POSTAL CONVENTION

MILLIONS AT ONTARIO'S DOOR

(Toronto Telegram, Aug. 9, 1957)

Official opening of the new five-mile suspension bridge over the Strait of Mackinac is to take place in October or November. This huge structure of steel and stone will have cost about $100,000,000 making it the most expensive in history. It will replace ferry service, which at times backs up motor traffic for miles, but reportedly will cost motorists about the same fee.

Mackinac suspension bridge will link the four-lane highway up the north centre of Michigan with U.S. No. 2 which runs through the Soo gateway to Ontario. Highway 2 is a main route from the west, even Seattle, if you like. Detroit and Chicago alone represent a population and potential travel source of nine million people.

Great numbers of United States tourists will be driving up to see and use the new Mackinac bridge. If adequately informed of Ontario's attractions, many doubtless would turn eastward. Citizens of the two Soos are looking for early action on a bridge over the St. Mary's River, long projected by International Bridge Corporation. When Canadian legislation in regard to it was passed two years ago, Senator Thomas Farquhar of Algoma said it would have a capacity of 3,000 cars an hour each way. He mentioned the Mackinac bridge as a factor expanding requirements and bound to result in ever increasing traffic.

Meanwhile, there is good ferry service at Sault Ste. Marie, conveying cars across the river in a few minutes. From there, U.S. visitors can travel along King's Highway 17 with an attractive choice of routes through Ontario and back to points of exit. Major tourists from the Soo gateway may turn south at Espanola to Manitoulin Island, take ferry to Tobermory and so drive through the Bruce Peninsula and over the Blue Water Highway to Sarnia or Windsor.

Continuing along 17 to Sudbury, they may take the excellent Highway 69 through scenic Muskoka. In the alternative, a turnoff at North Bay will take visitors down some of the best blacktop mileage in the province to Barrie and back to Lake Huron, or all the way down to Toronto and a choice of several main routes to border points.

Another good tour is right through on 17 to Ottawa, convenient to border crossing points on the St. Lawrence.

Statistics for the first half of 1957 show far more Canadian cars crossing to the U.S. than vice versa. On the basis of tourist attractions it should not be so.

The Mackinac Straits Bridge is going to bring throngs of potential visitors to Ontario's door. The Travel and Publicity Department plans to make known to them what they can see and enjoy by turning east at Sault Ste. Marie. A new publication entitled Ontario Motoring Vacation is to recommend certain tours through this province. This literature will be distributed through the reception centre at Sault Ste. Marie and elsewhere and advertising will be directed toward the throngs on pilgrimage to Mackinac.

It's beautiful country, whichever way is travelled, and the news should be spread widely and skillfully. There is time to do a first-class job on behalf of Ontario's attractions.

THE JARVIS RECORD

"Let Us Have Faith That Right Makes Might And In That Faith Let Us Dare To Do Our Duty As We Understand It"

VOL. 83. No. 33. JARVIS, ONTARIO, THURSDAY, AUGUST 29th, 1957. Authorized as Second Class Mail, Post Office Department, Ottawa.

Boy Scout Jubilee Jamboree Jottings

— By Keith Lysch —

The letter service at this camp is very slow from this end, at the post office here they told us that it takes one and one-half to two days for a letter air-mail to reach London (Ring.).

I do not know if anything was in the papers about the flood we had here in camp Monday night or not but I'll fill you in on the messy details.

On Monday night Carl, Ernie Lefler (from Simcoe) and I were tired and went to bed early about ten. We were awakened at 12.45 A.M. by the cries of our friends in the next tents evacuating. At first I wondered what was coming off, but I could hear the rain beating on the roof of the tent. I stuck my hand over the side of my air mattress and went into water almost up to my wrist. A stream of water was washing through the centre of the tent.

I think that Carl and I could have stuck it out, but our sleeping partner did not have an air mattress so we decided to evacuate. We dressed and piled our packs on our mattresses. By this time the site was really soaked and water was laying in large puddles while in some places it was running in small rivulets. It was about 1.15 when the rain finally eased up.

