view we needed the many hours of practice thought back over the years and called many similar efforts by Mrs. MacMurphy which have been good for the community and for those persons her choir. Their work is appreciated.
