ENCYCLOPEDIA CANADIANA

Year by year more communities and organizations in Canada achieve the century mark. British Columbia is currently preparing for its centennial in 1958. On such occasions, the past is suddenly made more vivid Much research goes into the recon struction of past days. Parades re vive incidents, exhibits display his-toric items, and much of the informaion collected is incorporated in book

. An underttaking of a different kind An undertraking of a different kind is the removal of much of the village of Iroqquois, Ont., to make way for the St. Lawrence Seaway, and its reconstruction on a fresh site. This is only one among many property tran fers including monuments, cemete ocoanut and ies and stone farm houses, that will in small pieces preserve the work of the pioneers of this historically noteworthy area along the great Canadian waterway. These are big ventures, firing the magination of many; progress is re ported in the news, and colorful cele