The three of us made our way to the rest tent. Boy! was that a mess! Guys running around in underwear, soaked P.J's and sleeping bags. It was quite a sight. I'm sorry to say I didn't get a picture of this mostly because of the state of confusion and because I was wandering around half asleep.

We returned to our tent, picked up our mattresses and went down to the washup tents. There are racks here about four feet off the ground and here we slept from about 2 till 6.40 A.M. We went back to camp and cleaned up our mess.

It was quite a rush because we had a scheduled tour to Rhyl in North Wales and we had to leave camp at 9.00 A.M. Rhyl was quite a boom-ing place on Tuesday at least. The sidewalks were so crowded that we had to walk on the roads. Rhyl is right on the Irish Sea. The tide was out and as a result you could walk out almost half a mile. Carl and I were not too ambitious, so we did not attempt this.

All along this front there are beautiful flower gardens. These really add a lot to the scenery. We found an out doors roller skating and skater rink for almost an hour. We had lots of fun and I only fell down once.

We went to a show at four o'clock and left at six. This was really some theatre and we sat in the most expensive seats in the balcony.

We had a serve yourself dinner in a place called the "Forties". Here we met some more of our gang and really had a lot of fun. To go back a little, Carl and I had fish and chips for lunch and they were really good. After supper we went back to the camp and left right on time. It took us a good hour trip on which I slept most of the way. I did get a few pictures of the countryside. It's not as green in this territory. On one side of the track was beautiful country while on the other was nothing but sand and water holes. I have several pictures of this so it will be easier to explain when I get home. When we returned to camp we had to walk about three miles to get to our own Sub Camp. On the way in we met a steady stream of cars leaving the camp site. I said good night to every single one of them. Boy was I ever hoarse after this.

When we arrived at our camp, our Scottish friends had fixed up a large kettle of soup. Boy, that sure hit the spot. I slept like a log.

On Wednesday we stayed in camp almost all morning because we were scheduled to go to Stoke on Trent for a Soccer game. We pulled out from Streetly Station at 1.03 and arrived at Stoke on Trent on our later. They sure gave us a royal welcome. We were not the only camp on this trip, and we were marched down the street six abreast behind a Scottish band. We marched right through the streets into the soccer stadium. We saw the Stoke City and Stoke on Trent teams play. Actually, they were both the same team with the first string team playing the second string. Even though, it was still an exciting game with a variety of entertainment between the halves. We left the stadium at six-thirty and marched back through the streets to the station. The people were lined up along the streets and it really made you feel good to hear those people cheering you. We got home about 9.00 and again the Scot had soup on for us. Last night it rained a little, but on the whole it's not too bad (the weather I mean). This letter is a little scrambled, but I imagine that you understand. I write down something done today and then remember something done interesting a couple of days previous.

The first few days in camp were a little hectic but things straightened out and are running quite smoothly now. Last night we had a soccer game with the Swiss which ended in a tie and on Monday night last we had rough and tumble football game with the Scottish in which one Scotsman received concussion and had to go to hospital. I'm happy to report that he is now completely recovered.

I met up with the Swiss I travelled around London with and also the Austrian and the Danish Scouts.

Tomorrow night we are planning a large camp fire with visiting scouts from Scotland and other places I'm not just sure of. I have also met a Jamaican scout whom I met at Niagara-on-the-Lake.

Today I cooked the best meal since I arrived. It was really, really big. I had boiled bacon in the piece which was like roast beef, sausages which I did into paddies, a cooked dessert, and milk.

Well, I'm getting ready to take off for the Birmingham Gang show the it is now 4.15 and we're about ready to shove off, so for now, I'll have to close.

Yours in Scouting,

— KEITH

OBITUARY

THOMAS ANSLOW COOKE

Thomas Anslow Cooke, a native of England, passed away at his home here on Saturday, following a lengthy illness. He was in his Eighty-second year.

