READY FOR THE BIG DAY - Manufacturers in Monaco have been working overtime to turn out souvenirs for the Grace Kelly-Prince Rainier III wedding, April 8. This silk scarf is one of them. It bears a likeness of Monaco's sovereign and his brideto-be. United States and Monacan emblems are also featured.

Q. I know that the salad plate is placed at the left of the plate. If, however, a woman is wearing long, loose sleeves which are apt to get into the food in her dinner plate while she is reaching across it to the salad, may she move the salad plate to the right? A. If there's space to the right, this is quite all right. The reason the salad plate is put at the left is that there is more room on that side. Q. I've heard that it is improper to comment on another person's clothes. Does this mean one should not admire or compli-ment another on his clothes? A. If you know another person well enough, there is no reason why she shouldn't tell him how well he is looking. Q. I thanked each donor personally for gifts received at a supposed to write thank-you surprise birthday party. Am I notes also to these donors?

Q. I see more and more people cutting their bread or rolls at the table with a knife. Is this now considered proper?

A. No. Good behavior still requires that bread, rolls and the like be broken into small pieces with the fingers, and each one buttered as it is eaten.

Q. How should one address a wedding gift? A. Gifts sent before the wedding are addressed to the bride in her maiden name. Gifts sent after the wedding, of course, are addressed to the couple.

Q. Is it correct for a man to use double - sheet type of stationery for his personal cor-respondence?

A. This is all right, but the single-sheet variety is considered more masculine.

Recently the farmer found it impossible to obtain reliable hired help. The barnyard had to be kept clean and he could not keep pace with it alone. So off he went and bought a manure loader and a second tractor. Now was caught up into heaven.

The challenge is still with us.

Many millions have not yet heard how God sent His Son io he has enough equipment to keep him independent of hired help — a small thrshing machine, baler, loader, horses and save us. driving. The specious logic behind the plan is that these marked drivers will be more careful, being reluctant to get themselves into a situation which would call for the revelation of their past shame to police. According to Highways Minister Allan, the red permits actually do act as a deterrent to incautious drivers. They probably have this effect on some, to be sure , but the question which must be asked is this: Does the result outweigh the disadvantages and dangers of the scheme? In our opinion the answer is that it goes not.

Surely most drivers would be especially careful after one conviction, no matter what color their permit, The chances of their being stopped after drinking are equal; and the

revious conviction is a matter of record and the consequences equally grave. As for irresponsible drivers, this measure will not deter them a whit The real danger is that the stigma of guilt will attach it-self to a driver with a red permit as soon as a policeman sees it. He may be innocently involved in an accident, but his special permit will immediately make him suspect. Even in the routine matter of using his permit as personal identification in banks or in other transactions, his character would be reflected in unfair

Issuance of special permits is tantamount to an admission by the Department of Highways that it does not trust these drivers and must adopt such means to keep them in check. This being the case, the Department is impertinent to reissue permits at all to them. A driver under suspension should be permitted to drive again only after the Department is convinced he will operate his car within the law, with-
