

the antiquated structure to anyone willing to assume responsibility for its future maintenance. Since it is located on a County Road the County must be careful concerning involvement in a matter of this kind.

The situation is changed with the proposed Dunville new bridge probably the county does for that matter, but a new bridge will involve a lot of money. In addition the north side of the bridge runs plump into the business section of the town and as traffic increases would result in a bottleneck. Alternative routes are suggested. Some are for—some are against.

Now we know why there is a Dunville Bridge Committee. If they can help solve the problem facing them they will earn our eternal appreciation. We just hope they don't make a mistake.

Our sympathy goes out to Mr. and Mrs. J. Armstrong and their five small children, who lost their home and all their personal possessions in a tragic fire last Saturday night. The quick thinking of Mrs. Armstrong brought all five children to safety. She carried the two smaller children down the flaming stairway and suffered a severe facial cut in the action. A fire is a tragedy at any time, but in this case it is particularly distressing with all personal possessions lost. The quick action of the local Red Cross in this case is commendable and serves to illustrate advertise in the Record. It pays just one of the important functions of this worthy organization.

It was more than kind of Sam Morris to put forward our name for the leadership of the Progressive-Conservative party to succeed George Drew. We at once make our position clear and say like Dr. Sidney Smith, Sir Beverley Baxter, Premier Leslie Frost of Ontario, and other distinguished personalities, that we are definitely not in the race. Right at the moment we can see no situation developing here that John Diefenbaker cannot handle with distinction. We are glad Sam has observed that the P.C.'s are making progress, even as far away as Nova Scotia and he should be bracing himself for the possible results when the voters of Canada make their wishes known next June.

Applicants To Grand View Lodge Must Assign Assets

Applicants for admission to Grand View Lodge, Haldimand County's new home for the aged, at Dunville must first enter into an agreement with the Corporation of the County of Haldimand, transferring and assigning all assets of the applicant to the County.

These assets are held in trust by the County with authorization to deduct fees for maintenance at the current rates established by the County Home Committee. It also authorizes all payments of pensions to be applied against the maintenance costs.

The application form which was passed on motion at the last meeting of County Council authorizes the