The late Mr. Cooke and his wife, the former Miriam Blundell came to Canada in 1909 and remained here until 1914 when they returned to England due to the illness of Mrs. Cooke's father. They remained there until 1919 during which time Mr. Cooke was employed in munitions. In 1919 they returned to Canada for the second time and have since lived in this country. They settled in 1919 at Nixon, Ont. and Mr. Cooke was employed by the Canadian National Railways. A serious accident in 1930 forced him to accept other employment with the Railway and he accepted a position as Gateman at Jarvis in 1932. He continued with this work until his retirement in 1941.

Besides his wife he leaves two sons, Thomas of Simcoe and Jack, of Jarvis and two daughters, Mrs. Edward Buckley (Muriel) of Jarvis and Molly (Mrs. Arthur Hacker) of Leamington. A daughter, Evelyn, predeceased him in 1916.

The funeral was held from the Holmes Funeral Home, Jarvis, on Tuesday afternoon. The service was conducted in St. Paul's Anglican Church at 2.30 o'clock by the Rev. K. N. Brueton. Interment was made in the adjoining cemetery.

The pallbearers were: George Keefer, Elson Held, Douglas Church, Les Ryerse, David Banks and Robt. Lysch

United Church Notes

After two months holidays the Womens Association will meet at the home of Mrs. Stanley Doughty on Tuesday afternoon, September 3rd at 2.30 o'clock. All the ladies should be present at this meeting when plans will be made for the Fall activities.

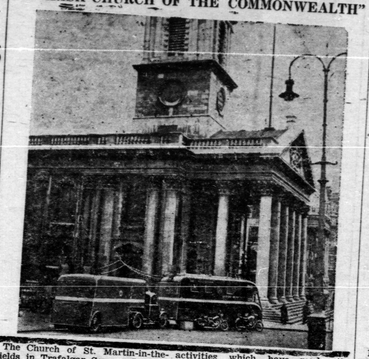
Well Known Jarvis Couple Married 38 Years

A happy event took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Linkter on Sunday, August 18th. The family of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Bailey met to honour their parents on the occasion of their Thirty-Eighth Wedding anniversary. They were married August 10th, 1919 at the home of bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Smith, by the Rev. H. L. Smith. All of their children were present, also their eleven grandchildren. Those who came from a distance were: Dr. and Mrs. W. J. Bailey and family of Orrie; Dr. and Mrs. J. D. Bailey and family; Miss Beth Bailey of Orchard Heights; Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Draper and daughters of Burlington; and Mrs. A. S. Stewart and Mary Ann and Mrs. Arnott Bailey of Hagersville; Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Keller and Douglas and Mr. Charles Davidson were also present.

A sumptuous turkey dinner was served at noon by the bride and groom, her helpers and a buffet luncheon in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Bailey appreciated very much the kindness shown by their family in arranging this very enjoyable day for them to remember.

"PARISH CHURCH OF THE COMMONWEALTH"



The Church of St. Martin-in-the-Fields in Trafalgar Square, London, which has become known as the "Parish Church of the Commonwealth," and indeed "of all the world."

It was from St. Martin-in-the-Fields, on January 6, 1924, that the BBC broadcast the first service ever to be broadcast from a church, when the then Vicar, the Rev. H. R. L. 'Dick' Shephard conducted the service. The BBC has continued to broadcast services regularly from this famous church ever since those early days, and successive Vicars from 'Dick' Shephard and his successor the Rev. Pat McCormick until the present day have become well-known to BBC listeners in Britain and overseas. The present Vicar, the Rev. Austen Williams who succeeds the Rev. L. M. Charles-Edwards in 1956, worked as a chaplain for Toc H during the war and was taken prisoner just before the fall of Dunkirk. At the end of the war he became curate of St. Martin-in-the-Fields where he stayed until 1951, when he moved to Bristol as Vicar of St. Albans.

It was 'Dick' Shephard who welcomed the homeless and destitute to the friendly crypt of St. Martin's at any hour of the day or night, and to the tradition of the door that is always open have been added many activities which have made the church a source of inspiration and comfort for all who love, and seek to serve, their fellow men.

