Two Motorists are killed Every Day in Rural Ontario ONE IN FOUR OF THESE ACCIDENTS

HAPPENS ON THE FARMER'S DOORSTEP Last year nearly 800 persons were killed in motor mishaps outside urban areas. One in every four such accidents in rural Ontario occurred at rural intersections, or farm lane comwith a major highway.

In many cases farmers were in no way involved; in more cases farm drivers probably were innocent victims of careless highway motorists. But farmers and their families died in some of these smash-ups. Farm vehicles were destroyed. And directly or indirectly Ontario's farm population pays a share of the tremendous cost that motor accidents annually inflict in this pro-

Safety is everybody's business. everybody's responsibility. The farmer has a major stake in the safety of rural roads whether they are familiar township routes, regularly travelled county roads, or our provincial super highways. Death and injury lurk at every intersection.