St. Martin-in-the-Fields was built between 1721 and 1726 at a cost of £40,000, on the site of an older church built in 1544, which had literally stood 'in the fields' before the action at Trafalgar ever took place or Trafalgar Square had been laid out. It was under the chancel of that older church that Nell Gynn was buried, at thirty-eight years of age, in November 1678, 'dying repentant' as the records say. There, too King Charles II. was baptised. The architect of the present church was James Gibbs, who left the inscription "In-cubo Gibbs Architecto" above the central column of the portico.

St. Martin's is the Royal Parish Church, and Her Majesty the Queen is its chief parishioner, for the parish boundary actually cuts through Buckingham Palace, and before Buckingham Palace became the royal residence about a century ago, the entrances of St. James's and Whitehall were within the parish. The births of all royal children—including of course Prince Charles and Princess Anne are entered in St. Martin's Registers, and the church has a royal pew—the only one in any parish church in London.

KNOX L.A. AND W.M.S. MEETING

The Ladies Aid of Knox Presbyterian Church will meet on Tuesday afternoon, September 3rd at the home of Mrs. Chas. Ionson at 2.15 P.M. The W.M.S. meeting will follow.

SIMCOE, NORFOLK COUNTY OCTOBER 15th - 18th INCLUSIVE

This year's International Plowing Match and Farm Machinery Demonstration is likely to go down in history as one of the best on record from the standpoint of exhibits, entries and attendance. This may sound like a bold prediction in view of the fact that the sponsors are obliged to gamble with the weather. Despite rain, however, the show must go on. Some unfavourable weather invariably occurs but on the whole it does not seem to affect the general programme.

Upwards of 150 firms interested in displaying and demonstrating various kinds of farm equipment and a large number of food caterers have already purchased space in Tented City and additional applications are reaching the office every day. Most exhibitors will occupy tents, hence the term "Tented City" now used to identify the display area. It will have four streets for spectators with a number of roads assigned for vehicular traffic for use by those who have purchased space.

Tented City, which will be located on the farm of Mike Lizon a short distance East of Simcoe, will have almost the equivalent in services of a municipality such as streets, hydro, water, garbage disposal, wash rooms, telephones, teletype, newspapers, radio, T.V., fire and police protection and the best of eating places. Besides several firms are providing a comfortable place to rest and one at least will, as usual, be serving tea during each of the four days.

Visitors to the Match will find getting to the plowing and demonstration fields no problem at all. Tractor drawn wagons under the sponsorship of the Junior Farmers of Norfolk County will provide free transportation service throughout the area.

Parking will be close into 'Tented City" and here again visitors will find this a real convenience as compared with having to walk a mile after parking the car, as has been the case at some of our previous matches. Entries in plowing classes and applications for tractors are now being received at the office of the Secretary-Manager, Parliament Buildings, Toronto. This is the fourth year that entries have been required in advance of the Match. Previously they were accepted during the event. October 1st is the deadline for receiving entries and tractor applications.

DEWAR—SWING

Helen Aileen Swing, London, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Swing, Jarvis, became the bride of William Arthur Alexander Dewar, London, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. James A. Dewar, in a ceremony performed by the Rev. A. R. Hancock in Knox Presbyterian Church, Jarvis, on Saturday, August 17th.

The bride wore a ballerina-length gown of pure silk Japanese organza styled on princess lines with portrait neckline and short sleeves. The bouffant skirt swept from a pleated hipline. Seed pearls held her finger-tip veil of French illusion and she carried a colonial bouquet of white mums and sweetheart rosebuds.

Miss Margaret Oakes, London, attended the bride, wearing pale blue nylon eyelet over white taffeta.

John Thomas, London, was best man and ushers were Mac Miller, of Nanticoke, and Edward Twohey, London.

For travelling the bride wore a pink linen suit with navy accessories and corsage of pink and white carnations. The couple will live in London.

Anglican Church Notes

St. Paul's Sunday School will reopen on Sunday, 8th September. We are looking for a full attendance on opening day. New pupils will be welcome.

Our sympathy is given to Mr. Jack Cooke, our Superintendent, on the recent death of his father.

All his friends are glad to see Keith Lysch back home again after his long trip.

Christ Church had a very successful Bake Sale recently, the Wardens appreciate the ladies' efforts.

Several of our summer residents have been very regular in their attendance at Christ Church. We shall miss them when they go home.

Mount Hope moved in to the local park on Tuesday night for the second game of the best two out of three series in the second round of the O.A.S.A. Intermediate "B" Play-offs with a one game advantage. They held that advantage throughout the nine innings of play and eliminated the Jarvis Herefords by a three to one score.

The Mount Hope team got on the scoring sheet in the fifth innings by virtue of two errors and a single by Jerome. Bunt strategy paid off for Rodger Porter when Nixon's throw got away from Gord Miller when he came over from second to cover the initial sack. Heinbecker's line drive to Firmi was taken neatly for the first out but Norsworthy repeated the same play as Porter reached first on an error. Jerome's single did the damage and gave Mount Hope a two run lead when Porter and Norsworthy crossed the plate. An error in the eighth gave Mount Hope their third run of the game. Manolan doubled, advanced to third on a passed ball and came home when Nixon dropped the ball at first on a play on a ground ball from the second baseman.

Jarvis didn't get a man past first base until the sixth inning when Bob Nixon started off with a single to centre field. He moved to second on Meehan's fielder's choice and moved to third when Firmi was thrown out on a grounder to third base. Edwards pulled a long fly ball to right field for the third out, leaving Nixon on third. House went in as a pinch hitter in the eighth and drew a walk. He advanced to second on Nixon's fielder's choice, but died there when Meehan and Firmi both went down swinging. Edwards opened the ninth with a single to center field and moved to second on Graham's infield grounder. Graham's single put Edwards on third and hope began to swell in the hearts of the Jarvis fans. Bob Miller popped out to the third baseman, for the second out but Martin singled to drive in Edwards and advanced Graham to second. With two away and the tying runs on base Jack Martin stepped one to the pitcher which he very nearly beat out but Manolan's quick throw beat him to the play.

Edwards pitched another stellar game having thirteen strike-outs and issuing two free passes. Manolan whiffed nine and walked one. Jarvis had seven hits to produce one run while Mount Hope scored three times on four hits.

It was a tough game to lose for the local team after dropping the first game of the series in a heart-breaking home run in the tenth innings at Mount Hope.

Jarvis used three pinch-hitters in the final frame in an effort to overcome the deficit and all came through. House drew a walk, Graham got a single and Arnott produced a sacrifice. It was a good game for the more than five hundred fans on hand at the park.

Jarvis Take Tough Loss In Opener With Mt. Hope

The first game of the second round in the O.A.S.A. play-offs proved to be a sad affair for the Jarvis Herefords.

Mount Hope continued to demonstrate that "Never Say Die" spirit and bounced back twice during the game to overcome a two run lead and to end up on the top side of a five to four win.

Jarvis looked to have the game won last Friday night in the opening frame. Starting off with the big guns of the batting strength. Bob Nixon singled and was brought home on a tremendous drive by Ron Firmi that cleared the backfield fence. Paul Manolan repeated the performance for Mount Hope in the last half of the first to tie it up. He had Keith French on board by a walk when he knocked one over Gordon Miller's head.

The game remained scoreless until the tenth frame when Bruce Meehan drew a stay in the play-offs.

hit safely and Firmi lifted a pop in the outfield. The ball skipped past the fielder and Meehan tore all the way home. Firmi followed when the throw to the plate got away from catcher Gordy Oakes.

Mount Hope came to bat fighting in the last of the tenth. French's grounder to Howard Elliott gave him time to make first, although the decision on the first sack was questioned by the Jarvis bench. Jerome stepped one back to the box, which Edwards knocked down but couldn't make a play on. Aldgate then connected with a round tripper pushing the other two runners in ahead to take the game.

It was a glorious win for Mount Hope and a tough loss for the losers.
